D.H. Lawrence and Italian Futurism Andrew Harrison, 2003 The significance of D H Lawrence s reading of two Italian Futurist volumes in the summer of 1914 is widely acknowledged but the nature of its significance has not been more closely examined nor traced through his major fictional and discursive writings of the Great War and its aftermath D H Lawrence and Italian Futurism addresses the oversight firstly by examining the context to Lawrence s now famous June 1914 letters concerning Futurism secondly by placing Futurism and Lawrence s interest in Futurism in the light of the movement s intellectual indebtedness to nineteenth century Naturalism and thirdly by providing new readings of The Rainbow Women in Love and Studies in Classic American Literature which draw on these contextual materials The book s form will make it attractive to scholars and students of European modernism as well as to those interested in the works of D H Lawrence

Rebel Women Jane Eldridge Miller, 1997-03-15 With the rise of women s suffrage challenges to marriage and divorce laws and expanding opportunities for education and employment for women the early years of the twentieth century were a time of social revolution Examining British novels written in 1890 1914 Jane Eldridge Miller demonstrates how these social legal and economic changes rendered the traditional narratives of romantic desire and marital closure inadequate forcing Edwardian novelists to counter the limitations and ideological implications of those narratives with innovative strategies The original and provocative novels that resulted depict the experiences of modern women with unprecedented variety specificity and frankness Rebel Women is a major re evaluation of Edwardian fiction and a significant contribution to literary history and criticism Miller s is the best account we have not only of Edwardian women novelists but of early 20th century women novelists the measure of her achievement is that the distinction no longer seems workable David Trotter The London Review of Books The Cambridge Companion to European Novelists Michael Bell, 2012-06-14 A survey of 25 major European novelists from Cervantes to Kundera highlighting their contributions to the genre The Columbia History of the British Novel John Richetti, John Bender, Deirdre David, Michael Seidel, 1994-05-19 Booklist Dostoevsky and English Modernism 1900-1930 Peter Kaye, 1999-05-06 When Constance Garnett's translations 1910-20 made Dostoevsky's novels accessible in England for the first time they introduced a disruptive and liberating literary force and English novelists had to confront a new model and rival The writers who are the focus of this study Lawrence Woolf Bennett Conrad Forster Galsworthy and James either admired or feared Dostoevsky as a monster who might dissolve all literary and cultural distinctions Though their responses differed greatly these writers were unanimous in their inability to recognize Dostoevsky as a literary artist They viewed him instead as a psychologist a mystic a prophet and in the cases of Lawrence and Conrad a hated rival who compelled creative response This study constructs a map of English modernist novelists' misreadings of Dostoevsky and in so doing it illuminates their aesthetic and cultural values and the nature of the modern English novel An Introduction to Ford Madox Ford Ashley Chantler, Rob Hawkes, 2016-05-23 For students and readers new to the work of Ford Madox Ford this volume provides a comprehensive introduction to one of the most complex important and fascinating authors Bringing together leading Ford scholars the volume places Ford's work in the context of significant literary artistic and historical events and movements Individual essays consider Ford's theory of literary Impressionism and the impact of the First World War illuminate The Good Soldier and Parade's End engage with topics such as the city gender national identity and politics discuss Ford as an autobiographer poet propagandist sociologist Edwardian and modernist and show his importance as founding editor of the groundbreaking English Review and transatlantic review The volume encourages detailed close reading of Ford's writing and illustrates the importance of engaging with secondary sources Law, Literature, and the Transmission of Culture in England, 1837-1925 Cathrine O. Frank, 2016-12-05 Focusing on the last will and testament as a legal literary and cultural document Cathrine O. Frank examines fiction of the Victorian and Edwardian eras alongside actual wills legal manuals relating to their creation case law regarding their administration and contemporary accounts of curious wills in periodicals Her study begins with the Wills Act of 1837 and poses two basic questions What picture of Victorian culture and personal subjectivity emerges from competing legal and literary narratives about the will and how does the shift from realist to modernist representations of the will accentuate a growing divergence between law and literature Frank's examination of works by Emily Brontë George Eliot Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins Anthony Trollope Samuel Butler Arnold Bennett John Galsworthy and E. M. Forster reveals the shared rhetorical and cultural significance of the will in law and literature while also highlighting the competition between these discourses to structure a social order that emphasized self-determinism yet viewed individuals in relationship to the broader community Her study contributes to our knowledge of the cultural significance of Victorian wills and creates intellectual bridges between the Victorian and Edwardian periods that will interest scholars from a variety of disciplines who are concerned with the law's literature and history of the nineteenth and

