Forgotten Tales of Wisconsin Martin Hintz, 2010-05-13 Drift back to an era when the speed limit in Milwaukee was an edgy four miles per hour and Madison lawmakers could poke at hogs to punctuate the tedium of legislative sessions Martin Hintz makes even the slow times of the Badger State fly by in this collection of Wisconsin's forgotten memories Taste the world's first batch of pink lemonade made with the dye of a circus performer's pants and witness the tragic death of the world's last wild passenger pigeon Track down ancient Algonkin legends like the great serpent that swam up the Mississippi looking for copper and drop in on modern legends like Les Paul whose guitar spun records into gold American Legislative Leaders in the Midwest, 1911-1994 Charles F. Ritter, James Roger Sharp, Nancy Weatherly Sharp, Jon L. to embody a dominant liberal consensus that sought to continue and expand the New Deal Tula Connell explores how business interests and political conservatives arose to undo that consensus and how the resulting clash both shaped a city and helped redefine postwar American politics Connell focuses on Frank Zeidler the city s socialist mayor Zeidler s broad concept of the public interest at times defied even liberal expectations At the same time a resurgence of conservatism with roots presaging twentieth century politics challenged his initiatives in public housing integration and other areas As Connell shows conservatives created an anti progressive game plan that included a well funded media and PR push an anti union assault essential to the larger project of delegitimizing any government action opposition to civil rights and support from a suburban silent majority In the end the campaign undermined notions of the common good essential to the New Deal order It also sowed the seeds for grassroots conservatism s more extreme and far reaching future success
