PSYCHOLOGY, FOLKLORE, CREATIVITY AND THE HUMAN DILEMMA Julius E. Heuscher, 2003-01-01 In Psychology Folklore Creativity and the Human Dilemma the author explores the meaning of folklore and its usefulness in education and psychotherapy The author's interest has expanded into other fields that challenge and question the limits of our everyday horizons namely into operas plays and humor as well as into new approaches to the meaning of human existence explored by modern thinkers These various fields often interact explain and enrich each other The book aims for deepening the awareness of our ultimate human concerns the meaning of authenticity and the urgent need for radical long term commitments The present volume focuses almost entirely on the role of folklore in expanding and enriching a person's horizons on the challenges by modern writers in terms of the need to radically alter the paradigm of Western society that has brought the blessings of technology led to a fragmentation of our psyche and threatens the very essence of our subjectivity Throughout the book there is both the hidden and the overt implication that simply liking appreciating or agreeing with insightful ideas and suggestions presented by anyone are absolutely worthless or may even be counterproductive if the readers do not translate into changes and actions the ideas that are most meaningful to them and if they do not do so in their family social political and spiritual life people with mental disorders share enough psychology with other people to make human interpretation possible Jonathan Glover tackles the hard cases violent criminals people with delusions autism schizophrenia to answer affirmatively He offers values linked with agency and identity to guide how the boundaries of psychiatry should be drawn Challenge of Authenticity Jacob Kofi Hevi,2003-01-25 Authenticity the external self in conformity with the inner self to be sincere to oneself is a state of genteel well being and therefore of true happiness It is the state of being whole and in a sense of experiencing holiness It is the ideal of being a Christian in any cultural context a challenge to all Christians everywhere The response to the Word of God demands the readiness to be at its service But this service is not simply allowing oneself to be an instrument but also of actively being the agent putting the word into action in the world This means creatively activating the Spirit of God the Spirit of the Word within the culture in the world in individuals and in peoples at any time and place It means the challenge to break through the limiting structures of body and mind in order to get to people s hearts whatever may be their stations in life These structures may differ from place to place and from time to time because every time or place has its peculiar challenges For the Christian faith the challenge is to activate the best within the indigenous culture of its practitioners parishioners and sympathisers The point of departure is that the best elements of a typical indigenous African culture are openness sincerity of spirit spontaneity in a word authenticity These are far different from the superficial emotionalism which some uninformed scholars and commentators have made these out to be The reflections in the book suggest how the challenges to faith commitment in general and in African socio cultural context in particular could be converted into opportunities to make faith commitment a truly self fulfilling vocation that will in turn create authentic discipleship
