Small Enterprises and Adjustment Nii K. Sowa,1992 Small Enterprises and Adjustment Nii Kwaku Sowa,1992

Economic Reforms in Ghana Ernest Aryeetey,Jane Harrigan,Machiko Nissanke,2000 Reviews the performance of the Ghanaian economy for the period 1983 to 1991 aimed at assessing the impact of structural adjustment policies in different areas of the economy Adjustment in Africa Ishrat Husain,Rashid Faruquee,1994-01-01 World Bank Environment Paper 4 This survey describes the factors that affect tree cultivation and clearance by Kenyan farmers These factors include agricultural conditions product markets the family life cycle income and changing demands for household labor especially demands caused by labor migration The author explains why removing structural constraints on rural land markets might reduce the incentive to start and maintain woodlots He also details why policies that seek to create forests may conflict with programs that generate rural employment Finance and Management of Small-Scale Seed Enterprises , Small

Enterprises Under Adjustment in Ghana William F. Steel,Leila Webster,1991 Ghana is often cited as an African country that has undertaken major macroeconomic reforms with generally positive results for economic growth Within Ghana s industrial sector the effects of structural adjustment policies have differed among subsectors and firms Little is known however about the impact of adjustment on smaller firms A survey of small scale enterprises SSEs was carried out in November 1989 to learn more about the impact of the adjustment program on their operations to evaluate their potential contribution to dynamic industrial recovery and to identify appropriate measures that would accelerate the growth of SSEs in numbers size and productivity Specific objectives of the survey were to 1 learn more about the characteristics of small firms and their owners 2 analyze how policy changes have affected small firms highlighting entrepreneurs strategies for adapting to their new environments and 3 identify constraints to the future growth of small firms Results show that adjustment policies have forced the SSEs to become more competitive to survive and that significant structural changes are taking place across subsectors and within firms The overall business environment has generally improved during the adjustment program although shortcomings remain Uncertainty about political and economic stability and lack of finance appear to be the most immediate restraints on investment Training for Work in the Informal Micro-Enterprise Sector Hans Christiaan

Haan,2006-10-04 In Sub Sahara Africa the sector of informal micro enterprises IMEs is already employing a large share of the labour force in both urban and rural areas This study reviews the ways in which the owners and workers of IMEs have acquired their vocational and management skills It reviews the contributions of all the different training providers including public sector training institutes private sector training providers and training centres run by NGOs and other non profit organizations The study finds that informal apprenticeship training is by far the most common source of various skills in some countries it is likely to be responsible for 80 90% of all ongoing training efforts Informal apprenticeship training presents a number of important advantages At the same time it has a number of limitations The study concludes that there is a major challenge to improve the transfer of relevant skills to IME operators both through pre employment training and skills upgrading In view of the scope of the challenge to provide hundreds of thousands IME owners and workers as well as large numbers of out of school youths with relevant practical and management skills it suggests to build upon the strengths of the existing practices of informal apprenticeship training and to remedy its weaknesses by involving professional training providers in upgrading its training organization and delivery quality and efficiency and final training outcomes It reviews the results of a number of innovative interventions in different African countries that are working in this direction Finally the study suggests that there is an interesting potential in business embedded training provided by private companies as part of their regular business operations

Foreign Aid, Self-Reliance, and Economic Development in West Africa R Omotay

Olaniyan,1996-08-30 This book is a penetrating comparative analysis of the economic development efforts of West African countries It seeks to illuminate the grey areas in development and to emphasize the appropriate actions that should be taken at all levels in the emerging international economy to ensure sustainable development Olaniyan examines conceptual and theoretical problems of foreign aid and economic development along with the limitations of the concept of self reliance The book also features a comparative analysis of the internal and external development problems associated with West African countries including difficulties of collective self reliance at the subregional level Olaniyan concludes that there are prospects for sustainable development in the area especially if it is internally generated

Sustainable Rural Development A.

