The Vedic Altar Updated Patrizia Norelli-Bachelet (Thea), 2023-07-11 The objective of the 9th Avatar s descent was to reverse the direction spirituality had taken with its almost exclusive emphasis on an otherworldly realisation leaving the Earth to her own devices and to establish a life divine on this very planet to bring heaven upon Earth as the Scriptures state How can this best be achieved is the question the sincere seeker must ask Yogic realisations of the old schools even if they could be extended beyond the single realiser to many others would still not have the power to bring about any universal transformation the signature of the Aquarian Age Sri Aurobindo made this clear it is not merely the goal of his mission that is different from the old Yogas it is the process as well This means that the supramental Truth Consciousness must arrange its manifestation in such a manner that in the becoming of its being or its innermost essence that divine life is manifested for all to see on Earth there has to be a revelation with great precision in keeping with the character of Supermind of exactly how the transformation can be accomplished That revelation is the Mother s chamber It is the seed of all that is to follow Part 11 page 87

Intensity Judith A. Jones, 1998 A challenging iconoclastic study that makes clear the underlying unity of Whitehead s vision of the world This important and provocative book on the work of Alfred North Whitehead 1861-1947 explores how his avowed atomism is consistent with his equally essential commitment to a view of reality as a thoroughly interconnected sphere of relations Judith Jones challenges Whitehead s readers to reconsider certain prevailing interpretations of his organic philosophy To Jones a rereading of Whitehead's overall philosophic project is essential to evaluating his contributions to metaphysics and ontology Since Whitehead's basic worldview is holistic a return to viewing Whitehead's work as a whole helps clarify his ontological intentions and contributions to metaphysics For this purpose the concept of intensity which Jones defines as the quality and form of feeling involved in subjective experience is basic to Whitehead's thinking about process at all naturalistic levels and is therefore particularly useful as a lens through which to view his entire system Intensity is at once Whitehead's most basic metaphysical idea and a notion useful in deciphering the overall unity of purpose in his writings A central aim of this book is to develop an aesthetically sensitive sense of being that demonstrates the profound and original contributions of process philosophy to realism Jones shows that a thorough understanding of the concept of intensity yields modes of thought that help overcome knotty problems in conceiving Whitehead's distinction between the private experience of individuals and the public relations those individuals experience in relationship to other entities Drawing frequently on poetic allusions to aid her interpretations she focuses specifically on the status of intensity in intellectual and moral experience and develops an ethics of attention as an elaboration of Whitehead's aesthetic metaphysics The result is a book that should be enthusiastically greeted and debated by scholars of Whitehead and by all who are interested in the field of process thought including students of theology literature and feminist studies Jones's unorthodox conclusions backed up with scrupulous attention to both the Whitehead canon and related secondary literature present challenges to accepted interpretations that cannot be ignored The New Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1974 The Indiana Teacher, 1925
