

The background of the slide features a stack of old, worn books with yellowed pages and leather covers. A black string is tied around the spines of the books. In the foreground, there is a sepia-toned photograph with a white border, showing a dark, indistinct image. The overall lighting is soft and warm, creating a vintage atmosphere.

The Autobiography of a Slander Edna Lyall,1894      The Autobiography of A Slander Edna Lyall,2006-01-01 This autobiography by Ada Ellen Bayly gives full expression to her ideals and aim in life Most of her works were under pseudonym and in this work she defends herself and her approach A stimulating work that portrays a strong woman and her life long struggle      Autobiography of a Slander Abraham Lincoln,Edna Lyall,Camilla Hammond,2018-08-21      Autobiography of a Slander Edna Lyall,1898      The Autobiography of a Slander. [With 20 Illustrations from Drawings by L[ancelot] Speed]. Edna Lyall,1892      The Autobiography of a Slander Edna LYALL (pseud.),1887      Autobiography of a Slander (Classic Reprint) Edna Lyal,2017-12 Excerpt from Autobiography of a Slander At last the tea came up and so With that our tongues began to go Now in that house you re sure of knowing The smallest scrap of news that s going We find it there the wisest way To take some care of what we say Jane Taylor Recreation About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      The Autobiography of a Slander Edna Lyall,2019-12-05 In The Autobiography of a Slander Edna Lyall explores the corrosive effects of rumor and societal judgment through the lens of a fictional narrative intertwined with autobiographical elements The novel employs a piercing introspective literary style characterized by deeply reflective prose and rich character development set against the backdrop of the late Victorian era a period marked by strict social mores and the burgeoning struggle for individual identity Lyall deftly critiques the rigid gender roles and moral hypocrisy of her time drawing the reader into a world where the protagonist's reputation becomes a battleground for personal autonomy and societal norms Edna Lyall a trailblazing figure in the realm of women's literature emerged during an era when women's voices were often marginalized Her own experiences with societal pressures and her advocacy for women's education and rights undoubtedly influenced her narrative perspective Lyall's keen observations about the interplay of public perception and personal truth resonate throughout her work reflecting her commitment to unveiling the complexities of female existence within a patriarchal society This compelling narrative invites readers to reflect on the nature of truth and the destructive power of gossip The Autobiography of a Slander is not only an engaging read but also a profound commentary on the implications of slander in the Victorian context making it essential for anyone interested in feminist literature and the psychological underpinnings of social reputation

The Autobiography of a Slander Edna Lyall, 2021-01-05 I was born on the 2nd September 1886 in a small dull country town When I say the town was dull I mean of course that the inhabitants were unenterprising for in itself Muddleton was a picturesque place and though it laboured under the usual disadvantage of a dearth of bachelors and a superfluity of spinsters it might have been pleasant enough had it not been a favourite resort for my kith and kin My father has long enjoyed a world wide notoriety he is not however as a rule named in good society though he habitually frequents it and as I am led to believe that my autobiography will possibly be circulated by Mr Mudie and will lie about on drawing room tables I will merely mention that a most representation of my progenitor under his nom de th atre Mephistopheles may be seen now in London and I should recommend all who wish to understand his character to go to the Lyceum though between ourselves he strongly disapproves of the whole performance I was introduced into the world by an old lady named Mrs O Reilly She was a very pleasant old lady the wife of a General and one of those sociable friendly talkative people who do much to cheer their neighbours particularly in a deadly lively provincial place like Muddleton where the standard of social intercourse is not very high Mrs O Reilly had been in her day a celebrated beauty she was now grey haired and stout but still there was something impressive about her and few could resist the charm of her manner and the pleasant easy flow of her small talk Her love of gossip amounted almost to a passion and nothing came amiss to her she liked to know everything about everybody and in the main I think her interest was a kindly one though she found that a little bit of scandal every now and then added a piquant flavour to the homely fare provided by the commonplace life of the Muddletonians
