Johnson's development The book illuminates the progression of Johnson's aesthetics as he deals with the at times disturbing contrast between the hope offered by art and spirituality and the harsh realities of African American existence As he situates Johnson within the tradition of African American literature Little pairs each of his novels with a major precursor including novels by Richard Wright and Ralph Ellison and such far ranging sources as Hermann Hesse's Siddhartha and the Ten Oxherding Pictures These comparisons help to show Johnson's innovations within the African American literary tradition and include discussions of naturalism realism and modernism This book will appeal to anyone interested in African American literature spirituality aesthetics and the culture wars African American Review, 1996 Magic Tales and Fairy Tale
