The Routledge Handbook of the History of Settler Colonialism examines the global history of settler colonialism as a distinct mode of domination from ancient times to the present day. It explores the ways in which new polities were established in freshly discovered New Worlds and covers the history of many countries including Australia, New Zealand, Israel, Japan, South Africa, Liberia, Algeria, Canada, and the USA. Chronologically as well as geographically wide reaching, this volume focuses on an extensive array of topics and regions ranging from settler colonialism in the Neo Assyrian and Roman empires to relationships between indigenes and newcomers in New Spain and the early Mexican republic to the settler dominated polities of Africa during the twentieth century. Its twenty nine inter disciplinary chapters focus on single colonies or on regional developments that straddle the borders of present day states on successful settlements that would go on to become powerful settler nations on failed settler colonies and on the historiographies of these experiences. Taking a fundamentally international approach to the topic, this book analyses the varied experiences of settler colonialism in countries around the world. With a synthesizing yet original introduction, this is a landmark contribution to the emerging field of settler colonial studies and will be a valuable resource for anyone interested in the global history of imperialism and colonialism.

The First Liberian Civil War George Klay Kieh, 2008. This book challenges the dominant view that the first Liberian civil war was caused by ethno cultural antagonisms between and among the country's various ethnic groups. Alternatively, the book argues that the war was the consequence of the multifaceted crises of underdevelopment, cultural, economic, political, and social generated by the neo colonial Liberian State.

Grassroots Responses to Extractivism Samuel Leguizamon Grant, Felix Mantz, Mariko Frame, 2025-01-23. This volume makes visible the many innovative resistances and solutions emanating from the Global South in response to the injustices of the current global ecological crises. Rooted in contemporary ecological imperialism, these crises are subjecting marginalized communities in the Global South to the worst socio ecological repercussions worldwide whilst mainstream environmental policies and solutions reproduce market based approaches premised on a hegemonic Western world view. The book details a wide variety of case studies from across Asia, Africa, and the Americas such as deforestation activism in Cambodia and grassroots community organisation against large scale land transactions in Liberia among many others. The contributors, composed of a mix of academics and activists, propose bottom up solutions to the current ecological and climate crises. This work highlights how anti capitalist, anti colonial, and anti anthropocentric alternatives and movements are realistic, holistic, and appropriate in the face of global ecological crises.

why the Legislature and Judiciary are weak corrupt inefficient and ineffective He proposes how these dormant branches of government could become more effective and robust to curb presidential dominance by upholding the principle of checks and balances in Liberia's democracy He also argues that mass illiteracy leads electorates to electing incompetent legislators The writer further points out that widespread illiteracy undermines most of the citizens capacity to critically and rationally analyse National Policies Hence they usually fail to hold their legislators or government accountable The writer maintains that to alleviate poverty and transform Liberia into a developmental state the Legislature needs to assume its role by becoming robust efficient and effective It must promulgate pro poor laws and policies intended to alleviate widespread poverty This will engender national development He concludes that the National Legislature through prudent budgetary allocation needs to promote infrastructural development the right to food equitable access to quality education healthcare safe drinking water and public housing

The African Post-colonial State and its Challenges Godfrey Mwakikagile, 2022 Godfrey Mwakikagile looks at the African post colonial state and the challenges it faces He contends that it is structurally flawed and does not reflect African realities It is an oppressive machinery and an apparatus of power to serve the interests of the ruling class and the elite at the expense of ordinary citizens and the masses And it has retained the institutional structure of the colonial state instead of undergoing fundamental transformation to become truly African Mwakikagile focuses on a number of countries providing case studies whose relevance is continental in scope He contends that bad leadership is the biggest problem African countries have faced through the decades and everything else revolves around it The collapse of a number of African states in the post colonial era bears testimony to that

The Politics and Policies of Sub-Saharan Africa Robert A. Dibia, 2001 This book attempts to correct the impression created by Western media that Sub Saharan Africa is in a state of anarchy The text analyzes and shows that while many Sub Saharan African nations are experiencing the worst time of their history others are enjoying their best times Thus the text argues that although some parts of Africa are experiencing crisis the continent is also a fine region of major new experiments in governance peace building and free market transformation programs Finally the text focuses some of its analyses on the colonial legacy economic and ethnic transformation indigenous institutions and other forces that seem to influence the governance of Sub Saharan African nations      The Burden of Collective Goodwill Abiodun Alao, 2017-07-05 The book is the first to discuss in detail the extensive external involvement in the Liberian civil war a war that claimed up to 200 000 lives created a massive refugee crisis and brought West Africa to the tribunal of international attention The book is conceived against the background that the international response to the conflict has features that are unprecedented in the management of civil conflicts in the post cold war era For example the regional peacekeeping mission was the first after the end of the cold war while the dispatch of UN Observer mission was the first ever joint peacekeeping mission between the UN and a regional organisation The extensive involvement of international organisations in the conflict has not been witnessed in the region since the Biafran war of 1967 1970