PHILOLOGY, CONCEPTS OF EUROPEAN LITERATURE Andreas Sofroniou, 2013-07-17 The Birth of Liberal Guilt in the English Novel Daniel Born, 1995 Daniel Born explores the concept of liberal guilt as it first developed in British political and literary culture between the late Romantic period and World War I Disturbed by the twin spectacle of urban poverty at home and imperialism abroad major novel The Nation and Athenæum, 1910 The French Face of Joseph Conrad Yves Hervouet, 1990-11-30 A large scale account of Conrad s extensive involvement with the French literary tradition Yves Hervouet s book is a milestone in our understanding of his work It will have a major impact on Conrad scholarship and as a study of cross cultural influence it will be of interest to all students of comparative literature in the period How to Study an E. M. Forster Novel Nigel Messenger, 1991-11-11 Forster s novels have always given great pleasure to the general reader but they do present particular problems for those who wish to study them in a more systematic way The elusiveness of Forster s irony the complexity of his symbolism and the formal ambiguities in structure that are such a marked feature in all his novels make any analysis surprisingly challenging In this book Nigel Messenger shows you how to set about this task

Virginia Woolf John Mepham, 2016-07-27 In Virginia Woolf s life writing was the activity that mattered more than anything else she would not have survived without it She was her own publisher and had an unusual degree of control over her own work This enabled her to pursue a career of extraordinary experimentation and inventiveness It has never been sufficiently stressed that every one of her books was quite different in technique from every other John Mepham argues that she never settled on one way of writing because she never settled on one view of life Her purposes as a writer constantly changed Mepham tells the story of her career as a series of choices and experiments always grounded in specific historical contexts Family Matters in the British and American Novel Andrea O'Reilly Herrera, Elizabeth Mahn Nollen, 1997 Family Matters in the British and American Novel examines the literature that challenges and alters widely held assumptions about the form of the family familial authority patterns and the function of courtship marriage and family life from the late eighteenth century to the present day Modernity, Modernism, Postmodernism Terry Eagleton, 2000 Regenerating the Novel James J. Miracky, 2013-09-13 In this exploration of the most innovative and iconoclastic modernist fiction James J Miracky studies the ways in which cultural forces and discourses of gender inflect the practice and theory of four British novelists Virginia Woolf E M Forster May Sinclair and D H Lawrence Building on analyses of gender theory and formal innovation in Virginia Woolf s novels this book examines Forster s queered use of fantasy Sinclair s representation of manly genius in both male and female streams of consciousness and Lawrence s quest for the novel of phallic consciousness

Reading each author's fiction alongside his or her theoretical writing Miracky provides four diverse examples of how literary modernism wrestled with the gender crisis of the early twentieth century

Katherine Mansfield and the Bloomsbury Group Todd Martin, 2017-06-01 The New Zealand born writer Katherine Mansfield associated intimately with many members of the Bloomsbury group but her literary aesthetics placed her at a distance from the artistic works of the group With chapters written by leading international scholars Katherine Mansfield and the Bloomsbury Group explores this conflicted relationship Bringing together biographical and critical studies the book examines Mansfield's relationships personal and literary with such major Modernist figures as Virginia Woolf T S Eliot Aldous Huxley and Walter de la Mare as well as the ways in which her work engaged with and reacted against Bloomsbury In this way the book reveals the true extent of Mansfield's wider influence on 20th century modernist writing
