Lundan, 2002-01-01 This text focuses on contemporary cutting edge research concerning the increasing strategic importance of subsidiary networks to the multinational firm. It combines contributions from three major related areas of inquiry: the changing theoretical conception of networks and the structure of the multinational firm; the importance of spillovers and agglomeration economies related to multinational investments; and the management of the flow of information and knowledge from headquarters to subsidiaries and vice versa. Marketing Challenges in Transition Economies of Europe, Baltic States, and the C.I.S. Gopalkrishnan R. Iyer, Lance A. Masters, 1999. Marketing Challenges in Transition Economies of Europe, Baltic States and the CIS is a collection of conceptual and empirical articles on the developments of markets, marketing orientation and marketing strategy in the transition economies of Eastern and Central Europe, the Baltic States and the CIS. This unique book includes conceptual frameworks and research studies that will illuminate topics such as marketing, institutional development, marketing orientation and foreign direct investment to help you gain a better understanding of the current and future roles of marketing in transition economies. The Baltic States Thomas Lane, Artis Pabriks, Aldis Purs, David J. Smith, 2013-11-05. Since the end of the Cold War, there has been an increased interest in the Baltics. The Baltic States brings together three titles: Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, to provide a comprehensive and analytical guide integrating history, political science, economic development and contemporary events into one account. Since gaining their independence, each country has developed at its own pace with its own agenda and facing its own obstacles. The authors examine the tensions accompanying a post-communist return to Europe after the long years of separation and how each country has responded to the demands of becoming a modern European state. Estonia was the first of the former Soviet republics to enter membership negotiations with the European Union in 1988 and is a potential candidate for the next round of EU expansion in 2004. Lithuania and Latvia have also expressed their desire for future membership of NATO and the EU. Change Management in Transition Economies H. Stüting, W. Dorow, F. Claassen, S. Blazejewski, 2003-05-28. This book investigates the concepts and instruments for managing change in companies striving towards a market orientation in transition economies. The focus is on the identification of factors which have led to the considerable success of certain corporations in spite of the very dynamic environment in transition countries since 1989. The analysis considers problems and solutions for all the relevant stakeholder relationships. Although the case study is largely based on Poland, the book also contains research on the economic, political and social context of doing business in Central and Eastern Europe.
