Employment Relations and HRM in South Korea Dong-One Kim, Johnngseok Bae, 2017-07-05 South Korea is one of the rare countries that has experienced political industrial democratization and economic development simultaneously in a relatively short period However the full story of democratization and development processes displays two faces positive and negative aspects to the deployment of labour human resources This book explains these seemingly contradictory outcomes of Korean employment relations ER and human resource management HRM based upon a theoretical framework that incorporates logics of environmental constraints and strategies of actors During three key periods of the previous century i e pre 1987 1987 1997 and post 1997 the book discusses the paradigm shift in both ER and HRM This much needed text contains informative details on Korean ER and HRM of past and present with theoretical and practical views and of transformations and continuities The book provides policy implications that will stimulate constructive debates regarding the mutual gains strategies for policy makers management and employees Foreign Policy Robert J. Lieber, 2017-03-02 The best writing on foreign policy integrates theory and policy in ways that address the principal questions about a country's place in the world and encourage the reader to think about contemporary questions from a long term perspective Accordingly the essays in this volume have been chosen with an eye to whether they represent important and original thinking and are likely to remain relevant The authors included here represent diverse views about foreign policy and the international context in which it takes place While two dozen pieces chosen from a vast literature can never be definitive nevertheless each of these articles offers a thoughtful reasoned and often eloquent assessment that is likely to remain a reference point for those seriously interested in the subject The work is organized into five sections how to think about foreign policy the domestic context foreign policy and unipolarity foreign policy after 9 11 and foreign policy and the future

Days of Infamy: How a Century of Bigotry Led to Japanese American Internment (Scholastic Focus) Lawrence Goldstone, 2022-06-07 In another unrelenting look at the iniquities of the American justice system Lawrence Goldstone acclaimed author of Unpunished Murder Stolen Justice and Separate No More examines the history of racism against Japanese Americans exploring the territory of citizenship and touching on fears of non white immigration to the US with hauntingly contemporary echoes On December 7 1941 a date which will live in infamy the Japanese navy launched an attack on the American military bases at Pearl Harbor Hawaii The next day President Franklin Roosevelt declared war on Japan and the US Army officially entered the Second World War Three years later on December 18 1944 President Roosevelt signed Executive Order 9066 which enabled the Secretary of War to enforce a mass deportation of more than 100 000 Americans to what government officials themselves called concentration camps None of these citizens had been accused of a real crime All of them were torn from their homes jobs schools and communities and deposited in tawdry makeshift housing behind barbed wire solely for the crime of being of Japanese descent President Roosevelt declared this community alien whether they were citizens or not native born or not accusing them of being potential spies and saboteurs for Japan who deserved to have their Constitutional rights stripped away In doing so the president set in motion another date which would live in infamy the day when the US joined the ranks of those Fascist nations that had forcibly deported innocents solely on the basis of the circumstance of their birth In 1944 the US Supreme Court ruled in Korematsu v United States that the forcible deportation and detention of Japanese Americans on the basis of race was a military necessity Today it is widely considered one of the worst Supreme Court decisions of all time But Korematsu was not an isolated event In fact the Court's racist ruling was the result of a deep seated anti Japanese anti Asian sentiment running all the way back to the California Gold Rush of the mid

1800s Starting from this pivotal moment Constitutional law scholar Lawrence Goldstone will take young readers through the key events of the 19th and 20th centuries leading up to the fundamental injustice of Japanese American internment Tracing the history of Japanese immigration to America and the growing fear whites had of losing power Goldstone will raise deeply resonant questions of what makes an American an American and what it means for the Supreme Court to stand as the people's branch of government

Legitimising Rejection Sara Ellen Davies, 2008 This book examines Southeast Asia's rejection of international refugee law through extensive archival analysis and argues that this rejection was shaped by the region's response to its largest refugee crisis in the post 1945 era the Indochinese refugee crisis from 1975-1996

The Politics of Anti-Corruption Agencies in Latin America Joseph Pozsgai-Alvarez, 2021-11-29 This book investigates the history development and current state of anti corruption agencies in Latin America In recent decades specialized anti corruption agencies have sprung up as countries seek to respond to corruption and to counter administrative and political challenges However the characteristics resources power and performance of these agencies reflect the political and economic environment in which they operate This book draws on a range of case studies from across Latin America considering both national anti corruption bodies and agencies created and administered by or in close coordination with international organizations Together these stories demonstrate the importance of the political will of reformers the private interests of key actors the organizational space of other agencies the position of advocacy groups and the level of support from the public at large This book will be a key resource for researchers across political science corruption studies development and Latin American Studies It will also be a valuable guide for policy makers and professionals in NGOs and international organizations working on anti corruption advocacy and policy advice

