The Atlas Of European Mammals:

Atlas of European Mammals Anthony J. Mitchell-Jones, Friederike Spitzenberger, J. B. M. Thissen, Giovanni Amori, Societas Europaea Mammalogica, 1997 Atlas of European Mammals Anthony J. Mitchell-Jones, Giovanni Amori, Boris Krystufek, Ferdia Marnell, Svetlana Miteva, Alexandra Sallay, Alexandra Sallay-Moşoi, Laurent Schley, Johan Thissen, Vladimír Vohralík, 2025-12-17 As the threats to wildlife continue to increase precise and timely information on species distribution is essential Since 1999 The Atlas of European Mammals has proved a widely cited and valuable resource for mammalogists across the globe Now thoroughly updated the new edition has extended the coverage of Europe to include Belarus Moldova and Ukraine Specialists have collected and validated distribution data for each country using an agreed species list and a standard mapping system This landmark volume presents maps of 247 species from 42 countries with more than 125 200 unique records taking into account recent extinctions to give the most up to date picture possible Accounts for each species include details of taxonomy and variation habitat population and international legal and conservation status Jones the Atlas of European Mammals A. J. Mitchell-Jones, J Mitchell, 1998-12-01 The Atlas of European Mammals is the result of more than 10 years work by specialists throughout Europe and is the first project of the Societas Europaea Mammalogica SEM founded in Paris in 1988 Under the supervision of an Editorial Committee coordinators have collected and validated distribution data for each country using an agreed species list and a standard mapping system Maps of 194 species are included plotted on a 50 km UTM grid and based entirely on field observations Over 93 000 records are mapped with separate symbols for data collected before or after 1970 Where appropriate recent extinctions have been taken into account so these maps represent the most up to date picture possible of the distribution of each species in Europe Specialist authors have complimented the maps with a brief overview of each species including details of distribution habitat and population status In addition to the maps and species accounts the atlas also contains a complete species list for the whole European biogeographic region with details of the international legal and conservation status of each species and the common names of each species in 33 European languages The atlas thus represents a unique and essential reference source for scientists conservationists policy makers and the interested amateur Coverage for Europe is complete as far east as the border of the former Soviet Union and it has been possible to include the Baltic States and the Russian region of Kaliningrad as well as the Canaries and Azores The Atlas of European Mammals Anthony J. Mitchell-Jones, 1999 This volume presents maps of 194 species plotted on a 50km UTM grid and entirely based on field observations Over 93 000 records are mapped with separate symbols for data collected before or after 1970 Where appropriate recent extinctions have been taken into account

Mammals of Europe, North Africa and the Middle East Stephane Aulagnier, Patrick Haffner, A.J. Mitchell-Jones, Francois Moutou, Jan Zima, 2025-01-16 An excellent useful guide BBC Wildlife Fully revised and updated this major work presents all species that occur in the Western Palearctic serving as the perfect field guide to the great diversity of mammals in the region This new edition presents 86 new species including 40 cetaceans and reports on the latest scientific advances and taxonomic changes Species accounts are concise and authoritative giving information on size distribution habitat behaviour reproduction and feeding Each account is supported by distribution maps and superb colour illustrations The book features over 125 plates comprising more than 650 colour species artworks Variation between the sexes is illustrated and anatomical diagrams including tooth arrays are provided to assist identification Field Guide to Mammals of Europe North Africa and the Middle East is the only guide you ll need to identify any mammal across this vast and diverse region Atlas of terrestrial mammals of the Ionian and Aegean islands Marco Masseti, 2012-10-30 The goal of this book is to foster better knowledge of the mammalian fauna of the Mediterranean islands The atlas presents the current state of knowledge of the past and present distribution of the non flying terrestrial mammals of the Ionian and Aegean islands It provides a distribution map for each species with extensive references and a description of all the mammalian taxa The book also focuses on the important role of human beings in the redefinition of the insular ecological equilibrium as well as on the environmental impact of biological invasions The protection and study of this fauna can provide an opportunity for testing a range of different evolutionary theories EMMA Guidelines ,1992 Provisional Bibliography of Atlases, Floras and Faunas of European Cities: 1600-2014 John G. Kelcey, 2016-06-23 The bibliography provides information about the presence and distribution of plants and animals in cities throughout Europe It will be of considerable interest to and should be used by a wide range of people including academics researchers librarians school teachers and people with a general interest in the natural history of cities The bibliography is an important tool for the professions involved in the planning design and management of high quality urban developments including biologists architects urban designers planners consultants medics sociologists engineers politicians landscape architects building surveyors agronomists and landscape managers Handbook of Alien Species in Europe Delivering Alien Invasive Species, 2008-11-14 Biological invasions by alien non native species are widely recognized as a significant component of human caused global environmental change and the second most important cause of biodiversity decline Alien species threaten many European ecosystems and have serious environmental economic and health impacts The DAISIE Delivering Alien Invasive Species Inventories for Europe project has now brought together all available information on alien species in Europe terrestrial aquatic and marine and from all taxa fungi plants animals Thus for the first time an overview and assessment of biological invasions in the Pan European region is finally possible The Handbook of Alien Species in Europe summarises the major findings of this groundbreaking research and addresses the invasion trends pathways and both economic as well as ecological impact for eight major taxonomic groups Approximately 11

