The Elsewhere On Belonging At A Near Distance:

The Elsewhere Adam Zachary Newton, 2005-08-03 The Elsewhere Or midbar biblical Hebrew for both wilderness and speech A place of possession and dispossession loss and nostalgia But also a place that speaks Ingeniously using a Talmudic interpretive formula about the disposition of boundaries Newton explores narratives of place flight border and beyond The writers of The Elsewhere are a disparate company of twentieth century memoirists and fabulists from the Levant Palestine Israel Egypt and East Central Europe Together their texts cunningly paired so as to speak to one another in mutually revelatory ways narrate the paradox of the near distance Bruno Schulz and Galician Jewish Modernity Karen

Underhill, 2024-06-25 In the 1930s through the prose of Bruno Schulz 1892 1942 the Polish language became the linguistic raw material for a profound exploration of the modern Jewish experience Rather than turning away from the language like many of his Galician Jewish colleagues who would choose to write in Yiddish Schulz used the Polish language to explore his own and his generation s relationship to East European Jewish exegetical tradition and to deepen his reflection on golus or exile as a condition not only of the individual and of the Jewish community but of language itself and of matter Drawing on new archival discoveries this study explores Schulz s diasporic Jewish modernism as an example of the creative and also transient poetic forms that emerged on formerly Habsburg territory at the historical juncture between empire and nation state Place and Ideology in Contemporary Hebrew Literature Karen Grumberg, 2012-01-05 John Brinckerhoff

Jackson theorized the vernacular landscape as one that reflects a way of life guided by tradition and custom distanced from the larger world of politics and law This quotidian space is shaped by the everyday culture of its inhabitants In Place and Ideology in Contemporary Hebrew Literature Grumberg sets anchor in this and other contemporary theories of space and place then embarks on subtle close readings of recent Israeli fiction that demonstrate how literature in practice can complicate those discourses Literature in Israel over the past twenty five years tends to be set in ordinary spaces rather than in explicitly ideologically charged locations such as contested borders and debated territories Rarely taking place in settings of war and political violence it depicts characters encounters with everyday places such as buses and caf s as central to their self conception Yet in academic discussions the imaginative representations of these sites tend to be neglected in favor of spaces more overtly relevant to religious and political debates To fill this gap Grumberg proposes a new understanding of how Israeli identity is mapped onto the spaces it inhabits She demonstrates that in the writing of many Israeli novelists even mundane sites often have significant ideological implications Exploring a wide range of authors from Amos Oz to Orly Castel Bloom Grumberg argues that literary depictions of vernacular places play a profound and often unidentified role in serving or resisting ideology The 'Second World' in Contemporary British Writing Katrin Berndt, Andrew Wells, 2024-08-12

The thirteen contributions to this collection all explore or exemplify the ongoing British interest in the socialist world before 1990 In autobiography fiction film history and lexicography these chapters show how contemporary Britain is engaging with the past project to build socialism in Europe and what this means for the present and the future of our continent Contributions come from a wide range of disciplinary and geographical backgrounds and the volume is further enriched by a short story especially written for this book and by an in depth interview with the author of a recent popular history of the GDR Together these chapters offer a unique perspective into contemporary British writing on the second world and the enduring fascination with the failures of futures past

Ethics and Literary Practice Adam Zachary Newton, 2021-09-09 This volume draws together a diverse array of scholars from across the humanities to formulate and address the question of ethics and literary practice for a new decade In taking up a conjunction whose terms remain productively open to question fifteen essays survey a range of approaches and topics including genre and disciplinary rhetoric emergence theory and literary signification the ethics of alterity of attention and of aesthetics the decolonial and the paracritical neorealism and contingency analogy and affect scripture and national literature From Seamus Heaney to Hannah Arendt Teresa Brennan to Stanley Cavell Ronit Matalon to douard Glissant Uwe Timm to Katherena Vermette Notes for Echo Lake to the Gospel of St Matthew these contributions demonstrate how broadly and fruitfully ramifying its organizing inquiry can be Bringing such multifarious perspectives to the topic feels only more urgent as language meaning and expression enter the crucible of a post truth era

