The Elusive City Five Centuries Of Design Ambition And Miscalculation:

The elusive city Jonathan Barnett,1986 Housing the North American City Michael Doucet,John C.

Weaver,1991-08-06 Doucet and Weaver begin this empirical analytical and narrative study with an analysis of the evolution of land development as an enterprise and continue with an examination of house design and construction practices the development of the apartment building and an account of class and age as they relate to housing tenure They also relate developments in Hamilton to the current state of urban historiography using their case study to resolve discrepancies and contradictions in the literature Among the major themes the authors deal with is a controversial exploration of what they see as a central North American urge the desire to own a home Other themes include the social allocation of urban space the quality and affordability of housing the increased interest of large corporations in the land development and financial service industries and a comparative analysis of housing in Canada and the United States The authors have drawn on civic and business records dating from the early nineteenth century to the latest planning data Combining this information with their comprehensive analysis Doucet and Weaver show that current housing problems and potential solutions are better understood when seen as part of a historical process They provide a critical assessment of the ways in which contemporary society produces shelter and question the use of technical innovations alone to resolve housing crises Architecture of Instruction and Delight Pieter van Wesemael,2001 Urban Avant-Gardes Malcolm Miles,2004-07-31 Urban Avant Gardes presents original research on a range of recent contemporary practices in and between art and architecture giving perspectives from a wide range of disciplines in the arts humanities and social sciences that are seldom juxtaposed it questions many assumptions and accepted positions This book looks back to past avant gardes from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries examining the theoretical and critical terrain around avant garde cultural interventions and profiles a range of contemporary cases of radical cultural practices The author brings together material from a wide range of disciplines to argue for cultural intervention as a means to radical change while recognizing that most such efforts in the past have not delivered the dreams of their perpetrators Distinctive in that it places works of the imagination in the political and cultural context of environmentalism this book asks how cultural work might contribute to radical social change It is equally concerned with theory and practice part one providing a theoretical framework and part two illustrating such frameworks with examples Kenzo Tange and the Metabolist Movement Zhongjie Lin,2010-02-25 Metabolism the Japanese architectural avant garde movement of the 1960s profoundly influenced contemporary architecture and urbanism This book focuses on the Metabolists utopian concept of the city and investigates the design and political implications of their visionary planning in the postwar society At the root of the group s urban utopias was a particular biotechnical notion of the city as an organic process It stood in opposition to the Modernist view of city design and led to such radical design concepts as marine civilization and artificial terrains which embodied the metabolists ideals of social change Tracing the evolution of Metabolism from its inception at the 1960 World Design Conference to its spectacular swansong at the Osaka World Exposition in 1970 this book situates Metabolism in the context of Japan's mass urban reconstruction economic miracle and socio-political reorientation. This new study will interest architectural and urban historians, architects and all those interested in avant-garde design and Japanese architecture.

The Sustainable City VII M. Pacetti, G. Passerini, C.A. Brebbia, G. Latini, 2012-05-07. Containing research on sustainable urban redevelopment presented at the latest in a biennial series organised by the Wessex Institute of Technology, this book addresses an area of growing interest. The conference series was first held in 2000. These proceedings are split into two volumes. Urban areas produce a series of environmental challenges arising from the consumption of natural resources and the consequent generation of waste and pollution contributing to the development of social and economic imbalances. All these problems which continue to grow in our society require the development of new solutions. Topics include:

- Volume I: Urban Strategies, Eco-town Planning, Planning development and management, Planning development and management for urban conservation and regeneration, Case studies, Landscape planning and design, Environmental management, Intelligent environments and emerging technologies.
- Volume II: Sustainable energy and the city, Waterfront developments, The community and the city, Quality of life, Cultural heritage issues, Transportation, Planning for risk, Planning for risk, Transport models in emergency conditions, Industrial wastes as raw materials, Waste management, Safety and security, The city heritage.

Public Policy and Political Institutions Frank Hendriks, 1999-01-01. With this important collection, Hardy Hanappi and Wolfram Elsner have brought together an outstanding volume that is likely to have its impact on the development of evolutionary economics. Expansive in its scope, the innovative contributions range from evolutionary and institutional mechanisms, dynamic market complexity as well as ontological groundwork of the rapidly emerging new evolutionary economics science. The book will be of great interest to academics, students and researchers of evolutionary and institutional economics.

