Dharma and Ecology of Hindu Communities Pankaj Jain, 2016-04-22 In Indic religious traditions a number of rituals and myths exist in which the environment is revered. Despite this nature worship in India its natural resources are under heavy pressure with its growing economy and exploding population. This has led several scholars to raise questions about the role religious communities can play in environmentalism. Does nature worship inspire Hindus to act in an environmentally conscious way? This book explores the above questions with three communities: the Swadhyaya movement, the Bishnoi, and the Bhil communities. Presenting the texts of Bishnois, their environmental history, and their contemporary activism, investigating the Swadhyaya movement from an ecological perspective, and exploring the Bhil communities and their Sacred Groves, this book applies a non-Western hermeneutical model to interpret the religious traditions of Indic communities. With a foreword by Roger S. Gottlieb

Foreign Aid for Indian NGOs Pushpa Sundar, 2020-11-29 This book explores what difference development aid has made to the size, complexity, style of functioning, values, and future direction of the NGO sector in India. It does this first by giving a comprehensive documentation of the experience of Indian NGOs with foreign aid since Independence. Simultaneously, it also analyses in a broad historical perspective some of the issues which are the subject of contemporary debate regarding the voluntary sector and aid, such as who decides what is development and how it should be brought about, whether foreign donors have hidden agendas, and if their aid amounts to cultural imperialism, and whether aid has made NGOs more self-reliant. The book also looks at the tripartite relationship between NGOs, donors, and governments, examining for instance whether the government is justified in imposing restrictions on receipt of funds by NGOs on the grounds that terrorist activities and religiously motivated communal strife are often financed with funds from abroad, with NGOs being used as fronts for both.
