The East Central European Officer Corps 1740 1920s Social Origins Selection Education And Training:

The History of Officer Social Origins, Selection, Education and Training Since the Eighteenth Century Elliott Vanveltner Converse, 1996      The East Central European Officer Corps, 1740-1920s Béla K. Király, Walter Scott Dillard, 1988 Available for the first time in English this is the definitive account of the practice of sexual slavery the Japanese military perpetrated during World War II by the researcher principally responsible for exposing the Japanese government's responsibility for these atrocities The large scale imprisonment and rape of thousands of women who were euphemistically called comfort women by the Japanese military first seized public attention in 1991 when three Korean women filed suit in a Toyko District Court stating that they had been forced into sexual servitude and demanding compensation Since then the comfort stations and their significance have been the subject of ongoing debate and intense activism in Japan much if it inspired by Yoshimi's investigations How large a role did the military and by extension the government play in setting up and administering these camps What type of compensation if any are the victimized women due These issues figure prominently in the current Japanese focus on public memory and arguments about the teaching and writing of history and are central to efforts to transform Japanese ways of remembering the war Yoshimi Yoshiaki provides a wealth of documentation and testimony to prove the existence of some 2 000 centers where as many as 200 000 Korean Filipina Taiwanese Indonesian Burmese Dutch Australian and some Japanese women were restrained for months and forced to engage in sexual activity with Japanese military personnel Many of the women were teenagers some as young as fourteen To date the Japanese government has neither admitted responsibility for creating the comfort station system nor given compensation directly to former comfort women This English edition updates the Japanese edition originally published in 1995 and includes introductions by both the author and the translator placing the story in context for American readers      Special Bibliography Series, 1957      Special Bibliography Series United States Air Force Academy. Library, 1996      Beyond Nationalism István Deák, 1990 In this engaging and factual account Deák offers a social and political history of the Habsburg Officer Corps from 1848 1918      War and Society in East Central Europe: East central European officer corps 1740-1920s: Social origins, selection, education, and training, 1988      Essays on War and Society in East Central Europe, 1740-1920 Stephen Fischer-Galați, Béla K. Király, 1987 This volume the last volume of the monumental series on War and Society in Central and Eastern Europe summarizes the literature on the subject through a series of individual studies by specialists      Scholars in Action (2 vols), 2013-04-15 In Scholars in Action an international group of 40 authors open up new perspectives on the eighteenth century culture of knowledge with a particular focus on scholars and their various practices      Quest for Decisive Victory Robert M. Citino, 2002-06-17 Since the earliest days of warfare military operations have followed a predictable formula after a decisive battle an army must pursue the enemy and destroy its organization in order to achieve a victorious campaign But by the mid nineteenth century the emergence of massive armies and advanced weaponry and the concomitant decline in the effectiveness of cavalry had diminished the practicality of pursuit producing campaigns that bogged down short of decisive victory Great battles had become curiously indecisive decisive campaigns virtually impossible At the beginning of the twentieth century the inability to achieve decisive victories in warfare had become the single greatest military problem facing modern armies Robert Citino now tells how European military leaders analyzed and eventually overcame this problem by restoring pursuit to its rightful place in combat and resurrecting the possibility of decisive warfare on the operational level Quest for Decisive Victory chronicles the evolution of European warfare during the first half of the twentieth century A study of war at the operational level it demonstrates the interplay and tension between technology and doctrine in warfare and reveals how problems surrounding mobility including such factors as supply lines command and control and prewar campaign planning forced armies to find new ways of fighting Citino focuses on key campaigns of both major and minor conflicts Minor wars before 1914 Boer Russo Japanese and the Balkan Wars of 1912 13 featured instructive examples of operational maneuver the First World War witnessed the collapse of operations and the rise of attrition warfare the Italo Ethiopian and Spanish Civil Wars held some promise for breaking out of stalemate by incorporating such innovations as air and tank warfare Ultimately it was Germany's opening blitzkrieg of World War II that resurrected the decisive campaign as an operational possibility By grafting new technologies tanks aircraft and radio onto a long tradition of maneuver warfare the Wehrmacht won decisive victories in the first year of the war and in the process transformed modern military doctrine Citino's study is important for shifting the focus from military theory and doctrine to detailed operational analyses of actual campaigns that formed the basis for the revival of military doctrine Quest for Decisive Victory gives scholars of military history a better grasp of that elusive concept and a more complete understanding of modern warfare

Maximilian Hell (1720-92) and the Ends of Jesuit Science in Enlightenment Europe Per Pippin Aspaas, László Kontler, 2019-12-02 The Viennese Jesuit court astronomer Maximilian Hell was a key figure in the eighteenth century circulation of knowledge He was already famous by the time of his celebrated 1769 expedition for the observation of the transit of Venus in northern Scandinavia However the 1773 suppression of his order forced Hell to develop ingenious strategies of accommodation to changing international and domestic circumstances Through a study of his career in local regional imperial and global contexts this book sheds new light on the complex relationship between the Enlightenment Catholicism administrative and academic reform in the Habsburg monarchy and the practices and ends of cultivating science in the Republic of Letters around the end of the first era of the Society of Jesus

Shatterzone of Empires Omer Bartov, Eric D. Weitz, 2013 From the Baltic to the Black Sea four major empires with ethnically and religiously diverse populations encountered each other along often changing and contested borders Examining this geographically vast multicultural region through a variety of methodological lenses this volume offers informed and dispassionate analyses of how the many populations of these borderlands managed to coexist in a previous era and why the areas eventually descended into violence An understanding of this region will help readers grasp the preconditions of interethnic coexistence and the causes of ethnic violence and war in many of the world's other borderlands both past and present

War and Society in East Central Europe: Essays on war and society in east central Europe, 1987 Queer Budapest, 1873-1961 Anita Kurimay, 2020-09-04 By the dawn of the twentieth century Budapest was a burgeoning cosmopolitan metropolis Known at the time as the Pearl of the Danube it boasted some of Europe's most innovative architectural and cultural achievements and its growing middle class was committed to advancing the city's liberal politics and making it an intellectual and commercial crossroads between East and West In addition as historian Anita Kurimay reveals fin de siècle Budapest was also famous for its boisterous public sexual culture including a robust gay subculture Queer Budapest is the riveting story of nonnormative sexualities in Hungary as they were understood experienced and policed between the birth of the capital as a unified metropolis in 1873 and the decriminalization of male homosexual acts in 1961 Kurimay explores how and why a series of illiberal Hungarian regimes came to regulate but also tolerate and protect queer life She also explains how the precarious coexistence between the illiberal state and queer community ended abruptly at the close of World War II A stunning reappraisal of sexuality's political implications Queer Budapest recuperates queer communities as an integral part of Hungary's and Europe's modern incarnation

War and Society in East Central Europe: Revolutions and interventions in Hungary and its neighbor states, 1918-1919, 1988 Militärgeschichtliche Mitteilungen, 1989 War and Society Newsletter, 1985 Southeast European Maritime Commerce and Naval Policies from the Mid-eighteenth Century to 1914 Kōnstantinos D. Svolopoulos, Béla K.
