Herrstrom,2017-09-26 This book is an interdisciplinary synthesis and interpretation about the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from Paleolithic to Roman times Humanistic in spirit and in its handling of facts it marshals a substantial body of scholarship to develop an explication of light as a central even dramatic reality of human existence and experience in diverse cultural settings David S Herrstrom underscores our intimacy with light not only its constant presence in our life but its insinuating character Focusing on our encounters with light and ways of making sense of these this book is concerned with the personal and cultural impact of light exploring our resistance to and acceptance of light Its approach is unique The book s true subject is the individual s relationship with light rather than the investigation of light s essential nature It tells the story of light seducing individuals down through the ages Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions to it as reflected in art Paleolithic through Roman architecture Egyptian Grecian Roman mythology and religion Paleolithic Egyptian and literature e g Akhenaten Plato Aeschylus Lucretius John the Evangelist Plotinus and Augustine This book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light s character No individual experience of light is truer than any other none improves on any previous experience of light s tidal pull on us And the wondrous variety of these encounters has yielded a richly layered tapestry of human experience By its broad scope and interdisciplinary approach this pioneering book is without precedent Actium and Augustus Robert Alan Gurval,1998 What does it feel like when brother fights brother The Etruscans in the Modern Imagination Sam Solecki,2022-10-21 The Etruscans a revenant and unusual people had an Italian empire before the Greeks and Romans did By the start of the Christian era their wooden temples and writings had vanished the Romans and the early church had melted their bronze statues and the people had assimilated After the last Etruscan augur served the Romans as they fought back the Visigoths in 408 CE the civilization disappeared but for ruins tombs art and vases No other lost culture disappeared as completely and then returned to the same extent as the Etruscans Indeed no other ancient Mediterranean people was as controversial both in its time and in posterity Though the Greeks and Romans tarred them as superstitious and decadent D H Lawrence praised their way of life as offering an alternative to modernity In The Etruscans in the Modern Imagination Sam Solecki chronicles their unexpected return to intellectual and cultural history beginning with eighteenth century scholars collectors and archaeologists The resurrection of this vanished kingdom occurred with remarkable vigour in philosophy literature music history mythology and the plastic arts From Wedgwood to Picasso Proust to Lawrence Emily Dickinson to Anne Carson Solecki reads the disembodied traces of Etruscan culture for what they tell us about cultural knowledge and mindsets in different times and places for the way that ideas about the Etruscans can serve as a reflection or foil to a particular cultural moment and for the creative alchemy whereby artists turn to the past for the raw materials of contemporary creation The Etruscans are a cultural curiosity because of their disputed origin unique language and distinctive religion and customs but their destination is no less worthy of our curiosity The Etruscans in the Modern Imagination provides a fascinating meditation on cultural transmission between ancient and modern civilizations

Evolution and Empathy Milton E. Brener,2015-05-12 This book applies new scientific research in the fields of biology and genetics to an empirical study of the Greco Roman civilizations and the European Renaissance These two periods were remarkable in part because of the dominance of empathy and humanism in the philosophical thought of each era Both periods were preceded by the influx of many populations and genetic lines a circumstance this book treats as not coincidental but probably causative The author cites the expression of new genetic combinations in these periods as evidence that genetic evolution can play a large part in the development of new philosophical concepts as manifested in these two periods The author explains that humanistic traits seem to rise and fall in lockstep throughout human history directly or indirectly correlating with changing genetic underpinnings The American Miscellany ,1840 The American Miscellany of Popular Tales, Essays, Sketches of Character, Poetry, and Jeux D'esprit ,1840 Harper's Hand-book for Travelers in Europe and the East William Pembroke Fetridge,1865 The American Travellers' Guides William Pembroke Fetridge,1865 Romans in a New World David A. Lupher,2003 Explores the impact the discovery of the New World had upon Europeans perceptions of their identity and place in history
