Explorers and Colonies David B. Quinn,1990-01-01 This book brings together a collection of the work of David Quinn the preeminent authority on the early history of the discovery and colonization of America Voyages from Montreal

Through the Continent of North America Alexander Mackenzie,2023-12-21 In Voyages from Montreal Through the Continent of North America Alexander Mackenzie offers an adventurous chronicle of his journeys across the vast North American interior during the late 18th century His narrative is characterized by meticulous detail and a sense of exploration reflecting the Enlightenment s thirst for knowledge and understanding of the natural world Mackenzie s prose blends personal reflection with geographic observation providing insight into the indigenous cultures he encountered the ecological diversity of the landscape and the logistical challenges of early exploration This work stands as a crucial piece of early Canadian literature highlighting the intersection of European exploration and Indigenous history in a rapidly evolving landscape Mackenzie a Scottish fur trader turned explorer was driven by both commercial ambition and a desire to chart unknown territories The challenges he faced while navigating uncharted waters and forging relationships with Native American tribes significantly influenced his narrative style enabling him to document not only the geography but also the human experiences that shaped his journey His pioneering efforts made him the first recorded person to cross North America and reach the Pacific Ocean overland I highly recommend Voyages from Montreal to readers interested in the intersection of colonial history adventure and environmental exploration Mackenzie s work provides not only a vivid depiction of 18th century North America but also serves as a vital textual artifact for understanding the complexities of cross cultural encounters during a transformative period in North American history The Harvard Classics: Voyages and travels; ancient and modern Charles William Eliot, 1910 V 49 Epic and saga Voyages and Colonising Enterprises of Sir Humphrey Gilbert, 1940 Voyages and Travels Ancient and Modern Charles W. Eliot, 2006-01-01 Of public diversions they have but one sort and in all their meetings the same is still exhibited Young men such as make it their pastime fling themselves naked and dance amongst sharp swords and the deadly points of javelins From habit they acquire their skill and from their skill a graceful manner yet from hence drawn no gain or hire though this adventurous gaiety has its reward namely that of pleasing the spectators from Germany by Tacitus The preeminent American educator of the 19th century CHARLES WILLIAM ELIOT 1834 1926 believed that a sound liberal education could be achieved not through textbooks but by exploring firsthand the great books and great ideas of Western civilization Eliot knew a good education when he saw one during his time as president of Harvard University from 1869 till 1909 he transformed the school from a regional college to the preeminent educational institution in the United States In this 1909 collection part of his 50 volume Harvard Classics his dream library at the foundation of enlightened scholarship Eliot gathers essential writings of ethnography and exploration In their own voices hear Herodotus the father of story tellers on the gods of ancient Egypt Tacitus in the front rank of ancient historians on the Teutonic tribes of the Roman era Sir Francis Drake the greatest of the naval adventurers of England of the time of Elizabeth relates his historic 16th century journey around the Straits of Magellan Sir Walter Raleigh courtier and statesman soldier and sailor scientist and man of letters tells of his 1594 discovery of Guiana and others Voyages and Colonising Enterprises of Sir Humphrey Gilbert David B.
