Achieving Nelson Mandela University? Sibongile Muthwa, Denver A. Webb, 2024-08-20 South Africa's higher education sector is rooted in the country's divided past A significant State driven restructuring from around 1997 to 2005 resulted in what is largely the current configuration of public universities But just over two decades later for a variety of reasons the higher education sector in South Africa appears beset with numerous challenges Nelson Mandela University is one of the public universities that emerged from the restructuring process The university is in an ongoing state of evolution of becoming It developed out of the amalgamation of the University of Port Elizabeth Port Elizabeth Technikon and incorporation of the Port Elizabeth campus of Vista University as Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University in 2005 In 2017 it was renamed Nelson Mandela University after the world renowned statesman rather than the metropolitan area in which the university is primarily located The renaming was conceptualised as more than a marketing opportunity to rebrand the university but as an opportunity to reorientate the university to reposition Nelson Mandela University as an engaged and socially embedded university in the service of society striving to be the academic expression of the values and ethos of its iconic namesake Endeavouring to be something greater and different from the norm imbues its strategy public statements and practices The determination to achieve Mandela University serves or is intended to serve as both an organising principle and a lodestar A cross section of writers from different backgrounds situates Nelson Mandela University within the contemporary historical moment from which it emerged and examines its subsequent evolution While Nelson Mandela University has performed the usual work expected of any university it has also sought to turn the university outwards to achieve a higher purpose framing itself as a values based university on a journey to become something else In Achieving Nelson Mandela University the university attempts to give an account of itself The book is an intellectual and scholarly reflection on where the university has come from and where it is seeking to go

Biko's Ghost Shannen L. Hill, 2015-05-21 When you say Black is Beautiful what in fact you are saying is Man you are okay as you are begin to look upon yourself as a human being With such statements Stephen Biko became the voice of Black Consciousness And with Biko's brutal death in the custody of the South African police he became a martyr an enduring symbol of the horrors of apartheid Through the lens of visual culture Biko's Ghost reveals how the man and the ideology he promoted have profoundly influenced liberation politics and race discourse in South Africa and around the globe ever since Tracing the linked histories of Black Consciousness and its most famous proponent Biko's Ghost explores the concepts of unity, ancestry and action that lie at the heart of the ideology and the man. It challenges the dominant historical view of Black Consciousness as ineffectual or racially exclusive, suppressed on the one side by the apartheid regime and on the other by the African National Congress. Engaging theories of trauma and representation and icon and ideology. Shannen L Hill considers the martyred Biko as an embattled icon, his image portrayals assuming different shapes and political meanings in different hands. So too does she illuminate how Black Consciousness worked behind the scenes throughout the 1980s, a decade of heightened popular unrest and state censorship. She shows how, in streams of imagery that continue to multiply nearly forty years on, Biko's visage and the ongoing life of Black Consciousness served as instruments through which artists could combat the abuses of apartheid and unsettle the rainbow nation that followed.

Archaeological Perspectives on Contested and Political Landscapes

Eduardo Herrera Malatesta, 2025-10-01 This book focuses on alternative definitions of landscape in archaeology, particularly those that explicitly address landscapes' political aspects. In doing so, this volume emphasizes the non-static dialogic nature of landscape within a community and acknowledges how a community's composition and its relationship with the landscape can lead to tensions and even violent conflicts with other groups. It highlights the relevance of considering movement, borders and conflict as sources for understanding how people create their own landscapes and how they reshape them in times of political conflict. For example, in contexts of colonization and war, people are forced to adapt to new politics and hierarchies as they see their personal and communal understanding of the world deeply transformed, something visible even today as political tensions constantly reshape local and global landscapes. Understanding how landscapes were created and contested in the past is essential for understanding their political, economic and cultural manifestations in the present in order to better organize ourselves for a truly integrative future.

Africana Anthony Appiah, Henry Louis Gates (Jr.), 2005 Ninety years after W. E. B. Du Bois first articulated the need for the equivalent of a black Encyclopedia Britannica, Kwame Anthony Appiah and Henry Louis Gates Jr. realized his vision by publishing Africana: The Encyclopedia of the African and African American Experience in 1999. This new greatly expanded edition of the original work broadens the foundation provided by Africana, including more than one million new words. Africana has been completely updated and revised. New entries on African kingdoms have been added, bibliographies now accompany most articles, and the encyclopedia's coverage of the African diaspora in Latin America and the Caribbean has been expanded, transforming the set into the most authoritative research and scholarly reference set on the African experience ever created. More than 4,000 articles cover prominent individuals, events, trends, places, political movements, art forms, business and trade, religion, ethnic groups, organizations and countries on both sides of the Atlantic. African American history and culture in the present-day United States receive a strong emphasis, but African American history and culture throughout the rest of the Americas and their origins in Africa itself have an equally strong presence. The articles that make up Africana cover subjects ranging from affirmative action to zydeco and span over four million years from the earliest known hominids to Sean Diddy Combs. With entries ranging from the African ethnic groups to members of the Congressional Black Caucus, Africana Second Edition conveys the history and scope of cultural expression of people of African descent with unprecedented depth.

