Narrating the Landscape Matthew N. Johnston, 2016-04-14 The American nineteenth century saw a largely rural nation confined to the Eastern Seaboard conquer a continent and spawn increasingly dense commercial metropolises This time of unprecedented territorial and economic growth has long been thought to find its most sweeping visual equivalent in the period's landscape paintings But as Matthew N Johnston shows the age's defining features were just as clearly captured in and motivated by visual material mass produced through innovations in printing technology Illustrated railroad and steamboat guidebooks tourist literature reports of geological surveys ethnographic studies all of these new print vehicles brought new meanings to the interplay of time space and place as American continental expansion peaked Instrumental to that project of national and industrial growth these commercial and scientific publications introduced readers travelers and citizens to a changing North American landscape made more accessible by new travel routes blazed between 1825 and 1875 More fundamentally as Johnston shows in his nuanced analysis by simulating new temporal frameworks through their presentation of landscape these print materials established new models of consumption and new kinds of knowledge critical to expansion Johnston relates these sources to traditional art historical subjects the landscapes of the Hudson River school luminist paintings by John Kensett and William Trost Richards Native portraits painted by George Catlin and photographs by Timothy O Sullivan to show how key discourses associated with expansion shifted away from picturesque strategies pairing imagery and narrative toward entirely new forms that gave temporal structure to viewers experience of an emerging modernity Revealing the crucial role of print and visual culture in shaping the nineteenth century United States Narrating the Landscape offers fresh insight into the landscapes Americans beheld and imagined in this formative era Speculative Landscapes Ross Barrett, 2022-08-23 Speculative Landscapes offers the first comprehensive account of American artists financial involvements in and creative responses to the nineteenth century real estate economy Examining the dealings of five painters who participated actively in this economy Daniel Huntington John Quidor Eastman Johnson Martin Johnson Heade and Winslow Homer Ross Barrett argues that the experience of property investment exposed artists to new ways of seeing and representing land inspiring them to develop innovative figural landscape and marine paintings that radically reworked visual conventions This approach moved beyond just aesthetics however and the book traces how artists creatively interrogated the economic environmental and cultural dynamics of American real estate capitalism In doing so Speculative Landscapes reveals how the provocative experience of land investment spurred painters to produce uniquely insightful critiques of the emerging real estate economy critiques that uncovered its fiscal perils and social costs and imagined spaces outside the regime of private property Estate Landscapes : Design, Improvement and Power in the Post-medieval Landscape Jonathan Finch, Katherine Giles, 2007 An exciting study of the social and landscape phenomena of the Estate Landscape In recent years the post medieval landscape has attracted new interest from archaeologists historians and geographers concerned to understand the development of the historic environment One of the key structuring elements within these landscapes from the sixteenth century until the aftermath of the Second World War was undoubtedly the landed estate However it was not until the late nineteenth century that any systematic attempt to quantify the presence of these estates was undertaken prompted by the move to democratic reform and the persistent link between political power and landed wealth Yet the importance of the landed estate in structuring power social relationships and both agricultural and industrial production was not limited to the UK From the eighteenth century the link between the UK estates and patterns of landholding and exploitation in the colonies became increasingly complex and recursive This volume explores the relationships between the form and structure of British and Colonial estate landscapes their agricultural management and the political structures and social relationships they reproduced The articles address themes as diverse as the creation and development of the agrarian landscape improvement ornamental landscapes and gardens and estate architecture Overall it highlights the wealth and diversity of existing scholarship and suggests new directions for post medieval archaeology in this dynamic area of research Foundation Papers in Landscape Ecology John A. Wiens, 2007 The editors begin with articles that illuminate the discipline s diverse scientific foundations such as L