Iconic Planned Communities and the Challenge of Change Mary Corbin Sies, Isabelle Gournay, Robert Freestone, 2019-08-23. In the history of planning, the design of an entire community prior to its construction is among the oldest traditions. Iconic Planned Communities and the Challenge of Change explores the twenty-first century fortunes of planned communities around the world. Drawing on interdisciplinary perspectives, the editors and contributors examine what happened to planned communities after their glory days had passed and they became vulnerable to pressures of growth, change and even decline. Beginning with Robert Owen's industrial village in Scotland and concluding with Robert Davis's neotraditional resort haven in Florida, this book documents the effort to translate optimal design into sustaining a common life that works for changing circumstances and new generations of residents. Basing their approach on historical research and practical on-the-ground considerations, the essayists argue that preservation efforts succeed best when they build upon foundational planning principles address landscape architecture and social engineering together and respect the spirit of place Presenting twenty three case studies located in six continents each contributor considers how to preserve the spirit of the community and its key design elements and the ways in which those elements can be adapted to contemporary circumstances and changing demographics Iconic Planned Communities and the Challenge of Change espouses strategies to achieve critical resilience and emphasizes the vital connection between heritage preservation equitable sharing of the benefits of living in these carefully designed places and sustainable development Communities Bat ovany Partiz nske Cit Frug s Colonel Light Gardens Den en Ch fu Garbatella Greenbelt Hampstead Garden Suburb Jardim Am rica Letchworth Garden City Menteng New Lanark Pacaemb Radburn Riverside R merstadt Sabaudia Seaside Soweto Sunnyside Gardens Tapiola The Uplands Welwyn Garden City Wythenshawe Contributors Arnold R Alanen Carlos Roberto Monteiro de Andrade Sandra Annunziata Robert Freestone Christine Garnaut Isabelle Gournay Michael Hebbert Susan R Henderson James Hopkins Steven W Hurtt Alena Kubova Gauch Jean Fran ois Lejeune Maria Cristina a Silva Leme Larry McCann Mervyn Miller John Minnery Angel David Nieves John J Pittari Jr Gilles Ragot David Schuyler Mary Corbin Sies Christopher Silver Andr Sorensen R Bruce Stephenson Shun ichi J Watanabe

Urban Design: Ornament and Decoration Taner Oc, Steve Tiesdell, 2007-06-07 Urban Design Ornament and Decoration focuses on decorating the city and how ornament has been used to bring delight to the urban scene The authors show how the pattern and distribution of street and square and other major elements in the city can be enhanced by the judicious use of decorative surface treatment and by the careful placing of hard and soft landscape features This second edition updated by Cliff Moughtin and now available in paperback includes a new chapter on mud architecture Case studies of city decoration are also outlined to bring together the ideas discussed and to show how ornament and decoration can be used to emphasize the five components of city form the path the node the edge the landmark and the district

The Routledge Companion to Twentieth and Early Twenty-First Century Urban Design Jon Lang, 2020-11-09 The Routledge Companion to Twentieth and Early Twenty First Century Urban Design is a fully illustrated descriptive and explanatory history of the development of urban design ideas and paradigms of the past 150 years The ideas and projects hypothetical and built range in scale from the city to the urban block level The focus is on where the generic ideas originated the projects that were designed following their precepts the functions they address and or afford and what we can learn from them The morphology of a city its built environment evolves unselfconsciously as private and governmental investors self consciously erect buildings and infrastructure in a pragmatic piecemeal manner to meet their own ends Philosophers novelists architects and social scientists have produced myriad ideas about the nature of the built environment that they consider to be superior to those forms resulting from a laissez faire attitude to urban development

Rationalist theorists dream of ideal futures based on assumptions about what is good empiricists draw inspirations from what they perceive to be working well in existing situations Both groups have presented their advocacies in manifestoes and often in the form of generic solutions or illustrative designs This book traces the history of these ideas and will become a standard reference for scholars and students interested in the history of urban spaces including architects planners urban historians urban geographers and urban morphologists

Greening the City Dorothee Brantz, Sonja Dümpelmann, 2011-06-24 The modern city is not only pavement and concrete Parks gardens trees and other plants are an integral part of the urban environment Often the focal points of social movements and political interests green spaces represent far more than simply an effort to balance the man made with the natural A city's history with and approach to its parks and gardens reveals much about its workings and the forces acting upon it Our green spaces offer a unique and valuable window on the history of city life The essays in Greening the City span over a century of urban history moving from fin de siècle Sofia to green efforts in urban Seattle The authors present a wide array of cases that speak to global concerns through the local and specific with topics that include green space planning in Barcelona and Mexico City the distinction between public and private nature in Los Angeles the ecological diversity of West Berlin and the historical and cultural significance of hybrid spaces designed for sports The essays collected here will make us think differently about how we study cities as well as how we live in them Contributors Dorothee Brantz Technische Universität Berlin Peter Clark University of Helsinki Lawrence Culver Utah State University Konstanze Sylva Domhardt Swiss Federal Institute of Technology Zurich Sonja Dümpelmann University of Maryland Zachary J S Falck Independent Scholar Stefanie Hennecke Technical University Munich Sonia Hirt Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University Salla Jokela University of Helsinki Jens Lachmund Maastricht University Gary McDonogh Bryn Mawr College Jarmo Saarikivi University of Helsinki Jeffrey Craig Sanders Washington State University

