man the microcosm of all creation being a development of Homo creates est which are found in the first principle of St Ignatius Spiritual Exercises Moving the microcosm he turns his attention to the macrocosm nature the elements the heavens and then the heavens above the angels and the very nature of God St Robert stops at each step to search out the vestige of God within creation and to challenge the soul to consider its final end at each turn Every movement up this ladder is a lesson in itself of holy wisdom drawn from the pages of Sacred Scripture assisting men in being more prayerful and assist them in finding time for contemplation in their busy lives St Robert draws on his own experience as he was a contemplative mystic in spite of his very busy life and exhorts the reader to overcome struggles of prayer and focus on God which he undoubtedly had to fight back at every turn Published here in a new translation the Ascent of the Mind to God by the Ladder of Creation will help the reader to contemplate God in everyday things to challenge their life habits and vices to fight distraction in prayer to see in all things the power beauty wisdom mercy and also justice of God This books is ideal for personal prayer and meditation or for making a visit to the blessed Sacrament whether in a Church or an hour of adoration The Ascent to God Jeffrey Sobosan,1981-05-01

The Brightest Mirror of God's Works Nico Vorster,2019-03-28 John Calvin s perspectives on the nature calling and destiny of the human being is scattered all over his extensive corpus of writings This book attempts to provide an accurate account of the main theological motifs that governed Calvin s doctrine on the human being while keeping in mind variable factors such as the historical development of Calvin s thought the pastoral and often unsystematic orientation of his theology and the formative impact doctrinal controversies had on his thoughts The contribution focuses specifically on Calvin s understanding of the created structure of the human being her sinful nature the human being s union with Christ the limits of human reason the anthropological roots of human society and gender The primary aim is to make the original Calvin speak But the contribution also addresses some of the most recent debates on Calvin s theology and identifies those impulses in his theological anthropology that bear potential for modern reflections on human existence Like most of us Calvin was a child of his time However his intellectual legacy endures and readers may well find his thoughts on the human being surprisingly refreshing and stimulating for modern anthropological and social discourses Formed for the Glory of God Kyle C. Strobel,2013-05-02 Kyle Strobel mines the work of Jonathan Edwards in search of the Puritan minister s personal vision for spiritual development In Edwards Strobel writes we find a grasp of spiritual formation that tries to balance deep thought with deep passion a life of love with the contemplation of divine things The Unitarian Review ,1889

The Hidden and Manifest God Peter Schaefer,2012-02-01 This book represents the first wide scale presentation and interpretation of pre kabbalistic Jewish mysticism This is the Hekhalot or Merkavah mysticism The emphasis is on the conceptions of God the angels and man that the texts provide and that are the framework of the Judaic world view in late antiquity and the early Middle Ages This interpretation is based on the major works of this early Jewish mysticism Hekhalot Rabbati The Greater Palaces Hekhalot Zutarti The Lesser Palaces Ma aseh Merkavah The Working of the Chariot Merkavah

Rabbah The Great Chariot and the Third Hebrew Book of Enoch Many quotations from this largely unknown body of esoteric literature are included The experience of the mystical heroes of this literature moves between the two poles of the heavenly journey between the ascent of the mystic through the seven palaces to the Throne of Glory and the adjuration the attempt to invoke God and his angels in order to force them to fulfill man's will Both are permeated by magic and the world view of this first stage of Jewish mysticism is thus deeply magical The circles which formed it were concerned with nothing less than a radical transformation of the world of normative Judaism that for centuries was determined by the Rabbis

Agnes Blannbekin, Viennese Beguine Agnes Blannbekin, Ulrike Wiethaus, 2002 Female mysticism usually nourished in contemplative surroundings in Blannbekin's case drew its inspiration from urban life Weidhaus identifies her visions as street mysticism This early example of a spiritual diary incorporating the visions of a female mystic offers a glimpse of religious women's daily life and spiritual practices Agnes Blannbekin was from an Austrian farming family but as a Beguine lived an urban life Ulrike Weithaus refers to her experiences as street mysticism Blannbekin's spiritual life revolved around the liturgical cycles of the church year but also embraced the opportunities and vagaries of city life Her visions comment on memorable events such as a popular bishop's visit to town during which people were trampled to death the consequences of a rape committed by a priest thefts of the Eucharist and the work of witches Christ for Blannbekin is not only bridegroom but also shopkeeper apothecary and axe-wielding soldier and it was her vision of swallowing Christ's foreskin which led to the eventual censorship of her works Life and Revelations has only recently been rediscovered by Austrian scholar Peter Dinzelbacher and this translation is based on his critical edition