The Globalisation of Chinese Business Firms H. Yeung, K. Olds, 1999-11-23 Chinese business firms and their networks of personal and business relationships are becoming increasingly important players in the global economy This book examines the global and regional operations of Chinese business firms and considers their implications for the management and organisation of these firms aided by specific case studies Written by leading researchers in this field The Globalisation of Chinese Business Firms is a valuable and timely contribution to the study of Asian business systems

Multilateral Asian Security Architecture See Seng Tan, 2015-07-16 This book provides a comparative assessment of the material and ideational contributions of five countries to the regional architecture of post Cold War Asia In contrast to the usual emphasis placed on the role and centrality of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN in Asia's multilateral architecture and its component institutions this book argues that the four non ASEAN countries of interest here 3 4 Australia Japan China and the United States 3 4 and Indonesia have played and continue to play an influential part in determining the shape and substance of Asian multilateralism from its pre inception to the present The work does not contend that existing scholarship overstates ASEAN's significance to the successes and failures of Asia's multilateral enterprise Rather it claims that the impact of non ASEAN stakeholders in innovating multilateral architecture in

Asia has been understated Whether ASEAN has fared well or poorly as a custodian of Asia's regional architecture the fact remains that the countries considered here notwithstanding their present discontent over the state of that architecture are key to understanding the evolution of Asian multilateralism This book will be of much interest to students of Asian politics international organisations security studies and IR more generally Chinese Foreign Policy Under Xi Tiang Boon Hoo, 2017-02-17 There has been a discernable calibration of Chinese foreign policy since the ascension of Xi Jinping to the top leadership positions in China The operative term here is adjustment rather than renovation because there has not been a fundamental transformation of Chinese foreign policy or setting up of a new kitchen in foreign affairs Several continuities in Chinese diplomacy are still evident The People's Republic of China PRC has not wavered from its overarching strategy of rising through peaceful development The PRC is still an active participant and leader in or shaper of global and regional regimes even as it continues to push for reforms of the extant order towards an arrangement which it thinks will be less unjust and more equitable It seeks to better link up with the international track perhaps even more so under Xi's stewardship Yet amidst these continuities it is clear that there have been some profound shifts in China's foreign policy From the enunciation of strategic slogans such as the Asian security concept and major country diplomacy with Chinese characteristics the creation of the China led and initiated Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank the pursuit of Xi's signature foreign policy initiative the One Belt One Road to a purportedly more assertive and resolute defense of China's maritime territorial interests in East Asia examples of these foreign policy calibrations both patent and subtle abound In short this has not been a complete metamorphosis but there are real changes with important repercussions for China and the international system The burning questions then are What Where How and Why What are these key foreign policy adjustments Where and how have these occurred in Chinese diplomacy And what are the reasons or drivers that inform these changes This book seeks to capture these changes Featuring contributions from academics think tank intellectuals and policy practitioners all engaged in the compelling business of China watching the book aims to shed more light on the calibrations that have animated China's diplomacy under Xi a leader who by most accounts is considered the most powerful Chinese numero uno since Deng Xiaoping

Security and Conflict in East Asia Andrew Tan, 2015-04-24 Security and Conflict in East Asia provides a timely and comprehensive analysis of the sources and implications of conflict on the Korean peninsula and in the People's Republic of China and Japan the three biggest economies in the world This analysis provides the building blocks for effective solutions to manage these tensions more effectively and is a vital resource to those seeking a clearer understanding of conflict in the most pivotal region in the world In the context of increasingly tense China US strategic rivalry the ever present potential for conflict on the Korean peninsula and over Taiwan the absence of effective regional institutions and regimes the emerging arms race in the region the rise in nationalism and the absence of crisis management mechanisms there are many good reasons why the high potential exists for miscalculation and misperception sparking a regional conflict Given the presence of nuclear armed powers in East Asia namely China North Korea and the USA it is also possible that any regional conflict could escalate into a nuclear conflict involving the world's three largest economies the USA China and Japan The security of and any conflict in East Asia thus has tremendous implications for global security The Handbook is divided into four parts The introductory section includes chapters which set the context explain the history of international relations in East Asia and examine the phenomenon of regional arms race The second section is made up of a series of chapters focusing on China examining China's military modernization its relationship with the USA and the various territorial disputes in which it has been involved The third section focuses on Japan and North and South Korea looking at the security challenges facing Japan and the Korean peninsula A concluding section examines the future role of China and the USA in East Asia as well as the prospects for managing security in the region The contributing authors are all experts in their respective fields and all share an abiding concern over developments in East Asia Their contributions aim to assist in a better understanding of the issues to suggest possible solutions and draw attention to the need for diplomacy confidence building measures crisis management mechanisms and other measures to prevent conflict This volume will be of use to government institutions involved in foreign policy intelligence and defence reference libraries universities research institutes and non governmental organisations It will also appeal to analysts researchers journalists policy advisers students academics and the general reader Scholarly analysis is yet to catch up and currently there are no other comprehensive works examining conflict in East Asia in the context of the current tensions

