

A blurry, artistic photograph of rain falling on a dark surface. The rain is captured as numerous white streaks and droplets against a dark, textured background. In the upper right, there is a bright, out-of-focus light source, possibly a window or a lamp, which creates a soft glow and highlights the falling rain. The overall mood is serene and atmospheric.

Your Nose Knows James Knox Millen, 2000-10 WE HOLD That the real division and conflict in man's mind is between his primitive still paramount animal brain now as ab initio under smell dominance and his lately acquired super imposed consciousness under eye and ear control That there are no physical signs of degeneracy in the nose nosebrain apparatus It can and unceasingly does receive incredibly faint intero and exteroceptive smell messages for the most part subconsciously That the mystery of why a specific odor affects different persons differently and the same person differently at different times can be explained by the realization that man's animal brain is concerned solely with the organism's own condition welfare needs that it is continually advised thereof by exhaled air and blood borne messages and that no external odor stimulus is ever received except in fusion with and hence altered by these varying inward messages AND OUR HYPOTHESIS IS 1 Sleeping or awake man has a functioning sense of smell acted upon by combinations always of objective and subjective odors 2 Smell messages consciously tabooed are subconsciously accepted 3 The total of these acceptances past and present is the Subconscious And principally 4 The automatic actions of the body are smell responses Oneota Flow David S.

American Indian Literature, Environmental Justice, and Ecocriticism Joni Adamson, 2001-01-01 Although much contemporary American Indian literature examines the relationship between humans and the land most Native authors do not set their work in the pristine wilderness celebrated by mainstream nature writers Instead they focus on settings such as reservations open pit mines and contested borderlands Drawing on her own teaching experience among Native Americans and on lessons learned from such recent scenes of confrontation as Chiapas and Black Mesa Joni Adamson explores why what counts as nature is often very different for multicultural writers and activist groups than it is for mainstream environmentalists This powerful book is one of the first to examine the intersections between literature and the environment from the perspective of the oppressions of race class gender and nature and the first to review American Indian literature from the standpoint of environmental justice and ecocriticism By examining such texts as Sherman Alexie s short stories and Leslie Marmon Silko s novel Almanac of the Dead Adamson contends that these works in addition to being literary are examples of ecological criticism that expand Euro American concepts of nature and place Adamson shows that when we begin exploring the differences that shape diverse cultural and literary representations of nature we discover the challenge they present to mainstream American culture environmentalism and literature By comparing the work of Native authors such as Simon Ortiz with that of environmental writers such as Edward Abbey she reveals opportunities for more multicultural conceptions of nature and the environment More than a work of literary criticism this is a book about the search to find ways to understand our cultural and historical differences and similarities in order to arrive at a better agreement of what the human role in nature is and should be It exposes the blind spots in early ecocriticism and shows the possibilities for building common ground a middle place where writers scholars teachers and environmentalists might come together to work for social and environmental change Of Great and Hidden Things Joan Walsh,2025-01-22 The last book in the Beast Tale quintet It is the time of the five kings the prophets and the rebuilding of the temple which were prophesized in the Book from the beginning The Lamsi s have thought to change times and laws they seek to fulfil the Naroc s prophecy above those in the Beast Tale Scrolls and come against the animals of the Wilds and all who believe in the Great Wolf The world is in ruins It has lost its sense of balance The falling away is come and the giant scorpion locusts Mountains disappear from the landscape and the water is almost gone The animals of the Wilds are outnumbered more than a thousand to one by the foreign armies of the earth as they flee to the place of the last battle Even Warrior has switched allegiances again Faith is tested Fated to the Werewolf King Brittany Heiden, Lily Thornstun a 24 year writer who escaped from a toxic and abusive relationship to a Werewolf Community where she meets Jayce Ryder the 29 year Werewolf King and her new roommate While taking therapy to bounce back from her traumatic experience from her previous relationship a bond begins to form between them as the Mate bond soul links the pair Between the fear of her past coming back to hunt her and the overwhelming heat building up between them Lily and Jayce face off against the obstacles that puts their love to the test in order to achieve their happy ending THE VILLAGER ,1923 The Secret of Meadowbrook Orphanage DC Johnson,Ron Rowan,2012-05-08 It is said that love is the greatest gift of all but in reality there are two greatest gifts One is love that much we already know to be true However the second greatest gift is that of being a child for it is only as a child that one knows how to truly believe And it is this simple act of believing that has its own special kind of magic as you will see in this story When a child believes there is an energy that feeds everything and everyone around them It feeds even those magical beings who most adults can no longer see nor will they ever see again because they no longer know how to see that which they stopped believing in Sadly enough there are even some children who stop believing Sometimes it takes the energy of other children to awaken their beliefs again and that is also the case in this story So I invite you to reconnect to the magic that each of us once had the magic that children always hold and the magic that will bring you to a place where everything is possible All you have to do is believe