Eastern Europe Unmapped Irene Kacandes, Yuliya Komska, 2017-10-01 Arguably more than any other region the area known as Eastern Europe has been defined by its location on the map Yet its inhabitants from statesmen to literati and from cultural economic elites to the poorest emigrants have consistently forged or fathomed links to distant lands populations and intellectual traditions Through a series of inventive cultural and historical explorations Eastern Europe Unmapped dispenses with scholars long time preoccupation with national and regional borders instead raising provocative questions about the area s non contiguous and frequently global or extraterritorial entanglements

Western Dualism and the Regulation of Cultural Production Fiona MacMillan, 2021-08-16 This work sets out to consider the fate of creativity and forms of cultural production as they fall into and between the regimes of cultural heritage law and intellectual property law It examines and challenges the dualisms that ground both regimes exposing their unsurprising reflection of occidental ways of seeing the world The work reflects on the problem of regulating creativity and cultural production according to Western thought systems in a world that is not only Western At the same time it accepts that the challenge in taking on the dualisms that hold together the existing legal regimes regulating creativity and cultural production lies in a critically nuanced approach to the geo political distinction between the West and the rest Like many of the distinctions considered in this book this is one that holds and does not hold Ghostwriting Richard T. Gray, 2017-11-16 Ghostwriting provides the first comprehensive analysis of the fictional prose narratives of one of contemporary Germany's most recognized authors the migr writer W G Sebald Examining Sebald's well known published texts in the context of largely unknown unpublished works and informed by documents and information from Sebald's literary estate this book offers a detailed portrait of his characteristic literary techniques and how they emerged and matured out of the practices and attitudes he represented in his profession as a literary scholar The title Ghostwriting signals the convergence in Sebald's works of a set of diverse historical questions philosophical views and literary practices Many historical ghosts haunt Sebald's narratives on the level of story Moreover Sebald's narrator plays the role of a ghostwriter in the profound sense that his stories fictionally re enact the histories of obscure but once living individuals whose lives they revitalize and whose fates are tied up with the most virulent historical conjunctures of the modern world This study thus seeks to comprehend the constitutive elements of Sebald's poetics of history his implementation of literary tools for effective historical memorializing

Cosmodernism Christian Moraru, 2011 A study of the emerging cultural model of cosmodernism Transformative Fictions Daniel Just, 2022-07-27 Transformative Fictions World Literature and Personal Change engages with current debates in world literature over the past twenty years addressing the nature of literary influence in centers and peripheries the formation of transnational literary and pedagogical canons and the role of translation and regionalism in how we relate to texts from around the globe The author Daniel Just argues for a supranational but sub global perspective of regions that emphasizes practical reasons for reading and focuses on the potential of literary texts to stimulate personal transformation in readers One of the recurring dilemmas in these debates is the issue of delimitation of world literature The trouble with the world as a frame of reference is that no single researcher is bound to have the in depth knowledge and linguistic skills to discuss works from all countries In response this book revives literary theory and recasts it for the purposes of world literature by making a case for the continuing relevance of literature in the age of new media With the examples of fictional and nonfictional writings by Milan Kundera Witold Gombrowicz and Bohumil Hrabal Just shows that regional literatures offer differing methods of activating readers and thereby prompting personal change This book would be of general interest to anyone who wants to explore personal change through literature but is particularly indispensable for literary professionals researchers and postgraduate and graduate students Handbook of Narratology Peter Hühn, Jan Christoph Meister, John Pier, Wolf Schmid, 2014-10-10 This handbook provides a systematic overview of the present state of international research in narratology and is now available in a second completely revised and expanded edition Detailed individual studies by internationally renowned narratologists elucidate central terms of narratology present a critical account of the major research positions and their historical development and indicate directions for future research Race and the Modern Artist Heather Hathaway, Josef Ja^D^rab, Jeffrey Melnick, 2003-01-16 Definitions of modernism have been debated throughout the twentieth century But both during the height of the modernist era and since little to no consideration has been given to the work of minority writers as part of this movement Considering works by writers ranging from B A Botkin T S Eliot Waldo Frank and Jean Toomer to Pedro Pietri and Allen Ginsberg these essays examine the disputed relationships between modernity modernism and American cultural diversity In so doing the collection as a whole adds an important new dimension to our understanding of twentieth century literature Searching for Sebald Lise Patt, Christel Dillbohner, 2007 W G Sebald's books are sui generis hybrids of fiction travelogue autobiography and historical expos in which a narrator both Sebald and not Sebald comments on the quick blossoming of natural wonders and the long deaths that come of human atrocities All his narratives are punctuated with images murky photographs architectural plans engravings paintings newspaper clippings inserted into the prose without captions and often without obvious connection to the words that surround them This important volume includes a rare 1993 interview called But the written word is not a true document A