Urban Tourism in the Global South Christian M. Rogerson, Jayne M. Rogerson, 2021-07-13 This book examines and addresses the particular character of urban tourism occurring in the global South. It presents research essays on tourism in urban areas of South Africa, a country which is associated with big 5 nature tourism but where urban areas are also major tourism destinations. The book contextualizes urban tourism in South Africa as part of the other half of urban tourism, an overlooked but energetic scholarship which is emerging on urban places in the global South. The volume moves to present a collection of original material variously on national perspectives on urban tourism following by a cluster of city level perspectives. The last three contributions turn to the role of tourism in small towns, the bottom rung in the urban settlement system. Issues of concern include gastronomic tourism, VFR travel, airports, climate change, Airbnb and creative tourism. Finally, as COVID 19 is potentially a defining historical moment for urban tourism, the volume incorporates historical research perspectives in order to address the overwhelming present-mindedness of mainstream urban tourism writings. The book highlights the challenges and opportunities for tourism development in the environment of the urban global South and is relevant to scholars of both tourism and urban studies as well as researchers in development studies.

Human Rights Darren O'Byrne, 2014-06-06 Human Rights: An Introduction is an important text that provides a comprehensive overview of human rights and related issues from a social science perspective. First, this book does more than discuss theory; it uses case studies and personal testimonies in the debate. Human rights as an area of academic interest cannot be easily divorced from human rights struggles and the reality of contemporary conditions. Second, the book is aimed at what is an emerging and growing cross-disciplinary field of study. Human rights issues are increasingly coming to the fore in a number of academic debates. Whereas the study of human rights has traditionally been included in departments of law, international relations and philosophy, a number of courses are now being set up in departments of sociology and anthropology. Consequently, there is an increasing need to bring these disparate approaches together.

Ecoambiguity, Community, and Development Scott Slovic, Swarnalatha Rangarajan, Vidya Sarveswaran, 2014-02-19 Ecoambiguity, Community, and Development takes stock of cultural and environmental contexts in many different regions of the world by exploring literature and film. Artists and scholars working in the social ecology, environmental justice and postcolonial arenas have long recognized that as soon as we tug on a thread of ecodegradation, we generally find it linked to some form of cultural oppression. The reverse is also often true. In the spirit of postcolonial ecocriticism, the studies collected by Scott Slovic, R. Swarnalatha and Vidya Sarveswaran emphasize the impossibility of disentangling environmental and cultural problems. While not all the authors explicitly invoke Karen Thornber's term ecoambiguity or the concepts and terminology of postcolonial ecocriticism, their articles frequently bring to light various ironies For example the fact that Ukrainian environmental experience in the twenty first century is defined by one of the world s most infamous industrial disasters the Chernobyl nuclear accident of 1986 yet Ukrainian culture like many throughout the world actually cherishes a profound even animistic attachment to the wonders of nature The repetition of this and other paradoxes in human cultural responses to the more than human world reinforces our sense of the congruities and idiosyncrasies of human culture Every human culture regardless of its condition of economic and industrial development has produced its own version of environmental literature and art but the nuances of this work reflect that culture s precise social and geophysical circumstances In various ways these stories of community and development from across the planet converge and diverge as told and explained by distinguished scholars many of whom come from the cultures represented in these articles

Apartheid's Leviathan Faeenza Ballim, 2023-04-25 A fascinating study that shows how the intersection of technology and politics has shaped South African history since the 1960s This book details the development of an interconnected technological system of a coal mine and of the Matimba and Medupi power stations in the Waterberg a rural region of South Africa near the country s border with Botswana South Africa s state steel manufacturing corporation Iscor which has since been privatized developed a coal mine in the region in the 1970s This set the stage for the national electricity provider Eskom to build coal fueled power stations in the Waterberg Faeenza Ballim follows the development of these technological systems from the late 1960s a period of heightened repression as the apartheid government attempted to realize its vision of racial segregation to the deeply fraught construction of the Medupi power station in postapartheid South Africa The Medupi power station was planned toward the end of the first decade of the twenty first century as a measure to alleviate the country s electricity shortage but the continued delay of its completion and the escalation of its costs meant that it failed to realize those ambitions while public frustration and electricity outages grew By tracing this story this book highlights the importance of technology to our understanding of South African history This characterization challenges the idea that the technological state corporations were proxies for the apartheid government and highlights that their activities in the Waterberg did not necessarily accord with the government s strategic purposes While a part of the broader national modernization project under apartheid they also set the stage for worker solidarity and trade union organization in the Waterberg and elsewhere in the country This book also argues that the state corporations their technology and their engineers enjoyed ambivalent relationships with the governments of their time relationships that can be characterized as both autonomous and immersive In the era of democracy while Eskom has been caught up in government corruption a major scourge to the fortunes of South Africa it has also retained a degree of organizational autonomy and offered a degree of resistance to those who sought to further corruption The examination of the workings of these technological systems and the state corporations responsible for them complicates conventional understandings of the transition from the authoritarian rule of apartheid to democratic South Africa which coincided with the transition from state led development to neoliberalism This book is an indispensable case study on the workings of industrial and political power in Africa and beyond Emerging Johannesburg Richard Tomlinson, Robert Beauregard, Lindsay Bremmer, Xolela Mangcu, 2014-02-04 Johannesburg is most often compared with Sao Paulo and Los Angeles and sometimes even with Budapest Calcutta and Jerusalem Johannesburg reflects and informs conditions in cities around the world As might be expected from such comparisons South Africa's political transformation has not led to redistribution and inclusive social change in Johannesburg In Emerging Johannesburg the contributors describe the city's transition from a post apartheid city to one with all too familiar issues such as urban suburban divide in the city and its relationship to poverty and socio political power local politics and governance crime and violence and especially for a city located in Southern Africa the devastating impact of AIDS

