The Eighth Division In War 1914-1918:

The Eighth Division in War, 1914-1918 John Herbert Boraston, Cyril E. O. Bax, 1926 The Eighth Division in War, 1914-1918... J. H. Boraston (Lt.-Colonel), Cyril E. O. Bax (Captain), 1926 The Official History of Australia in the War of 1914-1918: The Australian imperial force in France 1916, by C. E. W. Bean, 1929 The Grenadier Guards in the Great War 1914-1918 Vol 1 Sir Frederick Ponsonby, 2013-02-18

The Grenadier Guards began the war with three battalions of which only one the 2nd was committed to the BEF it was in the 4th Guards Brigade 2nd Division As soon as war was declared the 4th Reserve Battalion was formed and within five days 1 700 reservists had reported In September 1914 the 7th Division was formed and the 1st Battalion was allocated to 20th Brigade of the new division On 14th July 1915 another Grenadier battalion was formed and numbered the 4th the Reserve battalion then became the 5th A month later the 4th battalion went to France to join the newly created Guards Division and it was at this stage also that the 3rd Battalion which hitherto had been retained in London by Kitchener for some undefined reason was sent out to join the new division Thus by August 1915 there were four battalions of Grenadiers on the Western front where they remained for the rest of the war By the end the Regiment had suffered 11 915 casualties of which 203 Officers and 4 508 Other Ranks were dead seven VCs had been won and 34 Battle Honours awarded This as might be expected is a very good history with detailed descriptions of the fighting and of the conditions the men endured One sentence in particular paints a graphic picture of the state of the trenches in January 1915 The gruesome task of removing the dead was effected by floating the bodies down the communication trenches The author tells the story in chronological order vol I takes the record of the four battalions to the end of 1915 vol II to the German offensive of March 1918 and vol III to the armistice and beyond to the division's march into Germany Each volume is paginated separately with its own contents list though the chapters run consecutively through all three Each chapter covers a specific period and the chapter heading indicates which battalions are involved There are plenty of maps to support the narrative showing tactical details Among the appendices are the Roll of Honour a list of officers wounded with dates lists of Awards Mentions in Despatches and of Divisional Certificates of Gallantry and an account of the 7th Guards Entrenching Battalion There is a table naming all other ranks who were commissioned during the war showing the regiment or corps to which they went Finally there is an index to the names of officers

The 88th Division in the World War of 1914-1918, 1919 Trench Warfare 1914-1918 A.E. Ashworth, 1980-11-27 A classic of military history about the smaller personal battles of the First World War The Grenadier Guards in the Great War of 1914-1918 Vol 1, 2, 3 Frederick Ponsonby, 2021-08-30 Excerpt When the Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria was assassinated at Sarajevo in Serbia on June 28 1914 it never for a moment occurred to any one in this country that the crime could in any way affect the destinies of the First or Grenadier Regiment of Footguards No one dreamed that before another year had passed not only would the three Battalions be fighting in a European war but there would even be a 4th Battalion at the front in addition to a 5th Reserve

Battalion of almost unwieldy proportions Even when Austria began to show her teeth it still seemed an incident quite beyond our horizon If Austria and Serbia did come to blows Great Britain was not even indirectly involved and the British Army therefore remained unmoved The Balkan peoples were constantly in a state of warlike commotion but their troubles hardly affected the great British Empire The war clouds that from time to time darkened the European sky had hitherto always been dispersed More than once of late years the German Emperor had rattled his sword in the scabbard and talked or telegraphed to the very limits of indiscretion but nothing had ever come of it nor did it seem at all probable that the assassination of an Austrian Archduke could be made the pretext for a European conflagration

The Grenadier Guards in the Great War of 1914-1918 Sir Frederick Edward Grey Ponsonby, Sir Frederick Ponsonby, 1920

Nine Divisions in Champagne Patrick Takle, 2015-10-30 The book explains how the Allies after a series of swingeing defeats sank their differences and came together to turn the tide against the German Army in the Summer of 1918 Although it is a detailed history of the fighting by British divisions it also highlights the growing presence of American forces and their huge contribution to victory too often understated in earlier works The book deliberately binds together the genesis size and equipment of the British and American divisions and seeks to inter mingle the American and British campaigns of 1918 By blocking the Third German Offensive on the Chemins des Dames and then arriving in time to turn the Kaiser's army out of the Marne salient the Allied divisions cleared the way for the decisive counter offensive at Amiens Exhausted and demoralized the German Army collapsed and the outcome of The Great War was decided

Leadership In Conflict 1914-1918 Matthew Hughes, Matthew Seligmann, 1990-12-31 The First World War was a conflict in which personality and character mattered Its course and outcome were decided by determined individuals who had to make momentous decisions in very trying circumstances As battles raged on land sea and air across Europe Africa and Asia the Generals and politicians tried to steer a course to victory It was never easy and they often disagreed on the best strategy Yet men's lives depended on the outcome This collection of authoritative essays examines these disagreements portraying the decision making process on both sides in the Great War The personalities involved are now household names Haig Foch Lloyd George Woodrow Wilson and the German Kaiser William II
