A Smaller Classical Dictionary. (Edited by E.H. Blakeney.). Sir William Smith, 1934 The Bookman's Manual Bessie Graham, 1928 Bookman's Manual Bessie Graham, 1921 Reader's Adviser and Bookman's Manual, 1921
Catalog of Library Books for Elementary Schools Tennessee Book Company, 1920 List of Books for High School Libraries Including Handbook of School Library Practice Ohio State Library, 1925 Books and Libraries John Adams Lowe, 1916 James Merrill, Postmodern Magus Evans Lansing Smith, 2008-09

One of the unique voices in our century James Merrill was known for his mastery of prosody his ability to write books that were not just collected poems but unified works in which each individual poem contributed to the whole and his astonishing evolution from the formalist lyric tradition that influenced his early work to the spiritual epics of his later career Merrill's accomplishments were recognized with a Pulitzer Prize in 1977 for Divine Comedies and a National Book Critics Circle Award in 1983 for The Changing Light at Sandover. In this meticulously researched carefully argued work Evans Lansing Smith argues that the nekyia the circular Homeric narrative describing the descent into the underworld and reemergence in the same or similar place confers shape and significance upon the entirety of James Merrill's poetry. Smith illustrates how pervasive this myth is in Merrill's work not just in The Changing Light at Sandover where it naturally serves as the central premise of the entire trilogy but in all of the poet's books before and after that central text. By focusing on the details of versification and prosody Smith demonstrates the ingenious fusion of form and content that distinguishes Merrill as a poet. Moving beyond purely literary interpretations of the poetry Smith illuminates the numerous allusions to music art theology philosophy religion and mythology found throughout Merrill's work.

Laboratory Manual of English Composition Stanley Reginald Oldham, 1920 Robert Smithson Ann Reynolds, 2004-10-01

An examination of the interplay between cultural context and artistic practice in the work of Robert Smithson. Robert Smithson 1938-1973 produced his best known work during the 1960s and early 1970s a period in which the boundaries of the art world and the objectives of art making were questioned perhaps more consistently and thoroughly than any time before or since. In Robert Smithson Ann Reynolds elucidates the complexity of Smithson's work and thought by placing them in their historical context a context greatly enhanced by the vast archival materials that Smithson's widow Nancy Holt donated to the Archives of American Art in 1987. The archive provides Reynolds with the remnants of Smithson's working life: magazines postcards from other artists notebooks and perhaps most important his library from which she reconstructs the physical and conceptual world that Smithson inhabited. Reynolds explores the relation of Smithson's art making thinking about art making writing and interaction with other artists to the articulated ideology and discreet assumptions that determined the parameters of artistic practice of the time. A central focus of Reynolds's analysis is Smithson's fascination with the blind spots at the center of established ways of seeing and thinking about culture. For Smithson New Jersey was such a blind spot and he returned there again and again alone and with fellow artists to make art that through its location alone undermined assumptions about what and more important where art should be For those who guarded the integrity of the established art world New Jersey was elsewhere but for Smithsonian elsewheres were the defining if often forgotten locations on the map of contemporary culture Library Manual for High Schools Indiana.