Regional Change in Industrializing Asia Leo van Grunsven, 2019-01-04 First published in 1998 this book responds to the dynamics of Industrializing Asia and the behavioural changes of actors which in response to changing internal and external forces have given rise to and are constantly giving rise to alterations in patterns of growth From a geographical perspective these are expressed in regional change understood as a reconstruction of spatial organization The imperatives of dynamic comparative advantage changing global or regional competitiveness and regional competition faced by different actors entities or territorial units can be identified as important forces underlying and shaping regional change This volume provides further illumination contextualization and interpretation of the spatiality of the economic reality in Industrializing Asia as well as the role played by and the implications for different actors The objectives of this book are 1 to outline the processes of regional change linked to responses in the form of restructuring and integrative and regionalization tendencies as well as the realignment of the global regional local divide in production systems complexes and the operation of firms associated with reorganization of production in the process of maintaining and reconfiguring comparative advantage 2 to highlight the wide scope of the process by considering differential units of analysis linked to the agents and manifestations of regional change and the role of scale in terms of the spatial units involved 3 to highlight the implications as to the current and future position or role of differential actors agents particularly nation state in shaping the new economic reality in the region and as a corollary its positioning in the global economic order Rivalry And Cooperation In The

Asia-Pacific: The Dynamics Of A Region In Transition (In 2 Volumes) Mark Beeson, 2019-09-23 Rivalry and Cooperation in the Asia Pacific provides a comprehensive and accessible introduction to the most important strategic and economic region in the world Asia Pacific is a region that is undergoing a major transformation largely as a consequence of the rise of China and its growing rivalry with the United States Whatever happens in the Asia Pacific will profoundly influence global events not just regional ones Looking ahead the region's future direction and even its name is contested and uncertain This two volume reference work by one of the world's leading analysts of regional affairs places these events in historical context and considers what they may mean for future political economic and strategic relations By focusing on the United States China and the region's most significant middle powers the book explains why and how the Asia Pacific has become the fulcrum of international events

11th European Conference on Social Media Dr Panagiotis Fotaris, 2024-05-30 These proceedings represent the work of contributors to the 11th European Conference on Social Media ECSM 2024 hosted by the University of Brighton UK on 30-31 May 2024 The Conference and Programme Chair is Dr Panagiotis Fotaris from the University of Brighton ECSM is now a well established event on the academic research calendar and now in its 11th year the key aim remains the opportunity for participants to share ideas and meet the people who hold them The scope of papers will ensure an interesting two days The subjects covered illustrate the wide range of topics that fall into this important and ever growing area of research

Reliability and Alliance Interdependence Iain D. Henry, 2022-05-15 In Reliability and Alliance Interdependence Iain D Henry argues for a more sophisticated approach to alliance politics and ideas of interdependence It is often assumed that if the United States failed to defend an ally then this disloyalty would instantly and irrevocably damage US alliances across the globe Henry proposes that such damage is by no means inevitable and that predictions of disaster are dangerously simplistic If other allies fear the risks of military escalation more than the consequences of the United States abandoning an ally then they will welcome encourage and even praise such an instance of disloyalty It is also often assumed that alliance interdependence only constrains US policy options but Henry shows how the United States can manipulate interdependence to set an example of what constitutes acceptable allied behavior Using declassified documents Henry explores five case studies involving US alliances with South Korea Japan the Republic of China the Philippines Australia and New Zealand Reliability and Alliance Interdependence makes a substantial contribution to our understanding of how America's alliances in Asia function as an interdependent system
