The End Of Art Theory Criticism And Postmodernity:

The End of Art Theory Victor Burgin, Art theory understood as those forms of aesthetics art history and criticism which began in the Enlightenment and culminated in high modernism is now at an end These essays examining the interdependencies of advertising film painting and photography constitute a call for a new art theory a practice of writing whose end is to contribute to a general theory of representations an understanding of the modes and means of symbolic articulation of our forms of sociality and subjectivity The End of Art Theory Victor Burgin,1986-05-02 Art theory understood as those forms of aesthetics art history and criticism which began in the Enlightenment and culminated in high modernism is now at an end These essays examining the interdependencies of advertising film painting and photography constitute a call for a new art theory a practice of writing whose end is to contribute to a general theory of representations an understanding of the modes and means of symbolic articulation of our forms of sociality and subjectivity Criticism, Art and Theory in 1970s Britain JJ Charlesworth,2024-03-12 A critical study of the life of art criticism in the 1970s this volume traces the evolution of art and art criticism in a pivotal period in post war British history JJ Charlesworth explores how art critics and the art press attempted to negotiate new developments in art faced with the challenges of conceptualism alternative media new social movements and radical innovations in philosophy and theory This is the first comprehensive study of the art press and art criticism in Britain during this pivotal period seen through the lens of its art press charting the arguments and ideas that would come to shape contemporary art as we know it today This book will be of interest to scholars working in art history British cultural history and history of journalism Design Studies Audrey Bennett,2006-08-31 In an age of globalization and connectivity the idea of mainstream culture has become quaint Websites magazines books and television have all honed in on ever diversifying subcultures hoping to carve out niche audiences that grow savvier and more narrowly sliced by the day Consequently the discipline of graphic design has undergone a sea change Where visual communication was once informed by a designer s creative intuition the proliferation of specialized audiences now calls for more research based design processes Designers who ignore research run the risk of becoming mere tools for communication rather than bold voices Design Studies a collection of 27 essays from an international cast of top design researchers sets out to mend this schism between research and practice The texts presented here make a strong argument for performing rigorous experimentation and analysis Each author outlines methods in which research has aided their designwhether by investigating how senior citizens react to design aesthetics how hip hop culture can influence design or how design for Third World nations is affected by cultural differences Contributors also outline inspired ways in which design educators can teach research methods to their students Finally Design Studies is rounded out by five annotated bibliographies to further aid designers in their research This comprehensive reader is the definitive reference for this new direction in graphic design and an essential resource for both students and practitioners Differences that Matter Sara

Ahmed,1998-11-26 Differences That Matter challenges existing ways of theorising the relationship between feminism and postmodernism which ask is or should feminism be modern or postmodern Sara Ahmed suggests that postmodernism has been allowed to dictate feminist debates and calls instead for feminist theorists to speak back to postmodernism rather than simply speak on their relationship to it Such a speaking back involves a refusal to position postmodernism as a generalisable condition of the world and requires closer readings of what postmodernism is actually doing in a variety of disciplinary contexts Sara Ahmed hence examines constructions of postmodernism in relation to rights ethics subjectivity authorship meta fiction and film

Rectanus,2002 Psychical Realism Alexander Streitberger,2020-10-20 Comprehensive overview of a highly influential contemporary artist s work Victor Burgin counts among the most versatile figures within art and visual culture since the late 1960s His artwork both connects with and reacts to minimalism conceptual art staged photography appropriation art video art and more recently computer based imaging As a scholar his thinking is informed by phenomenology semiotics poststructuralism feminist theory and psychoanalysis This monograph provides a comprehensive and unique overview of Victor Burgin s body of work over the past five decades Identifying the concept of psychical realism as an overarching umbrella term Alexander Streitberger traces back the artist s parallel unfolding of practice and theory while situating this process within various historical contexts and critical debates Five chapters link insightful case studies to key issues such as conceptual art and situational aesthetics the relationship between representation and politics postmodernist concepts of space and the digital environment of media images The book is richly illustrated and includes a sequence from the major work Dear Urania 2016 especially designed by the artist for this book Twentieth-century American Art Erika Doss,2002 Offers an overview of twentieth century American art exploring the relationships between American art museums and audiences in the era Feeling Film: Affect and Authenticity in Popular Cinema Greg Singh,2014-01-21 Cinema has the capacity to enflame our passions to arouse our pity to inspire our love Feeling Film is a book that examines the emotional encounters found in contemporary popular cinema cultures Examining melodrama film noir comic book franchises cult indie movies and romantic comedy within the context of a Jungian informed psychology and contemporary movements in film philosophy this book considers the various kinds of feelings engendered by our everyday engagements with cinema Greg Singh questions the popular idea of what cinema is and considers what happens during the anticipation and act of watching a movie through to the act of sharing our feelings about them the reviewing process and repeat viewing practices Feeling Film does this through a critique of purely textual approaches instead offering a model which emphasises lived warm embodied and inhabited psychological relationships between the viewer and the viewed It extends the narrative action of cinema beyond the duration of the screening into realms of anticipation and afterlife in particular providing insight into the tertiary and participatory practices afforded through rich media engagement In rethinking the everyday co productive relationship between viewer and viewed from this perspective Feeling Film reinstates the importance of feelings as a central concern for film theory What emerges from this study is a re engagement of the place of emotion affect and feeling in film theory and criticism In reconsidering the duration of the cinematic encounter Feeling Film makes a significant contribution to the understanding of the inter subjective relationship between viewer and viewed It takes post Jungian criticism into the realms of post cinema technologies and reignites the dialogue between depth psychology and the study of images as they appear to and for us This book will make essential reading for those interested in the relationship between film and aspects of depth psychology film and philosophy students at advanced undergraduate and postgraduate levels film and cinema academics and cinephiles