Augustine Through the Ages Allan Fitzgerald, John C. Cavadini, 1999 This one volume reference work provides the first encyclopedic treatment of the life thought and influence of Augustine of Hippo A.D. 354-430 one of the greatest figures in the history of the Christian church The product of more than 140 leading scholars throughout the world this comprehensive encyclopedia contains over 400 articles that cover every aspect of Augustine's life and writings and trace his profound influence on the church and the development of Western thought through the past two millennia. Major articles examine in detail all of Augustine's nearly 120 extant writings from his brief tractates to his prodigious theological works. For many readers this volume is the only source for commentary on the numerous works by Augustine not available in English. Other articles discuss Augustine's influence on other theologians from contemporaries like Jerome and Ambrose to prominent figures throughout church history such as Gregory the Great, Aquinas, Luther, Calvin, and Harnack. Augustine's life, the chaotic political events of his world, and the church's struggles with such heresies as Arianism, Donatism, Manicheism, and Pelagianism. Augustine's thoughts about philosophical problems, time, the ascent of the soul, the nature of truth, theological questions, guilt, original sin, free will, the Trinity, and cultural issues, church-state relations, Roman society. The Constructive Quarterly Silas McBee, 1914

Illuminations by Philo of Alexandria: Selected Studies on Interpretation in Philo, Paul and the Revelation of John Peder Borgen, 2021-05-25. This volume contains a collection of 17 essays on Philo written by Peder Borgen between 1987 and 2018. The first six studies deal with important issues in Philo's religious thought and social world such as his views on Flaccus, prayers, and his eschatology. The next five essays illustrate how an understanding of Philo can contribute to the interpretation of Paul, especially his Letter to the Galatians. The final six studies deal with the importance of Philo's writings for the interpretation of the Revelation of John, a subject too rarely touched upon in recent scholarship. Envisioning Magic Peter Schäfer, Hans Hans Gerhard Kippenberg, 1997-01-01. This collection of twelve articles presents a selection of papers delivered in the course of a seminar 1994-95 and its concluding international symposium at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton. The common theme is the interrelation between magic and religion, focussing particularly on the Mediterranean world in Antiquity, Egyptian, Graeco-Roman, and Jewish beliefs and customs, but also treating the early modern period in Northern Europe, the Netherlands, and Germany, as well as offering more general reflections on elements of magic in language and Jewish mysticism. The volume is characterized by an interdisciplinary approach and the use of varied methodologies, emphasizing the dynamic nature of the often contradictory forces shaping religious beliefs and practices, while dismissing the idea of a linear development from magic to religion or vice versa. The contributors are outstanding scholars in their fields: Ancient, Medieval, and Modern History, Religious Studies, Jewish Studies, Classical Studies, Early Christianity, Islamic Studies, Anthropology, Egyptology, and Comparative Literature. Without a doubt, this re-evaluation of a fascinating, age-old subject will stimulate scholarly discussion and appeal to educated, non-specialist readers as well. The Mystical Theology of the Eastern Church Vladimir Lossky, 1991-08-01. Lossky's great work on Eastern Orthodoxy covers the whole range of its spirituality and theology. Combining careful theology with the warmth of the deep personal devotion of the author, The Mystical Theology of the Eastern Church is the best introduction to Orthodox teaching and theology available. It provides a reliable and informative presentation of the theological spirit of the Eastern Church. His account makes clear the profound theological differences underlying the practices of the East and West and yet it is also an important contribution to ecumenism and to the life of Christian devotion. It brings together subjects that are more usually separated, asserting that there is no true mysticism that is not firmly rooted in theology and no true theology that is not experienced and therefore mystical. The tradition of the Eastern Church is presented as a mystical theology with doctrine and experience mutually conditioning each other.
