The Autobiography A Liverpool Slummy:

The Autobiography of a Liverpool Irish Slummy Patrick O'Mara, 1933 The Autobiography of a Liverpool Irish Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000 With five Nobel Prize winners Slummy Pat O'Mara, 2007 seven Pulitzer Prize winners and two Booker Prize winning novelists modern Irish writing has contributed something special and permanent to our understanding of the twentieth century Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century provides a useful comprehensive and pleasurable introduction to modern Irish literature in a single volume Organized chronologically by decade this anthology provides the reader with a unique sense of the development and richness of Irish writing and of the society it reflected It embraces all forms of writing not only the major forms of drama fiction and verse but such material as travel writing personal memoirs journalism interviews and radio plays to offer the reader a complete and wonderfully varied sense of Ireland's contribution our literary heritage David Pierce has selected major literary figures as well as neglected ones and includes many writers from the Irish diaspora The range of material is enormous and ensures that work that is inaccessible or out of print is now easily available. The book is a delightful compilation including many well known pieces and captivating discoveries which anyone interested in literature will long enjoy browsing and dipping into John Belchem, 2006 With a new introduction that takes account of the extraordinary renaissance that Liverpool is currently enjoying the second edition of this collection by one of the leading scholars of the city's history offers a timely and perceptive examination of the origins and persistence of Liverpool's exceptionalism BOOK JACKET Living in Liverpool Alastair Wilcox, 2011-05-25 Liverpool was a city whose seemingly boundless opportunities bred wealth for the ambitious few and an often precarious lifestyle for its toiling masses But how far can we penetrate that lost world of working class life in Liverpool Is it possible to recreate that bustling noisy active city Fortunately Liverpool's working classes were being watched Recording often it must be said with horror their lifestyles were a mixture of social commentators Chief amongst these was local journalist Hugh Shimmin and a fresh selection of his best writings is reprinted here But the observations of others such as the nationally famous George Sims and the locally renowned Dr Duncan are to be found within this selection as well The work of less well known but equally remarkable writers and statisticians who recorded the habits health housing wages and religious affiliations of Liverpool is also included in this collection of over forty key sources The sources have been given an introduction to put them into a context which will enable their use for general interest and educational purposes by social local and family historians First Communion Peter McGrail, 2016-04-15 One of the most carefully prepared liturgies of any Roman Catholic parish s year is the celebration of First Communion This is the ritual by which seven or eight year old children are admitted to the Eucharist for the first time It attracts the largest congregations of any parish liturgy and yet is frequently marked by tension and dissent within the parish community. The same ritual holds very different meanings for the various parties involved clergy parish schools regularly communicating parishioners and the first communicants and their families The tensions arise from dissonance between the parties on such key issues as expected patterns of Church attendance Catholic identity dress and expenditure and family formation The relationships and discontinuities between popular and official religion is at the heart of these tensions They touch upon deep seated anxieties concerning the future viability of the very structures and patterns of parish life during the current period of falling Church attendance and parish closures For those within the Church who are concerned to understand and address the issues in its structural decline this book will make sometimes uncomfortable but always stimulating reading Peter McGrail examines the relationship between Church structures and popular religious identity viewed through the lens of the first communion event Drawing out hitherto unrecognised connections and significances for the future of the Catholic Church at local level the insights into the decline of the parish as an institution present challenges to all with an interest in and concern for the future of the Church in the English speaking world Bringing to the fore the relationship and tensions between liturgy and Church structures both historically and at the present time this book offers academics and students alike extensive material for reflection and future development Mixed Race Britain in The Twentieth Century Chamion Caballero, Peter J. Aspinall, 2018-05-07 This book explores the overlooked history of racial mixing in Britain during the course of the twentieth century a period in which there was considerable and influential public debate on the meanings and implications of intimately crossing racial boundaries Based on research that formed the foundations of the British television series Mixed Britannia the authors draw on a range of firsthand accounts and archival material to compare official accounts of racial mixing and mixedness with those told by mixed race people couples and families themselves Mixed Race Britain in The Twentieth Century shows that alongside the more familiarly recognised experiences of social bigotry and racial prejudice there can also be glimpsed constant threads of tolerance acceptance inclusion and ordinariness It presents a more complex and multifaceted history of mixed race Britain than is typically assumed one that adds to the growing picture of the longstanding diversity