Environmental Policy Processes Surrounding South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations: Tensions, Debates and Responses in Waste Product Regulation Godwell Nhamo, 2008-01-31 This study was conducted in South Africa South Africa is the first country within the Southern African Development Community to have regulated plastic shopping bags waste through the imposition of both a standard on thickness and a levy Given this scenario the Plastic Bags Regulations present an illustrative case for researching complexity uncertainty and controversies surrounding a new trend in environmental policy making namely waste product regulation The thesis focuses on understanding and investigating tensions debates and responses emerging from the policy process as actors and actor networks put not only the Plastic Bags Regulations into circulation as focal actant token but also other actants and actant networks as well To this end a research question that addressed environmental policies tensions debates and responses that informed the development of South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations was spelt out The research objectives included the need to 1 analyse selected international environmental policy processes surrounding plastic shopping bags litter and waste regulation and how these influenced developments in South Africa 2 identify actors actants and actor actant networks that shaped and were being transformed by South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations and explain the tensions debates and responses arising in the policy processes 3 identify environmental policy outputs and assess outcomes emerging from the formulation and implementation of South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations and 4 establish patterns in environmental policy process reforms around South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations The language of actors human actants non human and actor actant networks brings to the fore the aspects of processes and relationships that exist around them As such insights from the actor actant network theory AANT were drawn upon to inform the research AANT enquiry framework collapses binaries such as nature society art science structure agency and global local historically associated with a particular type of social theory AANT also denies that purely technical scientific or social relations are possible the notion of quasi objects or token Data sets were generated following the Plastic Bags Regulations as token actant with time frames ranging from prior to during and after the formulation of the regulations Similarly data analysis drew insights from AANT's four moments of translation namely problematisation intersement enrolment and mobilisation with the intervention theory providing an evaluative perspective that complemented AANT The findings were that after the promulgation of the first draft of the Plastic Bags Regulations in May 2000 tensions emerged around the nature of regulation whether command and control preferred by government or self regulation preferred by industry and labour In this regard the latter group raised concerns about jobs income and equipment loss as well as the need to have a holistic approach to waste management rather than targeting a single product at a time whilst the former maintained that this would not be so As such education awareness and stringent antilitter penalties were proposed by industry and labour as sustainable responses to the problem of plastic shopping bags waste rather than regulation These debates continued and resulted in minor amendments to the original regulations as finalised by Government in May 2002 However industry and labour continued lobbying government resulting in the conclusion of the Plastic Bags Agreement in September 2002 and the ultimate repulsion of the May 2002 regulations in May 2003 As revealed by this research these responses led to broader social responses and further tensions as demand for plastic shopping bags went down by about 80% although an estimated 1000 jobs were lost and a number of companies lost equipment and business with some closing down following the implementation of

Gated Communities Samer Bagaeen, Ola Uduku, 2010-02-09 Gated Communities provides a historic socio political and contemporary cultural perspective of gated communities In doing so it offers a different lens through which to view the historical vernacular background of this now global phenomenon The book presents a collection of new writing on the issue by an international and interdisciplinary group of contributors The authors review current thinking on gated communities and consider the sustainability issues that these contemporary lifestyle communities raise The authors argue that there are links that can be drawn between the historic gated homesteads and cities found in much of the world and today's Western style secure complexes Global examples of gated communities and their historical context are presented throughout the book The authors also comment on how sustainability issues have impacted on these communities The book concludes by considering how the historic measures up with the contemporary in terms of sustainability function and aesthetic

Apartheid's Festival Leslie Witz, 2003-10-06 Apartheid's Festival highlights the conflicts and debates that surrounded the 1952 celebration of the 300th anniversary of the landing of Jan Van Riebeeck and the founding of Cape Town South Africa Taking place at the height of the apartheid era the festival was viewed by many as an opportunity for the government to promote its nationalist separatist agenda in grand fashion Leslie Witz's fine grained examination of newspapers brochures pamphlets and advertising materials reveals the expectations of the festival planners as well as how the festival was engineered historical figures were reconstructed and the ANC and other anti apartheid organizations mounted opposition to it While laying open the darker motives of the apartheid regime Witz shows that the production of local history is part of a global process forged by the struggle between colonialism and resistance Readers interested in South Africa representations of nationalism and the making of public history will find Apartheid's Festival to be an important study of a society in transition
