European Union Claudia Hillebrand, 2012-10-03 Counter Terrorism Networks in the European Union Maintaining Democratic Legitimacy after 9 11 presents a model of democratic legitimacy for within international counter terrorism co operation Exploring the current practices of European Union EU counter terrorism policing developed after 9 11 it highlights the current significant challenges to democratic legitimacy and seeks to present tools and solutions which ensure democratic counter terrorism actions and the protection of human rights Counter terrorism policing is now a global concern with co operation between security authorities of different countries a crucial feature in the fight to prevent terrorism and extremism Yet given the emphasis on pre emption this type of policing tends to interfere to a far greater extent with the rights of the individual than traditional policing This book scrutinises the current focus of enhanced communication between counter terrorist associates at member state and EU levels within Europe alongside analysis of just how far the traditional protective mechanisms of accountability and oversight are managing to keep up with this development It proposes that current forms of counter terrorism policing within the EU should be understood as networks sets of expert institutional nodes or individual agents from at least two countries that are interconnected in order to authorize and provide security with regard to counter terrorism using the European Police Office Europol as a key example The Statesman's Year-Book 1965-66 S.

Brazil and South America by following a chain of interlocking case studies whether artistic literary or ideological and it also considers the parallel diffusion of the literature of the Spiritual Rococo in these same regions placing particular emphasis on unpublished primary sources such as inventories One of the ultimate goals of this study is to move beyond the cliché of Rococo's frivolity and acknowledge its essential modernity Thoroughly interdisciplinary The Spiritual Rococo not only integrates different art historical fields in novel ways but also interacts with church and social history literary and post colonial studies and anthropology opening up new horizons in these fields

The Oxford Handbook of European Islam Jocelyne Cesari, 2015

For centuries Muslim countries and Europe have engaged one another through theological dialogues diplomatic missions political rivalries and power struggles In the last thirty years due in large part to globalization and migration from Islamic countries to the West what was previously an engagement across national and cultural boundaries has increasingly become an internalized encounter within Europe itself Questions of the Hijab in schools freedom of expression in the wake of the Danish Cartoon crisis and the role of Shari'a have come to the forefront of contemporary European discourse The Oxford Handbook of European Islam is the first collection to present a comprehensive approach to the multiple and changing ways Islam has been studied across European countries Parts one to three address the state of knowledge of Islam and Muslims within a selection of European countries while presenting a critical view of the most up to date data specific to each country These chapters analyze the immigration cycles and policies related to the presence of Muslims tackling issues such as discrimination post colonial identity adaptation and assimilation The thematic chapters in parts four and five examine secularism radicalization Shari'a Hijab and Islamophobia with the goal of synthesizing different national discussions into a more comparative theoretical framework The Handbook attempts to balance cutting edge assessment with the knowledge that the content itself will eventually be superseded by events Featuring eighteen newly commissioned essays by noted scholars in the field this volume will provide an excellent resource for students and scholars interested in European Studies immigration Islamic studies and the sociology of religion