and difference that is and always has been an ordinary and everyday feature of British life Irish, Catholic and Scouse John Belchem, 2007 Liverpool in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries was the mirror of Ellis Island it acted as the great cultural melting pot and processing point of migration from Europe to the United States Here for the first time acclaimed historian John Belchem offers an extensive and groundbreaking social history of the elements of the Irish diaspora that stayed in Liverpool enriching the city's cultural mix rather than continuing on their journey Covering the tumultuous period from the Act of Union to the supposed final settlement between Britain and Ireland this richly illustrated volume will be required reading for anyone The Working Class at Home, 1790-1940 Joseph Harley, Vicky Holmes, Laika interested in the Irish diaspora Nevalainen, 2022-02-17 This book examines life in the homes inhabited by the working class over the long nineteenth century These working class homes are often imagined as distinctly unhomely spaces which the inhabitants struggled to fill with even the most basic of furniture let alone acquire the comforts associated with middle class domestic space. The concerned reformers of industrialising towns and cities painted a picture of severe deprivation of rooms that were both cramped yet bare at the same time and disease ridden spaces from which their subjects required rescue It is an image which is not only inadequate but which also robs working class people of their agency in creating domestic spaces which allowed for the expression of personal and familial feeling Bringing together emerging scholars who challenge these ideas and using a range of innovative sources and approaches this edited collection presents a new understanding of working class homes and Menswear Laura Ugolini, 2017-03-02 Despite increasing academic interest in both the study of masculinity and the history of consumption there are still few published studies that bring together both concerns By investigating the changing nature of the retailing of menswear this book illuminates wider aspects of masculine identity as well as patterns of male consumption between the years 1880 and 1939 While previous historical studies of masculinity have focused overwhelmingly on the moral spiritual and physical characteristics associated with notions of manliness this book considers the relationship between men and activities which were widely considered to be at least potentially unmanly selling as well as buying clothes thus shedding new light on men s lives and identities in this period Urban Redevelopment and Modernity in Liverpool and Manchester, 1918-1939 Charlotte Wildman, 2016-09-22 This book is open access and available on www bloomsburycollections com It is funded by Manchester University Faced with economic decline unprecedented levels of unemployment and new forms of political extremism during Britain's last great economic crash politicians and planners in Liverpool and Manchester responded by investing in dramatic and ambitious programmes of urban regeneration Urban Redevelopment and Modernity in Liverpool and Manchester 1918 1939 is the first book to provide the hitherto unknown story of the innovative transformation of these cities Charlotte Wildman challenges academic scholarship in British history which associates the post 1918 period with the emasculation of local government and the decline of civic culture She shows that local politicians planners architects businessmen and even religious leaders embraced innovative trends in creating distinct forms of urban modernities which particularly changed the way women experienced the transformed city Urban Redevelopment and Modernity in Liverpool and Manchester 1918 1939 offers a complex interactive and multipolar interpretation of the ways cities develop pointing to new methods and ways of understanding both interwar Britain and urban history more generally At a time of debate and discussion about devolution and decentralisation of government this book makes an opportune contribution to debates about urban governance and regionalism in contemporary Britain of Everyday Life Laura Carter, 2021 This book is a social history of popular history in Britain between the end of the First World War and the 1970s It considers how ordinary people were taught history through books in school and museums and on BBC radio Gordon Stretton, Black British Transoceanic Jazz Pioneer Michael Brocken, Jeff Daniels, 2018-09-15 This extensively researched text concerning the life and career of Liverpool born Black jazz musician Gordon Stretton not only contributes to the important debate concerning the transoceanic pathways of jazz during the 20th century but also suggests to the jazz fan and scholar alike that such pathways reaching as they also did across the Atlantic from Europe are actually part of a largely ignored therefore partially hidden history of 20th century jazz performance industry and influence The work also exists to contribute to a more complete picture of the significance of diaspora studies across the spectrum of popular music performance and to award to those Liverpool musicians who were not contributors to the city s musical visage post rock n roll a place in popular music history Gordon Stretton was a jazz pioneer in several senses he emerged from a poverty stricken racially marginalized upbringing in Liverpool to develop a popular music career emblematic of Black diasporan experience He was a child dancer and singer in the Lancashire Lads the troupe which was also part of a young Charlie Chaplin's development a well respected solo touring artist in the UK as The Natural Artistic Coon a chorister and musical director with the Jamaican Choral Union and having encountered syncopated music a jazz percussionist multi instrumentalist and vocalist not to mention a ground breaking bandleader All of these musical