Oceanic Encounters Margaret Jolly,Serge Tcherkézoff,Darrell Tryon,2009-07-01 This volume the result of ongoing collaborations between Australian and French anthropologists historians and linguists explores encounters between Pacific peoples and foreigners during the longue dur e of European exploration colonisation and settlement from the sixteenth century to the twentieth century It deploys the concept of encounter rather than the more common idea of first contact for several reasons Encounters with Europeans occurred in the context of extensive prior encounters and exchanges between Pacific peoples manifest in the distribution of languages and objects and in patterns of human settlement and movement The concept of encounter highlights the mutuality in such meetings of bodies and minds whereby preconceptions from both sides were brought into confrontation dialogue mutual influence and ultimately mutual transformation It stresses not so much prior visions of strangers or others but the contingencies in events of encounter and how senses other than vision were crucial in shaping reciprocal appraisals But a stress on mutual meanings and interdependent agencies in such cross cultural encounters should not occlude the tumultuous misunderstandings political contests and extreme violence which also characterised Indigenous European interactions over this period

Memoirs of a Porcupine Alain Mabanckou, 2012-04-01 All human beings says an African legend have an animal double Some doubles are benign others wicked This legend comes to life in Alain Mabanckou's outlandish surreal and charmingly nonchalant Memoirs of a Porcupine When Kibandi a boy living in a Congolese village reaches the age of 11 his father takes him out into the night and forces him to drink a vile liquid from a jar that has been hidden for years in the earth This is his initiation From now on he and his double a porcupine become accomplices in murder They attack neighbors fellow villagers and people who simply cross their path for reasons so slight that it is virtually impossible to establish connection between the killings As he grows older Kibandi relies on his double to act out his grizzly compulsions until one day even the porcupine balks and turns instead to literary confession Winner of the Prix Renaudot France's equal to the National Book Award Alain Mabanckou is considered one of the most talented writers today He was selected by the French journal Lire as one of fifty writers to watch this coming century And as Peter Carey suggests he positions himself at the margins tapping the tradition founded by Celine Genet and other subversive writers In this superb and striking story Mabanckou brings new power to magical realism and is sure to excite American audiences nationwide

Kupilikula Harry G. West, 2025-11-06 On the Mueda plateau in northern Mozambique sorcerers are said to feed on their victims sometimes making lions or transforming into lions to literally devour their flesh When the ruling FRELIMO party subscribed to socialism it condemned sorcery beliefs and counter sorcery practices as false consciousness but since undertaking neoliberal reform the party still in power after three electoral cycles has tolerated tradition leaving villagers to interpret and engage with events in the idiom of sorcery Now when the lions prowl plateau villages suspected sorcerers are often lynched In this historical ethnography of sorcery Harry G West draws on a decade of fieldwork and combines the perspectives of anthropology and political science to reveal how Muedans expect responsible authorities to monitor the invisible realm of sorcery and to overturn or as Muedans call it kupilikula sorcerers destructive attacks by practicing a constructive form of counter sorcery themselves Kupilikula argues that where neoliberal policies have fostered social division rather than security and prosperity Muedans have in fact used sorcery discourse to assess and sometimes overturn reforms advancing alternative visions of a world transformed The Lele of the Kasai Mary Douglas,2013-06-17 This first volume is a compilation of numerous essays by Douglas on the Lele in the Belgian Congo covering a fifteen year period There are early indications of Douglas s cultural imagination and written expression that were to make her works accessible and relevant to a western readership of non anthropologists The intellectual tools and examples she gained from Africanist ethnography continue to serve her explorations of European and American society King Mombo Paul B. Du Chaillu,2021-11-05 Chaillu was one of the first explorers to make contact with tribes in equatorial West Africa There he was greeted with warm hospitality by King Mombo This non fiction novel contains vivid descriptions of the African vegetation and ways of life of West Africans