Art Practice in a Digital Culture Hazel Gardiner, Charlie Gere, 2016-04-15 Much as art history is in the process of being transformed by new information communication technologies often in ways that are either disavowed or resisted art practice is also being changed by those same technologies One of the most obvious symptoms of this change is the increasing numbers of artists working in universities and having their work facilitated and supported by the funding and infrastructural resources that such institutions offer This new paradigm of art as research is likely to have a profound effect on how we understand the role of the artist and of art practice in society In this unique book artists art historians art theorists and curators of new media reflect on the idea of art as research and how it has changed practice Intrinsic to the volume is an investigation of the advances in creative practice made possible via artists engaging directly with technology or via collaborative partnerships between practitioners and technological experts ranging through a broad spectrum of advanced methods from robotics through rapid prototyping to the biological sciences

Vision and Textuality Stephen W. Melville, Bill Readings, 1995 The influence of contemporary literary theory on art history is increasingly evident but there is little or no agreement about the nature and consequence of this new intersection of the visual and the textual Vision and Textuality brings together essays by many of the most influential scholars in the field both young and more established writers from the United States England and France to address the emergent terms and practices of contemporary art history With essays by Rosalind Krauss Hal Foster Norman Bryson Victor Burgin Martin Jay Louis Marin Thomas Crow Griselda Pollock and others the volume is organized into sections devoted to the discipline of art history the implications of semiotics the new cultural history of art and the impact of psychoanalysis The works discussed in these essays range from Rembrandt's Danae to Jorge Immendorf's Caf Deutschland from Vauxhall Gardens to Max Ernst and from the Imagines of Philostratus to William Godwin's novel Caleb Williams Each section is preceded by a short introduction that offers further contexts for considering the essays that follow while the editors general introduction presents an overall exploration of the relation between vision and textuality in a variety of both institutional and theoretical contexts Among other issues it examines the relevance of aesthetics the current concern with modernism and postmodernism and the possible development of new disciplinary formations in the humanities

Visualizing Feeling Susan Best, 2011-06-30 Is late modern art anti aesthetic What does it mean to label a piece of art affectless These traditional characterisations of 1960s and 1970s art are radically challenged in this subversive art history By introducing feeling to the analysis of this period Susan Best acknowledges the radical and exploratory nature of art in late modernism Her book focuses on four highly influential female artists Eva Hesse Lygia Clark Ana Mendieta and Theresa Hak Kyung Cha and it explores how their art transformed established avant garde protocols by introducing an affective dimension This aspect of their work while often noted has never before been analysed in detail Visualizing Feeling also addresses a methodological blind spot in art history the interpretation of feeling emotion and affect It demonstrates that the affective dimension alongside other materials and methods of art is part of the artistic means of production and innovation This is the first thorough re appraisal of aesthetic engagement with affect in post 1960s art The book also extends and enlarges the applications of psychoanalytic theory to art history Susan Best draws on a rich array of psychologists and psychoanalytic thinkers such as Andr Green Sarah Kofman Melanie Klein Donald Winnicott Ignacio Matte Blanco Silvan Tomkins and Daniel Stern In addition key aesthetic ideas and concepts are interrogated including expressive theories of art beauty and the sublime and embodied responses to art By creatively re evaluating late modern art Susan Best offers a new way of thinking about subjectivity and feeling which acknowledges and celebrates the achievements of the feminine avant garde