The Experience of Modernism John R. Gold, 2013-12-16 Making extensive use of information gained from in depth interviews with architects active in the period between 1928-1953 the author provides a sympathetic understanding of the Modern Movement's architectural role in reshaping the fabric and structure of British metropolitan cities in the post war period and traces the links between the experience of British modernists and the wider international modern movement

Functionalism Revisited Jon T. Lang, Walter Moleski, 2010 Lang and Moleski argue here that the model of function and the concept of a functional building that we have inherited from the 20th century Modernists is limited in scope They propose a new model which responds to observations about the inadequacy of current ways of thinking about functionalism in architecture and urban design Copiously illustrated the book discusses in detail each function of buildings and urban environments

Civitas by Design Howard Gillette, Jr., 2011-06-06 Since the end of the nineteenth century city planners have aspired not only to improve the physical living conditions of urban residents but also to strengthen civic ties through better design of built environments From Ebenezer Howard and his vision for garden cities to today's New Urbanists these visionaries have sought to deepen civitas or the shared community of citizens In Civitas by Design historian Howard Gillette Jr takes a critical look at this planning tradition examining a wide range of environmental interventions and their consequences over the course of the twentieth century As American reform efforts moved from progressive idealism through the era of government urban renewal programs to the rise of faith in markets planners attempted to cultivate community in places such as Forest Hills Gardens in Queens New York Celebration Florida and the post Katrina Gulf Coast Key figures including critics Lewis Mumford and Oscar Newman entrepreneur James Rouse and housing reformer Catherine Bauer introduced concepts such as neighborhood units pedestrian shopping malls and planned communities that were implemented on a national scale Many of the buildings landscapes and infrastructures that planners envisioned still remain but frequently these physical designs have proven insufficient to sustain the ideals they represented Will contemporary urbanists efforts to join social justice with environmentalism generate better results Gillette places the work of reformers and designers in the context of their times providing a careful analysis of the major ideas and trends in urban planning for current and future policy makers

Inclusivism™ S.A. Nitz,2011-08-09 The world is currently in the middle of the most significant societal social and cultural revolution in its history Old leadership and social patterns are not yielding the expected results of fiscal growth and prosperity throughout the world and the widening gap between upper and lower income levels has resulted in an increased level of social unrest The activities of various citizen s groups and anti establishment organizations such as Wikileaks are expanding an ever widening chasm between traditional political and societal structures and the population at large Politicians world wide are facing never before seen challenges socially economically and environmentally Taken individually these trials might seem manageable Taken collectively however they reveal the metamorphosis of the social and political structure of society at large from one dominated by capitalism in all of its forms to one dominated by a new and emerging social order Inclusivism

Big Plans Kenneth Kolson,2021-04-27 Similar in spirit to Lewis Mumford s The City in History and Jane Jacobs The Death and Life of Great American Cities wonderful funny idiosyncratic Frederick R Steiner author of The Living Landscape Big Plans The Allure and Folly of Urban Design springs from the idea that human aspirations for the city tend to overstate the role of rationality in public life Inspired by the architectural and urban criticism of such writers as Lewis Mumford Jane Jacobs and John Brinckerhoff Jackson Kolson adopts a user s perspective on issues of urban design an approach that highlights both the futility of social engineering and the resilience of the human spirit A book that should be read by all those people and there seem to be more of them as week chases week who are thinking about the fate of lower Manhattan right now Bloomberg News Kenneth Kolson has lots of material Some of what s been built in cities lately is astonishing and not in a good way The Boston Globe Kolson is a passionate critic of urban schemes with well founded skepticism about the role rationality has played in designing them

Journal of the Society of Architectural Historians A fascinating read about the utopian goal of Big Plans and the dystopian reality of lived experience Design Issues A City's Architecture William Alvis Brogden, 2016-12-05 When considering the successful design of cities the focus tends to be on famous examples such as Paris or Rome with equally successful but smaller and more remote examples being ignored In addition the more diffuse patterns of settlement of the north and western parts of Europe are hardly considered at all in comparison to the tightly formed urban centres of the Mediterranean However the diffuse town region is typical of our time whatever the location By analysing the development of a successful small city of ancient foundation which grew from a diffuse long settled and dense landscape then demonstrated a slow growth as a tight urban form before an early adoption of the designed landscape as town lessons can be learned These lessons may be useful in addressing the nature and growth of any city or city region The story of Aberdeen is just such an example Not only are the materials for its long history present its relations and concerns with the wider world are also well attested and many of the ideas which directed or significantly impinged on the design of cities were tested there or had their origin there As its form accumulated and developed over such a long time Aberdeen also suggests the idea of an architecture of the city This book examines the development and design of a city from three inescapable aspects its location and character of the landscape its own particular history of development and its cultural responses to various waves of thought
