The Economics Of Higher Education An Analysis Of Taxes Versus Fees:

The Economics of Higher Education John Creedy,1995 The debate regarding the increased funding of higher education has focused on specific issues such as whether or not higher education should be financed through general taxation This text explores the economic foundations of this debate and considers some issues The Economics of Screening and Risk Sharing in Higher Education Bernhard Eckwert,Itzhak Zilcha,2015-05-14 The Economics of Screening and Risk Sharing in Higher Education explores advances in information technologies and in statistical and social sciences that have significantly improved the reliability of techniques for screening large populations These advances are important for higher education worldwide because they affect many of the mechanisms commonly used for rationing the available supply of educational services Using a single framework to study several independent questions the authors provide a comprehensive theory in an empirically driven field Their answers to questions about funding structures for investments in higher education students attitudes towards risk and the availability of arrangements for sharing individual talent risks are important for understanding the theoretical underpinnings of information and uncertainty on human capital formation Investigates conditions under which better screening leads to desirable outcomes such as higher human capital accumulation less income inequality and higher economic well being Questions how the role of screening relates to the funding structure for investments in higher education and to the availability of risk sharing arrangements for individual talent risks Reveals government policies that are suited for controlling or counteracting detrimental side effects along the growth path

Economics of Education Jürgen G. Backhaus,2010 This book is mainly a collection of selected papers presented at the International Conference on Economics of Education at the University of Tartu Estonia The contributions presented here illustrate the wide variety of issues as human and social capital skills education and research institutions educational services and management accounting and compensation systems in schools and universities This collection of studies provides information ideas and research that should be valuable for practitioners policy makers academics and students Higher Education, Public Good and Markets Jandhyala B. G. Tilak,2017-10-16 This book critically examines some of the major trends in the development of higher education It demonstrates how in the context of liberalisation globalisation and marketisation the crisis in higher education has assumed different dimensions in all advanced and emerging societies The author shows how the state tends to slowly withdraw from the responsibility of higher education including in the arena of policy making or simply adopts a policy of laissez faire of non involvement which helps in the rapid unbridled growth of private sector in higher education The notion of higher education as a public good is under serious contestation in current times The book argues for the need to resurrect the compelling nature of higher education along with its several implications for public policy and planning while providing a broad portrayal of global developments comparative perspectives and key lessons The volume will be of interest to scholars and researchers of education political science public policy and administration governance development studies economics and those working in the higher education sectors think tanks policymakers as well as NGOs

Education Finance, Equality, and Equity Iris BenDavid-Hadar, 2018-08-13 This volume revisits educational equality and equity issues especially in education finance related topics consisting of 15 chapters and organized in two parts The first part of the volume entitled Education Finance focuses on equity aspects of resource allocation and its influence on education The second part entitled Educational Equality and Equity focuses on the conceptualization and the measurements of educational inequity and inequality with special emphasis on the cost of inequality The field of education finance has been significantly influencing policy makers in many countries in recent years This volume is focused on equity and equality in education finance in an international frame This book would be of interest to 1 scholars at the fields of education finance economics of education and educational policy 2 graduate students at the course of school finance or economics of education and 3 local and global policy makers at the fields of education policy and education finance

Marketizing Education and Health in Developing Countries Christopher Colclough, 1997 This book draws on evidence from a large number of developing countries to assess the impact of market reforms on the provision of education and health services The contributors show that approaches that seek merely to pass more of their costs to consumers perform less well than is often claimed and that improved cost effectiveness of health and education systems requires far more than changes in the sources and mechanisms of obtaining finance

Bruce Johnstone,Maria J. Rosa,Hans Vossensteyn,2007-11-23 Higher education finances lie at the crossroads in many Western countries Hence worldwide the most common approach to the need for increasing revenue was to use some form or forms of cost sharing or the shift of some of the higher educational per student costs from governments and taxpayers to parents and students This raises several important challenges to higher education systems First there is the political and social controversy associated with most forms of cost sharing particularly with tuition fees Secondly there are important issues in terms of the broad context of social policy such as the role of families and students and the relationship that the state establishes with each of them Third there is the comparison of alternative instruments of cost sharing and the direct and indirect effects of each of them notably in terms of educational equality Overall underlying cost sharing debates are fundamental questions about social choice individual opportunities and the role of government in society Taxation Terrance B. Caldwell,2008 Taxes fund the services provided by governments The goal of tax policy is to design a tax system that produces the desired amount of revenue and balances the minimisation of compliance and efficiency costs with other objectives such as equity transparency and administrability This new book brings to light new issues and challenges in this field Business 4.0 as a Subject of the Digital Economy Elena G.