000 alien species recorded in Europe are listed and fact sheets for 100 of the most invasive alien species are included each with a distribution map and colour illustration The book is complemented by a regularly updated internet database providing free additional information With its highly interdisciplinary approach DAISIE and its Handbook will be the basis for future scientific investigations as well as management and control of alien invasive species in Europe Mammals of Africa Jonathan Kingdon, David Happold, Thomas Butynski, Michael Hoffmann, Meredith Happold, Jan Kalina, 2013-05-23 WINNER OF THE 2014 DARTMOUTH MEDAL AWARDED BY THE AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION Mammals of Africa represents a high water mark not just in mammalogy but in scientific publishing overall Magnificent Tim Flannery Macquarie University Sydney Mammals of Africa MoA is a series of six volumes which describes in detail every currently recognized species of African land mammal This is the first time that such extensive coverage has ever been attempted and the volumes incorporate the very latest information and detailed discussion of the morphology distribution biology and evolution including reference to fossil and molecular data of Africa's mammals With 1 160 species and 16 orders Africa has the greatest diversity and abundance of mammals in the world The reasons for this and the mechanisms behind their evolution are given special attention in the series Each volume follows the same format with detailed profiles of every species and higher taxa The series includes some 660 colour illustrations by Jonathan Kingdon and his many drawings highlight details of morphology and behaviour of the species concerned Diagrams schematic details and line drawings of skulls and jaws are by Jonathan Kingdon and Meredith Happold Every species also includes a detailed distribution map Extensive references alert readers to more detailed information Rewilding European Landscapes Henrique M. Pereira, Laetitia M. Navarro, 2015-05-04 Some European lands have been progressively alleviated of human pressures particularly traditional agriculture in remote areas This book proposes that this land abandonment can be seen as an opportunity to restore natural ecosystems via rewilding We define rewilding as the passive management of ecological successions having in mind the long term goal of restoring natural ecosystem processes The book aims at introducing the concept of rewilding to scientists students and practitioners The first part presents the theory of rewilding in the European context The second part of the book directly addresses the link between rewilding biodiversity and habitats The third and last part is dedicated to practical aspects of the implementation of rewilding as a land management option We believe that this book will both set the basis for future research on rewilding and help practitioners think about how rewilding can take place in areas under their management Mammals of Africa: Volume V Jonathan Kingdon, 2014-11-20 Mammals of Africa MoA is a series of six volumes which describes in detail every currently recognized species of African land mammal This is the first time that such extensive coverage has ever been attempted and the volumes incorporate the very latest information and detailed discussion of the morphology distribution biology and evolution including reference to fossil and molecular data of Africa's mammals With more than 1 160 species and 16 18 orders Africa has the greatest diversity and abundance of mammals in the world The reasons for this and the mechanisms behind their evolution are given special attention in the series Each volume follows the same format with detailed profiles of every species and higher taxa The series includes hundreds of colour illustrations and pencil drawings by Jonathan Kingdon highlighting the morphology and behaviour of the species concerned as well as line drawings of skulls and jaws by Jonathan Kingdon and Meredith Happold Every species also includes a detailed distribution map Edited by Jonathan Kingdon David Happold Tom Butynski Mike Hoffmann Meredith Happold and Jan Kalina and written by more than 350 authors all experts in their fields Mammals of Africa is as comprehensive a compendium of current knowledge as is possible Extensive references alert readers to more detailed information Volume V edited by Jonathan Kingdon and Michael Hoffmann comprises 83 species of carnivores and includes jackals wolves dogs foxes weasels polecats striped weasels Zorilla otters Ratel fur seals monk seals Palm Civet cats genets linsangs African Civet hyaenas Aardwolf and mongooses The volume is completed with profiles of four pangolins four zebras and two rhinoceroses

Invasion Biology and Ecological Theory Herbert H. T. Prins, Iain J. Gordon, 2014-01-23 A critical appraisal of ecosystem theory using case studies of plant and animal invasions in Australasia

Conservation Monitoring in Freshwater Habitats Clive Hurford, Michael Schneider, Ian Cowx, 2009-12-09 As in the terrestrial environment most data collection from freshwater habitats to date falls into the survey surveillance or research categories The critical difference between these exercises and a monitoring project is that a monitoring project will clearly identify when we need to make a management response A Model for Conservation Management and Monitoring Monitoring as defined by Hellawell is essentially a tool of practical conservation management and Fig 1 1 shows a simple but effective model for nature conservation management and monitoring The need for clear decision making is implicit in this model First we must decide what would represent a favourable state for the key habitat or species and then we must decide when to intervene if the state is or becomes unfavourable A third often overlooked but equally important decision concerns when we would consider the habitat or species to have recovered this is unlikely to be the same point that we became concerned about it This decision not only has resource implications it can also have major implications for other habitats and species prey species are an obvious example All of these decisions are essential to the development of an efficient and effective monitoring project

