The Engendering God Male And Female Faces Of God:

The Engendering God Carl A. Raschke, Susan Doughty Raschke, 1995-01-01 Asserts the religious equality of men and women woven throughout both the Jewish and Christian traditions      The Father and the Feminine Spencer Miles Boersma, 2024-09-12 How should Christians speak of the transcendent yet personal God when our language for persons is almost always gendered Is male imagery such as Father Son or King the only appropriate way Are there ways to talk of God using female gendered metaphors and pronouns And how does the use of such language impact humans as gendered people Moving beyond the extremes in this debate The Father and the Feminine seeks to clarify the ways Christians speak about God whether this is by recognizing revelation and Christian tradition upholding God's ineffability using analogies metaphors and narratives referring to God as Father Son and Spirit or by seeking a liberating way of life in community Spencer Miles Boersma argues that male language for God need not be problematic if used and understood correctly but at the same time that it cannot be the exclusive way Christians speak of the Divine The grammar of Christian Scripture and tradition both authorize the use of female language which Christians ought to use in pursuing a deeper relationship with God and others as well as a more authentic view of self      Biblical Women--Submissive? Joe E. Luncford, 2009-10-02 For many years I have had an interest in the equality of women and men particularly in the church where it has been woefully lacking for the most part More recently Fundamentalist theologians have become increasingly blatant in asserting that the Bible teaches subordination of women to men both inside and outside the church I have argued that this idea results from an irresponsible proof texting from the Bible I am convinced that when taken as a whole looking at all passages referring to women the Bible supports the complete equality of women with men I have undertaken to demonstrate this fact by looking carefully at the stories of women in the Bible both named and unnamed who were not submissive to men and who refused to settle for the role which their society attempted to assign them I have taken these passages from the Bible and interpreted them within the context into which they are placed to the degree that this can be determined My goal was to find every story in the Bible in which a woman stepped out of her societal role and did something only men were supposed to do I leave to the reader to decide whether or not I have succeeded      The Grace of Sophia Grace Ji-Sun Kim, 2010-02-01 The Grace of Sophia reaches out to Korean North American women including former victims of severe religious and cultural suffering in Korea and current casualties of racism classism and sexism in North America By sharing her own views on racism the patriarchal Korean society and multifaith understandings of wisdom author Grace Ji Sun Kim offers strength for the journey to empowerment and hope in the search for a liberative Korean North American women's Christology      Believing Women in Islam Asma Barlas, 2019-01-16 Does Islam call for the oppression of women Non Muslims point to the subjugation of women that occurs in many Muslim countries especially those that claim to be Islamic while many Muslims read the Qur'an in ways that seem to justify sexual oppression inequality and patriarchy Taking a wholly different view Asma Barlas develops a believer's reading of the Qur'an that demonstrates the radically egalitarian and antipatriarchal nature of its teachings. Beginning with a historical analysis of religious authority and knowledge, Barlas shows how Muslims came to read inequality and patriarchy into the Qur'an to justify existing religious and social structures and demonstrates that the patriarchal meanings ascribed to the Qur'an are a function of who has read it how and in what contexts. She goes on to reread the Qur'an's position on a variety of issues in order to argue that its teachings do not support patriarchy. To the contrary, Barlas convincingly asserts that the Qur'an affirms the complete equality of the sexes, thereby offering an opportunity to theorize radical sexual equality from within the framework of its teachings. This new view takes readers into the heart of Islamic teachings on women, gender, and patriarchy, allowing them to understand Islam through its most sacred scripture rather than through Muslim cultural practices or Western media stereotypes. For this revised edition of Believing Women in Islam, Asma Barlas has written two new chapters, Abraham's Sacrifice in the Qur'an and Secular Feminism and the Qur'an, as well as a new preface, an extended discussion of the Qur'an's wife-beating verse and of men's presumed role as women's guardians, and other updates throughout the book.

Reverberations of Faith Walter Brueggemann, 2002-01-01 Explores more than 100 Old Testament themes. Each entry states the consensus reading, identifies what is at issue in the interpretive question, and discusses the practical significance of the issue for the church today in part by suggesting contemporary connections to the ancient texts.

Redeeming Men Stephen Blake Boyd, W. Merle Longwood, Mark William Muesse, 1996-01-01 Contributors to this book—historians, biblical specialists, theologians, ethicists, and scholars of comparative religions—examine the relationship between religious tradition and manhood. The essays cover a broad range of topics from the dynamics of power in shaping masculine identity to the role religion plays in shaping masculine identity to the experience of myth, ritual, spiritual discipline, and community in the lives of men.

The Female Face of God in Auschwitz Melissa Raphael, 2003-09-02 The first full-length feminist dialogue with Holocaust theory, theology, and social history. Considers women's reactions to the holy in the camps at Auschwitz.

Men's Bodies, Men's Gods Bjorn Krondorfer, 1996-01-01 Men's Bodies, Men's Gods explores the intersection of body, religion, and culture from the specific perspective of male identities. How are male bodies constructed in different historical periods and contexts? How do race, ethnicity, and sexual preference impact on the intersection of male bodies and religious identity? Does Christianity provide models to cope with the aging and ailing male body? Does it provide models for intimacy between men and women? Between men and men? And how do men reflect the carnal dimensions of power, abuse, and justice?
