The Earthly Paradise and the Renaissance Epic A. Bartlett Giamatti, 1969

Milton and the Middle Ages John Mulryan, 1982 Refuting the view that Milton was an antimodernist the eight essays presented here approach him from the interdisciplinary perspectives of historical theological literary philosophical and pictorial concerns and illuminate the many areas in which Milton's work grew out of medieval art and culture

Milton's Ovidian Eve Mandy Green, 2016-04-22 Milton's Ovidian Eve presents a fresh and thorough exploration of the classical allusions central to understanding Paradise Lost and to understanding Eve one of Milton's most complex characters Mandy Green demonstrates how Milton appropriates narrative structures verbal echoes and literary strategies from the Metamorphoses to create a subtle and evolving portrait of Eve Each chapter examines a different aspect of Eve's mythological figurations Green traces Eve's development through multiple critical lenses influenced by theological ecocritical and feminist readings Her analysis is gracefully situated between existing Milton scholarship and close textual readings and is supported by learned references to seventeenth century writing about women the allegorical tradition of Ovidian commentary hexameter literature theological contexts and biblical iconography This detailed scholarly treatment of Eve simultaneously illuminates our understanding of the character establishes Milton's reading of Ovid as central to his poetic success and provides a candid synthesis and reconciliation of earlier interpretations

Topos in Utopia: A peregrination to early modern utopianism's space Sotirios Triantafyllos, 2021-09-07 Topos in Utopia examines early modern literary utopias and intentional communities social and cultural conception of space Starting from Thomas More's seminal work published in 1516 and covering a period of three centuries until the emergence of Enlightenment's eudaimonia this work provides a thorough yet concise examination of the way space was imagined and utilised in the early modern visions of a better society Dealing with an aspect usually ignored by the scholars of early modern utopianism this book asks us to consider if utopias imaginary lands are based not only on abstract ideas but also on concrete spaces Shedding new light on a period where reformation zeal humanism's optimism colonialism's greed and a proto scientific discourse were combined to produce a series of alternative social and political paradigms this work transports us from the shores of America to the search for the Terra Australis Incognita and the desire to find a new and better world for us

The Limits of Moralizing David Mikics, 1994 This book argues that critical tradition has obscured the mutually constitutive relation between the didactic mission of Renaissance epic and the pathos of the epic self Critics usually see Spenser and Milton either as poets dedicated to an autonomous aesthetic that dictates indulgence in pathos for its own sake or as Christian moralists who subordinate pathos to the didactic demands of society The Romantic tradition that stretches from Keats to Harold Bloom exemplifies the former option Neo Christian reader response and new historicist critics assert a contrary but similarly unbalanced view by choosing the didactic authority of social custom tradition or ideology over the pathos of subjectivity Resisting attempts to establish an absolute priority for either pathos or moralizing David Mikics looks to the debate between subjective passions and didactic imperatives as a sign of the complex relation between literary creation and social norms In a study that shies away from new historicist endorsements of the force of normative ideology as well as late Romantic celebrations of the poetic self the author finds that Spenser and Milton develop an innovative literary subjectivity under the pressure of the Reformation s moralizing aims Incorporating moral force within pathos would allow poetic passion to become a worthy and clearly justifiable public stance But Spenser and Milton in their pursuit of this rhetorical ideal find themselves acknowledging instead an enduring disjunction between affect and the discursive forms of public morality which aim to discipline or exploit it

The Literal Sense and the Gospel of John in Late Medieval Commentary and Literature Mark Hazard,2013-12-16 Focusing on the famous Medieval commentator Nicolas of Lyra and the anonymous Middle English biblical adaptation of the Gospel of John the Cursor Mundi this book examines the development of the analytical tools of biblical literary criticism showing how late Medieval commentators negotiated the paradoxical interdependence of the literal and spiritual senses as transmitted by traditional and inherited vocabularies through a focus on narrative structure Mark Hazard combines an enlightening account of the actual practice of professional commentators the history of Gospel interpretation and cultural history to reveal that remarkable shift in the treatment of the Bible that modern scholars would regard as having laid the groundwork for the historical critical methods in biblical research As such this book sheds light not only on the 14th century practice of biblical interpretation but will also be of value to those currently engaged in reading and writing about the bible