Drobci ledenodobnega okolja Borut Toškan, 2011-01-01 The monograph Drobci ledenodobnega okolja Fragments of Ice Age environments presents a compilation of seventeen chapters in which experts from different scientific fields discuss specific topics related to the Ice Age in Europe Ten of them are devoted to the presentation analysis and interpretation of palaeontological data concerning various large mammal species ranging from mastodon and mammoth to the cave hyena ibex cave lion and bears with the emphasis being placed on the cave bear Several chapters address the topic of Last Glacial climatic conditions in the Southeastern Alps by studying fossil micromammal and palaeobotanical remains as well as geoarchaeological data A special article is devoted to a comprehensive review of previous analysis of the bone flute from Divje babe I but includes also new musicological research findings on the extraordinary technical capabilities of this oldest musical instrument The concluding chapter presents a study of old manuscripts and printed sources providing some interesting insights into the discovery of one of the most significant palaeontological sites in Slovenia the cave of Mokri ka jama The monograph is dedicated to the anniversary of the prominent researcher of the Slovenian Palaeolithic Ivan Turk His work main achievements and selected bibliography are briefly presented in the introductory chapter

Shrews, Chromosomes and Speciation Jeremy B. Searle, P. David Polly, Jan Zima, 2019-02-28 The chromosome complement karyotype often differs between related mammalian species including humans vs chimpanzees such that evolutionary biologists muse whether chromosomal difference is a cause or a consequence of speciation The common shrew is an excellent model to investigate this problem because of its many geographical races potential species differing chromosomally and its several sibling species recently speciated forms that are also chromosomally different This system is an exceptional opportunity to investigate the role of chromosomes in speciation and this volume reflects detailed research following these approaches Highlights include the demonstration that chromosomal rearrangements can be associated with complete loss of gene flow and thus speciation and that selection within species hybrid zones may lead to de speciation rather than speciation This book represents an extraordinarily detailed consideration of the role of chromosomes in speciation in one astonishing species providing insights to those interested in mammalian diversity chromosomal evolution and speciation

Small Carnivores Emmanuel Do Linh San, Jun J. Sato, Jerrold L. Belant, Michael J. Somers, 2022-07-13 Small Carnivores Evolution Ecology Behaviour and Conservation This book focuses on the 232 species of the mammalian Order Carnivora with an average body mass 21.5 kg Small carnivores inhabit virtually all of the Earth's ecosystems adopting terrestrial semi fossorial semi arboreal or semi aquatic lifestyles They occupy multiple trophic levels and therefore play important roles in the regulation of ecosystems such as natural pest control seed dispersal and nutrient cycling In areas where humans have extirpated large carnivores small carnivores may become the dominant predators which may increase their abundance mesopredator release to the point that they can sometimes destabilize communities drive local extirpations and reduce overall biodiversity On the other hand one third of the world's small carnivores are threatened or near threatened with extinction This results from regionally burgeoning human populations industrial and agricultural activities causing habitat reduction destruction fragmentation and pollution Overexploitation persecution and the impacts of introduced predators competitors and pathogens have also negatively affected many small carnivore species Although small carnivores have been intensively studied over the past decades bibliometric studies showed that they have not received the same attention given to large carnivores Furthermore there is huge disparity in how research efforts on small carnivores have been distributed with some species intensively studied and others superficially or not at all This book aims at filling a gap in the scientific literature by elucidating the important roles of and documenting the latest knowledge on the world's small carnivores pThis is a book that has been needed for decades It is the first compendium of recent research on a group of mammals which has received almost no attention before the early 1970s This book covers a wide range of subdisciplines and techniques and should be considered a solid baseline for further research on this little known group of highly interesting mammals As our knowledge regarding how ecosystems function increases then the valuable role of small carnivores and the necessity for their conservation should be regarded as of paramount importance The topics covered in this book should therefore be of great interest not only to academics and wildlife researchers but also to the interested layman

Mammals of the World Andrew Duff, Ann Lawson, 2004-01-01 02 Mammals of the World A Checklist Andrew Duff and Ann Lawson This is the first checklist of mammals of the world to include both English and scientific names of every species as well as a brief summary of distribution and habitat A checkbox and space to record notes are provided for each species making this an ideal volume for keeping a personal mammals life list With 5 049 species included the checklist is the most up to date available today An appendix gives further details and offers a literature citation for over 519 species that either have been described as new to science or have been elevated from synonymy since 1993 Comprehensive indexes to English and scientific names assist with finding species that may appear in field guides or other works on mammals under different names The book will be an invaluable resource for mammalogists everywhere but will also appeal to any well traveled naturalist including world birders and safari travelers with an interest in recording mammals Andrew Duff and Ann Lawson are experienced naturalists who have been studying mammals for many years Between them they have birded and mammal watched in many countries on five continents
