The Education of a Christian Woman Juan Luis Vives,2007-11-01 From meetings and conversation with men love affairs arise In the midst of pleasures banquets dances laughter and self indulgence Venus and her son Cupid reign supreme Poor young girl if you emerge from these encounters a captive prey How much better it would have been to remain at home or to have broken a leg of the body rather than of the mind So wrote the sixteenth century Spanish humanist Juan Luis Vives in a famous work dedicated to Henry VIII s daughter Princess Mary but intended for a wider audience interested in the education of women Praised by Erasmus and Thomas More Vives advocated education for all women regardless of social class and ability From childhood through adolescence to marriage and widowhood this manual offers practical advice as well as philosophical meditation and was recognized soon after publication in 1524 as the most authoritative pronouncement on the universal education of women Arguing that women were intellectually equal if not superior to men Vives stressed intellectual companionship in marriage over procreation and moved beyond the private sphere to show how women s progress was essential for the good of society and state

Dominant Culture and the Education of Women Julia C. Paulk, 2009-05-05 Women s access to education over the centuries has been determined by many factors including class race religion and nationality Although women s experiences are marked by a rich diversity women are in many ways united by their struggle to gain access to education While previous essay collections that study this topic have tended to be more limited in scope Dominant Culture and the Education of Women addresses the educational experiences of women from the fourth to the twenty first century in Europe and the Americas Because of its inclusive nature this collection demonstrates not only that women have made great strides in education but also that certain challenges have yet to be overcome While medieval women faced cloistering and severe restrictions modern women have gained entry into previously all male universities and male dominated professions However women under totalitarian regimes or from marginalized communities continue to struggle against patriarchal conceptions of women s roles and use of the tools of literacy This volume will appeal to all who seek new insights into the many subjects related to female education including women s studies education comparative cultural and literary studies and history

The Social Imagination of the Romantic Wife in Literature Linda L. Reesman, 2024-11-22 The emergence of social change in the daily lives of English society appeared most noticeably through the Romantic era response of human emotions to a period of reason that has defined the era of Enlightenment scientifically and philosophically Remarkably the dramatic political shift that occurred in 1789 from a French monarchy to a constitutional democracy foreshadowed social changes to the family unit that were more slowly evolving throughout England during the eighteenth century An intellectual movement to educate all members of society strengthened efforts to loosen ecclesiastical control allowing more secular definitions of social roles to emerge The nature of marriage during this period in England is central to understanding how the marriage covenant became a widely accepted civil contract Examining the sentiments of passion and virtue the dynamics of traditional marriage emerge through newly established perspectives The role of the wife as a Romantic era concept tells the story of two women through their married lives and literary identities The social imagination provides a new perspective on domestic concerns to illuminate a feminine aspect of the literary market through an understanding of the ordinary wife among female writers Moreover a specific focus on marriage virtue and friendship as seen through two relationships examines individuals who define both a traditional and a non conforming approach to their domestic lives Two husbands who were political and religious activists with wives who were atypical domestics were chosen to exemplify the effects of social change on their particular lives and marital roles in an expanding literary world Transactions National association for the promotion of social science, 1866