Milton's Visual Imagination Stephen B. Dobranski,2015-10-14 Milton s Visual Imagination contends that Milton enriches his biblical source text with acute and sometimes astonishing visual details Scanderbeide Margherita Sarrocchi,2007-11-01 The first historical heroic epic authored by a woman Scanderbeide recounts the exploits of fifteenth century Albanian warrior prince George Scanderbeg and his war of resistance against the Ottoman sultanate Filled with scenes of intense and suspenseful battles contrasted with romantic episodes Scanderbeide combines the action and fantasy characteristic of the genre with analysis of its characters motivations In selecting a military campaign as her material and epic poetry as her medium Margherita Sarrocchi 1560 1617 not only engages in the masculine subjects of political conflict and warfare but also tackles a genre that was until that point the sole purview of men First published posthumously in 1623 Scanderbeide reemerges here in an adroit English prose translation that maintains the suspense of the original text and gives ample context to its rich cultural implications Jerusalem Delivered (Gerusalemme liberata) Torquato Tasso, 2003-05-22 Late in the eleventh century the First Crusade culminated in the conquest of Jerusalem by Christian armies Five centuries later when Torquato Tasso began to search for a subject worthy of an epic Jerusalem was governed by a sultan Europe was in the crisis of religious division and the Crusades were a nostalgic memory Tasso turned to the First Crusade both as a subject that would test his poetic ambition and as a reflection on the quandaries of his own time He sought to create a masterpiece that would deserve comparison with the great epics of the past Gerusalemme liberata became one of the most widely read and cherished books of the Renaissance First published in 1581 it was translated into English by Edward Fairfax in 1600 That translation has been the standard even though Fairfax was only a good not a great poet Fairfax tried to fit Tasso's verse into Spenserian stanzas adding to and subtracting from the original and often changing Tasso's meaning Anthony Esolen's new translation captures the delight of Tasso's descriptions the different voices of its cast of characters the shadings between glory and tragedy and it does all this in an English as powerful and clear as Tasso's Italian Tasso's masterpiece finally emerges as an English masterpiece Dante's Reforming Mission and Women in the Comedy Diana Glenn, 2008 Offers an analysis of the presence and significance of female characters in Dante's Comedy Commencing with the tabulations of women listed in Inferno IV and Purgatorio XXII to which may be added the grouping in Paradiso XXXII this work traces the symmetry and symbolic import of these clusters Fall Narratives Zohar Hadromi-Allouche, Áine Larkin, 2016-12-01 Throughout history the motif of the Fall has impacted upon our understanding of theology and philosophy and has had an influence on everything from literature to dance Fall Narratives brings together theologians historians and artists as well as philosophers and scholars of religion and literature to explore and reflect on a wide range of concepts of the Fall Bringing a fresh understanding of the nuanced meanings of the Fall and its various manifestations over time and across space contributions reflect on the ways in which the Fall can be seen as a transition into absence how conceptions of the Fall relate to change and shape one another and how the Fall can be seen positively embracing as it does a narrative of hope Gardens and the Passion for the Infinite Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2013-06-29 What essentially is a garden Is it a small plot of land that we put aside to cultivate our favourite vegetables or to grow flowers for our personal enjoyment Or is it a symbol a mirror a reflection of our human passions Within the context of phenomenology onto-poiesis of life we find the significance of the garden inscribed within the web of the Human Condition creatively unfurling its form from the vital basis to its loftiest swings of the period The aesthetic synthesis of our passions is carried by the logos promise of life its infinite renewal and infinite response The topic of the present volume is the mysterious ways in which Imaginatio Creatrix plays within the human ingrownness in natural life transposing dreams nostalgias and enchantments Geography and Enlightenment David N. Livingstone, Charles W. J. Withers, 1999-12-15 Geography and Enlightenment explores both the Enlightenment as a geographical phenomenon and the place of geography in the Enlightenment From wide ranging disciplinary and topical perspectives contributors consider the many ways in which the world of the long eighteenth century was brought to view and shaped through map and text exploration and argument within and across spatial and intellectual borders The first set of chapters charts the intellectual and geographical contexts in which Enlightenment ideas began to form including both the sites in which knowledge was created and discussed and the different means used to investigate the globe Detailed explorations of maps created during this period show how these new ways of representing the world and its peoples influenced conceptions of the nature and progress of human societies while studies of the travels of people and ideas reveal the influence of far flung places on Enlightenment science and scientific credibility The final set of chapters emphasizes the role of particular local contexts in Enlightenment thought Contributors are Michael T Bravo Paul Carter Denis Cosgrove Stephen Daniels Matthew Edney Anne Marie Claire Godlewska Peter Gould Michael Heffernan David N Livingstone Dorinda Outram Chris Philo Roy Porter Nicolaas Rupke Susanne Seymour Charles Watkins and Charles W J Withers