experiences took place through time on his own terms as he learnt his craft on the hoof via many different encounters with musical genres from Liverpool to London Paris Brussels Rio and Buenos Aires Gordon Stretton was truly a transoceanic jazz pioneer Fatherhood and the British Working Class, 1865-1914 Julie-Marie Strange, 2015-01-19 A pioneering study of Victorian and Edwardian fatherhood investigating what being and having a father meant to working class people Based on working class autobiography the book challenges dominant assumptions about absent or feckless fathers and reintegrates the paternal figure within the emotional life of families Locating autobiography within broader social and cultural commentary Julie Marie Strange considers material culture everyday practice obligation duty and comedy as sites for the development and expression of complex emotional lives Emphasising the importance of separating men as husbands from men as fathers Strange explores how emotional ties were formed between fathers and their children the models of fatherhood available to working class men and the ways in which fathers interacted with children inside and outside the home She explodes the myth that working class interiorities are inaccessible or unrecoverable and locates life stories in the context of other sources including social surveys visual culture Housing, Class and Gender in Modern British Writing, 1880-2012 Emily Cuming, 2016-08-24 The and popular fiction author demonstrates how depictions of domestic space tell stories of class gender social belonging and exclusion Enemy in our Midst Panikos Panayi, 2014-03-26 With the approach of the First World War the German community in Britain began to be assailed by a combination of government measures and popular hostility which resulted in attacks against individuals with German connections and confiscation of their property From May 1915 a policy of wholesale internment and repatriation was to reduce the German population by more than half of its pre war figure The author of this study charts the growth of the German community in Britain before detailing the story of its destruction under the chauvinistic intolerance which gripped the country during the Great War Flesh in the Age of Reason Roy Porter, 2004 Starting with the grim Britain of the Civil War era with its punishing sense of the body as a corrupt vessel for the soul Roy Porter charts how through figures as diverse as Locke Swift Johnson and Gibbon ideas about medicine politics and religion fundamentally changed notions of self He shows how the Enlightenment with its explosion or rational thinking and scientific invention of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries provided a lens through which we can best see the profound shift from the theocentric otherwordly Dark Ages to the modern earthly body centered world we live in today As man made in God's image gave way to the Enlightenment's notion of the Self made man the body moved center stage Porter writes brilliantly on the ways in which men and women flaunted decorated tanned and dieted themselves activities that we find familiar but that a Puritan divine would have considered satanic And he explores how at the end of the century the human soul took on a new significance in the works of Godwin Blake and Byron BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights The British Empire and the First World War Ashley Jackson, 2017-06-26 The British Empire played a crucial part in the First World War supplying hundreds of thousands of soldiers and labourers as well as a range of essential resources from foodstuffs to minerals mules and munitions In turn many imperial territories were deeply affected by wartime phenomena such as inflation food shortages combat and the presence of large numbers of foreign troops This collection offers a comprehensive selection of essays illuminating the extent of the Empire's war contribution and experience and the richness of scholarly research on the subject Whether supporting British military operations aiding the British imperial economy or experiencing significant wartime effects on the home fronts of the Empire the war had a profound impact on the colonies and their people The chapters in this volume were originally published in Australian Historical Studies The Journal of Imperial and Commonwealth History First World War Studies or The Round Table The Commonwealth Journal of Writing Liverpool Michael Murphy, Deryn Rees-Jones, 2007-01-01 Beryl Bainbridge Clive Barker International Affairs Terence Davies and J G Farrell represent only a handful of the fascinating and provocative writers who have emerged from the Liverpool literary scene in the past seventy five years Published in commemoration of Liverpool s 800th birthday in 2007 and in celebration of its status as a European City of Culture in 2008 Writing Liverpool presents a selection of essays and interviews with the filmmakers journalists cultural critics and novelists who have called the city home asking if there is a distinctive Liverpool voice and if so how we identify it People, Place and Power on the Nineteenth-Century Waterfront Graeme J. Milne, 2016-08-24 This book explores the tenuous existence of seafarers divided between their time on the ocean and their residence in sailortown economies geared to exploit them Particular attention is given both to the contribution of seafarers as a global workforce into the nineteenth century and to their help in creating vibrant multicultural enclaves in port cities worldwide In addition research explores the scandalized opinions of outside observers challenging ideas about public behavior and relationships Sailortown myths persisted far into the twentieth century to the detriment of older waterfront districts and their residents and readers will find this book is invaluable in casting new light on forgotten communities whose lives bridged urban maritime and global histories