Cultural Landscapes Richard W. Longstreth, 2008 Preservation has traditionally focused on saving prominent buildings of historical or architectural significance Preserving cultural landscapes the combined fabric of the natural and man made environments is a relatively new and often misunderstood idea among preservationists but it is of increasing importance The essays collected in this volume case studies that include the Little Tokyo neighborhood in Los Angeles the Cross Bronx Expressway and a rural island in Puget Sound underscore how this approach can be fruitfully applied Together they make clear that a cultural landscape perspective can be an essential underpinning for all historic preservation projects Contributors Susan Calafate Boyle National Park Service Susan Buggey U of Montreal Michael Caratzas Landmarks Preservation Commission NYC Courtney P Fint West Virginia Historic Preservation Office Heidi Hohmann Iowa State U Hillary Jenks USC Randall Mason U Penn Robert Z Melnick U of Oregon Nora Mitchell National Park Service Julie Riesenweber U of Kentucky Nancy Rottle U of Washington Bonnie Stepenoff Southeast Missouri State U Richard Longstreth is professor of American civilization and director of the graduate program in historic preservation at George Washington University Transdisciplinary Challenges in Landscape Ecology and Restoration Ecology - An Anthology Zev

Naveh, 2007-06-06 Capitalizing on forty years of intensive ecological studies this anthology presents a collection of widely dispersed major publications on theoretical and practical Mediterranean global environmental and landscape issues Each chapter features a comprehensive study of ecological and landscape issues synthesized in the introduction and woven with autobiographical experiences The concluding chapter calls for a transdisciplinary shift in all environmental scientific fields and particularly in landscape and restoration ecology to cope with the complex closely interwoven ecological socio economical political and cultural crises facing human society during the present crucial transition from the industrial to the post industrial global information age Updating and broadening the scope of the groundbreaking Springer book on Landscape Theory and Applications by the author and Lieberman 1994 this is a unique transdisciplinary attempt based on advanced systems complexity theories which link the natural and human sciences Landscape Dreams, A New Mexico Portrait ,2012-10-15 This collection of elegantly composed black and white images by one of New Mexico's most accomplished photographers celebrates the state's captivating physical variety and enduring allure With subject matter ranging from some of the state's most iconic landforms including the White Sands desert and Carlsbad Caverns to the people who work the land Varjabedian's images pay homage to New Mexico's ancient history and to the homely details of everyday life In photographing his subjects whether epic or mundane Varjabedian seeks the moments when the light shadow composition and other elements combine to express the beauty of the place Marin Sardy's wide ranging essay provides historical and cultural contexts in which to understand Varjabedian's work Scholar poet Jeanetta Calhoun Mish defines the particular quality of the artist's imagery Architects of an American Landscape Hugh Howard,2022-01-25 A dual portrait of America's first great architect Henry Hobson Richardson and her finest landscape designer Frederick Law Olmsted and their immense impact on America As the nation recovered from a cataclysmic war two titans of design profoundly influenced how Americans came to interact with the built and natural world around them through their pioneering work in architecture and landscape design Frederick Law Olmsted is widely revered as America's first and finest parkmaker and environmentalist the force behind Manhattan's Central Park Brooklyn's Prospect Park Biltmore's parkland in Asheville dozens of parks across the country and the preservation of Yosemite and Niagara Falls Yet his close friend and sometime collaborator Henry Hobson Richardson has been almost entirely forgotten today despite his outsized influence on American architecture from Boston's iconic Trinity Church to Chicago's Marshall Field Wholesale Store to the Shingle Style and the wildly popular open plan he conceived for family homes Individually they created much beloved buildings and public spaces Together they married natural landscapes with built structures in train stations and public libraries that helped drive the shift in American life from congested cities to developing suburbs across the country The small reserved Olmsted and the passionate Falstaffian Richardson could not have been more different in character but their sensibilities were closely aligned In chronicling their intersecting lives and work in the context of the nation's post war renewal Hugh Howard reveals how these two men created original all American idioms in architecture and landscape that influence how we enjoy our public and private spaces to this day The Life of Samuel F. B. Morse, LL. D. Samuel Irenæus Prime,1875 Reasonable Faith (3rd edition) William Lane Craig,2008-06-09 Perfect as a textbook yet excellent for lay readers this updated edition builds a positive case for Christianity by applying the latest thought to core theological themes J Gresham Machen once said False ideas are the greatest obstacles to the reception of the gospel which makes apologetics that much more important Wanting to engage not just academics and pastors but Christian laypeople and seekers William Lane Craig has revised and updated key sections in this third edition of his classic text to reflect the latest work in astrophysics philosophy probability calculus the arguments for the existence of God and Reformed epistemology His approach that of positive apologetics gives careful attention to crucial questions and concerns including the relationship of faith and reason the existence of God the problems of historical knowledge and miracles the personal claims of Christ and the historicity of the resurrection of Jesus He shows that there is good reason to think Christianity is true As Craig says If you have a sound and persuasive case for Christianity you don't have to become an expert in comparative religions and Christian cults A positive justification of the Christian faith automatically overwhelms all competing world views lacking an equally strong case

