The East Is Red:

China: the East is Red George Bales, 1969 The East is Red Maslyn Williams, 1967 The East Is Black Robeson Taj Frazier, 2015-02-15 During the Cold War several prominent African American radical activist intellectuals including W E B and Shirley Graham Du Bois journalist William Worthy Marxist feminist Vicki Garvin and freedom fighters Mabel and Robert Williams traveled and lived in China There they used a variety of media to express their solidarity with Chinese communism and to redefine the relationship between Asian struggles against imperialism and black American movements against social racial and economic injustice In The East Is Black Taj Frazier examines the ways in which these figures and the Chinese government embraced the idea of shared struggle against U S policies at home and abroad He analyzes their diverse cultural output newsletters print journalism radio broadcasts political cartoons lectures and documentaries to document how they imagined communist China s role within a broader vision of a worldwide anticapitalist coalition against racism and imperialism The Politics of the Chinese Cultural Revolution Hong Yung Lee, 2024-03-29 Hong Yung Lee s account of the Cultural Revolution illuminates its complexities and subtleties to an unprecedented degree His primary concern is with the behavior of the masses once they were freed from party control and his analysis of voluminous Red Guard publications highlights the different membership characteristics positions and strategies of both the student Red Guards and the worker Revolutionary Rebels divided internally along a conservative radical line Rejecting the ideologically oriented assumption that workers and students of worker or peasant origin comprised the majority of the radical elements Lee argues that students of bourgeois and other bad origins workers in small factories sent down students and demobilized soldiers were the radicals whereas students from families with pre 1949 revolutionary careers and workers in large scale and modern enterprises were found in large numbers among the conservatives He contends that contrary to some social science theories the radicals were motivated by rational rather than ideological considerations and that they attacked the status quo because it was they who experienced discrimination under the existing political system whereas the conservatives generally belonged to favored social groups Lee demonstrates that an adequate history of the Cultural Revolution cannot restrict itself to an analysis of policy difference among the elites but must consider the behavior of the masses and their relationship with the elites Hong Yung Lee s account of the Cultural Revolution illuminates its complexities and subtleties to an unprecedented degree His primary concern is with the behavior of the masses once they were freed from party control and his analysis of voluminous Red G When The East Was Red C.K. Law and Justice Politics Art Literature and Translation Each essay builds on the legacy of Joshua Fogel whose scholarship defined the contours of the Sinosphere in the Western world and beyond The collection will be of interest to scholars and students with specific research concerns within these broader rubrics from the towering progenitors of Japanese Sinology to gendered diplomatic and cultural dimensions of Sino Japanese encounters from Sinitic poetry to legal culture and revolutionary life from art commerce and levels of literary expression to the quandaries of translation In addition to offering a broad range of case studies the volume is testimony to the methodological importance of a dynamic intra and transregional approach for an understanding of the layered history of East Asia Rhetoric of the Chinese Cultural Revolution Xing Lu,2020-08-05

A startling look at revolutionary rhetoric and its effects Now known to the Chinese as the ten years of chaos the Chinese Cultural Revolution 1966 76 brought death to thousands of Chinese and persecution to millions In Rhetoric of the Chinese Cultural Revolution Xing Lu identifies the rhetorical practices and persuasive effects of the polarizing political language and symbolic practices used by Communist Party leaders to legitimize their use of power and violence to dehumanize people identified as class enemies Lu provides close readings of the movement's primary texts political slogans official propaganda wall posters and the lyrics of mass songs and model operas She also scrutinizes such ritualistic practices as the loyalty dance denunciation rallies political study sessions and criticism and self criticism meetings Lu enriches her rhetorical analyses of these texts with her own story and that of her family as well as with interviews conducted in China and the United States with individuals who experienced the Cultural Revolution during their teenage years In her new preface Lu expresses deep concern about recent nationalism xenophobia divisiveness and violence instigated by the rhetoric of hatred and fear in the United States and across the globe She hopes that by illuminating the way language shapes perception thought and behavior this book will serve as a reminder of past mistakes so that we may avoid repeating them in the future
