Stafford,2022-11-08 With typical rhetorical flourish and beholden to paradox Roland Barthes defines his work on myth as an attempt to define things and yet he is known foremost for his work on language The aim of this book is to take things here as social relations objects and other human beings with which the self interacts It does so via language And language in Barthes s conception is double alienating alienated on the one side liberating inspiring on the other It is this double that we investigate in this book A spectre is haunting Barthes studies the spectre of dialectics and the spectral presence of dialectics is what we will define in this book as the Barthesian spirit in both senses of the word that is haunting his analyses and at once providing us with a double approach I have tried to define things not words Barthes 2009 131n1      The Nation and

Death in Classical Athens Emily Clifford,2025-02-12 Figuring Death in Classical Athens puts art and literature in conversation to explore how ancient Athenians grappled with the uncertainties of death How did objects and texts generate thinking about what death is and might be like Were Athenians aware of the imaginative frameworks that underpinned their thinking Did they worry not just about death but whether they could figure it out Death in the ancient world has long been a subject of interest Studies abound that examine its social and ideological dimensions funerary practices and changing attitudes and beliefs This book takes a fresh approach cutting across sub disciplines art text philosophy and so on to build a picture of how ancient art and literature got their audiences thinking thinking not just about death but about its knowability Whether in the theatre at the symposium or on the Acropolis representations of death challenged Athenians by presenting problems of exteriority how can the living know what dying might be like and particularity can one person s experience hold for another is death truly a leveller The material covered is wide ranging Unlike other studies which often focus on either art or text and on one category of objects or one literary genre the book pulls together exemplary texts and objects including Plato drinking cups Sophocles temple sculpture and Thucydides and makes each accessible to readers from multiple sub disciplines and indeed from beyond Classics It will be critical reading for those interested in ancient attitudes to death as well as those interested in cultural imagination and intellectual history As a multi media study it will appeal to those working on ancient image and text and their intersection and more broadly to those in other disciplines working on visibility medality materiality and culturally situated ideas     The Bookman's Index ,1923     The Nation and the Athenaeum ,1923