The Landscapes of Western Movies Jeremy Agnew, 2020-10-15 Western films have often been tributes to place and setting with the magnificent backdrops mirroring the wildness of the narratives As the splendid outdoor scenery of Westerns could not be found on a studio back lot or on a Hollywood sound stage the movies have been filmed in the wide open spaces of the American West and beyond This book chronicles the history of filming Westerns on location from shooting on the East Coast in the early 1900s through the use of locations in Utah Arizona and California in the 1940s and 1950s and filming Westerns in Mexico Spain and other parts of the world in the 1960s Also studied is the relationship between the filming location timeline and the evolving motion picture industry of the twentieth century and how these factors shaped audience perceptions of the Real West

Country Life, 1902 Landscape and Western Art Malcolm Andrews, 1999 This book explores many issues raised by the range of ideas and images of the natural world in Western art since the Renaissance The whole concept of landscape is examined as a representation of the relationship between the human and natural worlds Featured artists include Claude Frederick Turner Cole and Ruysdael and many different forms of landscape art are addressed such as land art painting photography garden design panorama and cartography

Painting the Inhabited Landscape Margaretta M. Lovell, 2023-03-27 The impulse in much nineteenth century American painting and culture was to describe nature as a wilderness on which the young nation might freely inscribe its future the United States as a virgin land that is unploughed unfenced and unpainted Insofar as it exhibited evidence of a past its traces pointed to a geologic or cosmic past not a human one The work of the New England artist Fitz H Lane however was decidedly different In this important study Margaretta Markle Lovell singles out the more modestly scaled explicitly inhabited landscapes of Fitz H Lane and investigates the patrons who supported his career with an eye to understanding how New Englanders thought about their land their economy their history and their links with widely disparate global communities Lane s works depict nature as productive and allied in partnership with humans to create a sustainable balanced political economy What emerges from this close look at Lane s New England is a picture not of a virgin wilderness but of a land deeply resonant with its former uses and a human history that incorporates rather than excludes Native Americans as shapers of land and as agents in that history Calling attention to unexplored dimensions of nineteenth century painting Painting the Inhabited Landscape is a major intervention in the scholarship on American art of the period examining how that body of work commented on American culture and informs our understanding of canon formation

Gardens of the Arts and Crafts Movement Judith B. Tankard,2018-11-27 The ever alluring Arts and Crafts garden is profoundly relevant to our 21st century needs Sam Watters author of Gardens for a Beautiful America In Gardens of the Arts and Crafts Movement landscape scholar Judith B Tankard surveys the inspirations characteristics and development of garden design during this iconic movement Tankard presents a selection of houses and gardens of the era from Great Britain and North America With almost 300 illustrations and photographs and an emphasis on the diversity of designers who helped forge the movement Gardens of the Arts and Crafts Movement is an essential resource for this truly distinct approach to garden design

Long Island Landscapes and the Women Who Designed Them Cynthia Zaitzevsky,2009-02-24 An account of eminent women landscape architects who flourished in the golden age of country estates This beautiful book covers in depth the work of six designers Beatrix Farrand Martha Hutcheson Marian Coffin Ellen Shipman Ruth Dean and Annette Hoyt Flanders and looks at a dozen other less well known women It focuses on the Long Island projects that constituted a large part of their work and brings these pioneering women to life as people and as professionals
