Critical Content Analysis of Children's and Young Adult Literature Holly Johnson, Janelle Mathis, Kathy G. Short, 2016-06-17 In this book the authors describe their strategies for critically reading global and multicultural literature and the range of procedures they use for critical analyses They also reflect on how these research strategies can inform classrooms and children as readers Critical content analysis offers researchers a methodology for examining representations of power and position in global and multicultural children s and adolescent literature This methodology highlights the critical as locating power in social practices by understanding uncovering and transforming conditions of inequity. Importantly, it also provides insights into specific global and multicultural books significant within classrooms as well as strategies that teachers can use to engage students in critical literacy.

Mentor Texts Rose Cappelli, 2023-10-10 In their first edition of Mentor Texts, authors Lynne Dorfman and Rose Cappelli helped teachers across the country make the most of high quality children's literature in their writing instruction. Mentor Texts: Teaching Writing Through Children's Literature K-6, 2nd Edition, the authors continue to show teachers how to help students become confident, accomplished writers by using literature as their foundation. The second edition includes brand new 'Your Turn' lessons built around the gradual release of responsibility model, offering suggestions for demonstrations and shared or guided writing. Reflection is emphasized as a necessary component to understanding why mentor authors chose certain strategies, literary devices, sentence structures, and words. Dorfman and Cappelli offer new children's book titles in each chapter and in a carefully curated and annotated 'Treasure Chest'. At the end of each chapter, a 'Think About It', 'Talk About It', or 'Write About It' section invites reflection and conversation with colleagues. The book is organized around the characteristics of good writing: focus, content, organization, style, and conventions. The authors write in a friendly and conversational style, employing numerous anecdotes to help teachers visualize the process and offer strategies that can be immediately implemented in the classroom. This practical resource demonstrates the power of learning to read like writers.

The Storytime Handbook Nina Schatzkamer Miller, 2014-01-27 Fresh fun ideas for children's storytime fill this book. The author, a long time storytime facilitator, has put together 52 weekly themes plus additional plans for holidays, all with detailed instructions for talking about the theme and choosing the books, crafts, songs, poems, games, and snacks. Each storytime idea is illustrated with photographs of a suggested craft and snack for easy reference. Libraries, bookstores, preschools, and parents alike can use this book to offer themed storytimes that include discussion, literature, art, music, movement, and food. Options are provided for each storytime so the ideas can be used year after year.

Animals and Ourselves Kathy Merlock Jackson, Kathy Shepherd Stolley, Lisa Lyon Payne, 2020-09-25 The relationship between humans and animals has always been strong, symbiotic, and complicated. Animals, real and fictional, have been a mainstay in the arts and entertainment, figuring prominently in literature, film, television, social media, and live performances. Increasingly, though, people are anthropomorphizing animals, assigning them humanoid roles, tasks, and identities. At the same time, humans, such as members of the 'furry' culture or college mascots, find pleasure in adopting animal identities and characteristics. This book is the first of its kind to explore these growing phenomena across media. The contributors to this collection represent various disciplines, including the arts, humanities, social sciences, and healthcare. Their essays demonstrate the various ways that human and animal lives are intertwined and constantly evolving.