Conversation with W G Sebald about Photography and Literature in which Sebald talks exclusively about his use of photographs It contains some of Sebald s most illuminating and poetic remarks about the topic yet In it he discusses Barthes the photograph s appeal the childhood image of Kafka family photographs and even images he never used in his writings In addition Searching for Sebald positions Sebald within an art historical tradition that begins with the Surrealists continues through Joseph Beuys and blossoms in the recent work of Christian Boltanski and Gerhard Richter and tracks his continuing inspiration to artists such as Tacita Dean and Helen Mirra An international roster of artists and scholars unpacks the intricacies of his unique method Seventeen theoretical essays approach Sebald through the multiple filters of art history Krauss film studies Kluge cultural theory Benjamin psychoanalysis Freud and especially photographic history and theory Barthes Kracauer and 17 modern and contemporary art projects are read through a Sebaldian filter If Sebald s artistic output acts as a touchstone for new critical theory being written on post medium photographic practices Searching for Sebald suggests a model for new investigations in the burgeoning field of visual studies

To Make the Hands Impure Adam Zachary Newton,2016-01-01 How can cradling handling or rubbing a text be said ethically to have made something happen What as readers or interpreters may come off in our hands in as we maculate or mark the books we read For Adam Zachary Newton reading is anembodied practice wherein ethics becomes a matter of tact in the doubled sense of touch and regard With the image of the book lying in the hands of its readers as insistent refrain To Make the Hands Impure cuts a provocative cross disciplinary swath through classical Jewish texts modern Jewish philosophy film and performance literature translation and the material text Newton explores the ethics of reading through a range of texts from the Talmud and Midrash to Conrad's Nostromo and Pascal's Le Mémorial from works by Henry Darger and Martin Scorsese to the National September 11 Memorial and a synagogue in Havana Cuba In separate chapters he conducts masterly treatments of Emmanuel Levinas Mikhail Bakhtin and Stanley Cavell by emphasizing their performances as readers a trebled orientation to Talmud novel and theater film To Make the Hands Impure stages the encounter of literary experience and scriptural traditions the difficult and the holy through an ambitious singular and innovative approach marked in equal measure by erudition and imaginative daring Translated Memories Bettina Hofmann, Ursula Reuter, 2020-02-26 This volume engages with memory of the Holocaust as expressed in literature film and other media It focuses on the cultural memory of the second and third generations of Holocaust survivors while also taking into view those who were children during the Nazi period Language loss language acquisition and the multiple needs of translation are recurrent themes for all of the authors discussed By bringing together authors and scholars often both from different generations countries and languages and focusing on transgenerational and translational issues this book presents multiple perspectives on the subject of Holocaust memory its impact and its ongoing worldwide communication Roth after Eighty David Gooblar, Aimee Pozorski, 2016-12-15 Philip Roth scholars continue to reflect on what Philip Roth's retirement in 2012 means for the landscape of American literature and what his professed disappearance from the public eye in 2014 would mean for the future consideration of his legacy This collection seeks to answer those questions in a scholarly way Composed of eleven original essays written by accomplished scholars in the field of Philip Roth Studies the collection is both relevant and engaging on three levels it is the first of its kind to offer a scholarly retrospective of Roth's works and career it considers Roth within the American literary imagination and it speculates on Roth's legacy particularly the enduring quality of his novels that will continue to resonate long after his retirement The Object of Zionism Zvi Efrat, 2018 The Object of Zionism is a critical study of Zionist spatial planning and the architectural fabrication of the State of Israel from the early 20th century to the 1960s and 70s Zvi Efrat scrutinizes Israel as a singular modernist project unprecedented in its political and ethical circumstances and its hyper production of spatial and structural experiments Efrat explores the construction of the State of Israel in a book that promises to become a standard reference on Israeli architectural history