Shepherd,1998-01-19 This book examines the paradigm shift in rural development from an industrial to an holistic approach to technology development from a technocratic to a participatory approach to management and from resource control by big organisations to local resource management It provides a broad ranging assessment of agriculture and local level institutional development and sets out a range of agendas for development practice management and policy into the twenty first century

Routledge Handbook of Entrepreneurship in Developing Economies Colin C. Williams,Anjula

Gurtoo,2016-07-22 The Routledge Handbook of Entrepreneurship in Developing Economies is a landmark volume that offers a uniquely comprehensive overview of entrepreneurship in developing countries Addressing the multi faceted nature of entrepreneurship chapters explore a vast range of subject areas including education economic policy gender and the prevalence and nature of informal sector entrepreneurship In order to understand the process of new venture creation in developing economies what it means to be engaged in entrepreneurship in a developing world context must be addressed This handbook does so by exploring the difficulties risks and rewards associated with being an entrepreneur and evaluates the impacts of the environment relationships performance and policy dynamics on small and entrepreneurial firms in developing economies The handbook brings together a unique collection of over forty international researchers who are all actively engaged in studying entrepreneurship in a developing world context The chapters offer concise but detailed perspectives and explanations on key aspects of the subject across a diverse array of developing economies spanning Africa

Asia Latin America and Eastern Europe In doing so the chapters highlight the heterogeneity of entrepreneurship in developed economies and contribute to the on going policy discourses for managing and promoting entrepreneurial growth in the developing world The book will be of great interest to scholars students and policymakers in the areas of development economics business and management public policy and development studies Structural Adjustment in Ghana, 1983-94 Eboe Hutchful,1995 Failing to Compete Sanjaya Lall,Carlo Pietrobell,2002 Despite years of liberalization African manufacturing is conspicuously unable to compete in the global market Its exports are minuscule its response to competition is weak technical efficiency is low and there are few signs of technological dynamism Trade Unions and Sustainable Democracy in Africa Gerard Kester,Ousmane Oumarou Sidibe,2019-05-23 First published in 1997 this volume sets out to open a dialogue with the trade union movement and its social partners including civil society political leaders and the scientific community The authors all of whom work closely with APADEP have drawn on their personal experience and have been guided by a simple yet flexible theme trends in the last few decades in their countries with the emphasis on transition over the last five years Part I consists of an overview of sub Saharan Africa based on selected documentation Part II is given over to an analysis of the specific situations obtaining in ten African countries in different geographical and language areas Each case study provides its own democratisation scenario Supply and Demand for Finance of Small Enterprises in Ghana ,1994-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 251 This study investigates the conflicting viewpoints of small and medium size enterprises SMEs and banks the SMEs contend that the supply of bank financing is largely unavailable to them while banks maintain Enterprising Africa Stephen Dobson,Paul Jones,Daniel Agyapong,Gideon Maas,2020-12-30 Enterprising Africa explores the future opportunities challenges growth areas and key themes that will shape entrepreneurship in the African continent over the next decade Entrepreneurship can be the key to unlock resilient growth but only if it is driven by both socially productive and growth oriented new businesses The book considers entrepreneurship as an enabler for socio economic growth and development in Africa especially in the context of youth unemployment and increasing youth population for which the traditional and indeed emerging industrial sectors will not be able to produce sufficient jobs to meet demand Organised around three thematic parts Part I covers the notion of inclusive growth and the role that entrepreneurs can play supporting this Part II considers the dynamic between entrepreneurs and the environment since social economic and environmental concerns need to build upon each other rather than vie for recognition Finally Part III offers chapters exploring policy contexts and the wider institutional ecosystems that need to be developed and enhanced to ensure a strong and vibrant environment for the future entrepreneurs of Africa to thrive Edited and authored by leading experts in the field this fascinating text will be of interest to academics as well as students of International Transformational and Social Entrepreneurship and International and African Business Ghana Country Assistance Review Robert Pritchard Armstrong,1996 Assesses the progress of private sector development in low income countries particularly in Sub Saharan

Africa from 1987 to the present The book identifies causes of uneven performance and outlines the main elements of a strategy led by the private sector for accelerated and shared growth to reduce poverty Also available in French ISBN 0 8213 3550 2 Stock No 13550 Self Employment, Small Enterprise, and Economic Development Douglas Gollin,1996
