

The background of the cover is a colorful illustration of a penguin colony in a snowy, mountainous landscape. In the center, a large Emperor penguin stands with its head turned to the right, looking slightly grumpy. It has a black head, back, and wings, with a white belly. To its left, another penguin wears a long, pink scarf. To its right, a penguin wears a brown scarf. In the background, many other penguins are scattered across the snow, some wearing various colored scarves. At the top of the cover, a yellow banner with a black border contains the text "Animal Fairy Tales".

Collins's often brutal but hilarious search into the pit of human idiocy leaves few stones unturned. He also addresses some of life's most serious questions. Is Jeremy Clarkson part of a completely different gene pool? What happens when you upset every Beyoncé fan on the planet? Why is Andrew Marr's sofa an affront to intelligent thinking? How could a nice guy like Benedict Cumberbatch annoy anyone? Has social media shrunk our brains? What happens to a sense of shame when men visit the gym? Part polemic and part diary, Collins spent a year documenting all those areas and people that could bug the hell out of the calmest of souls. Armed only with a sensible pen, notepad and a standard High Street blood pressure monitor, he sets out to create the ultimate list. In the author's words, 67 People I'd Like to Slap is the non-negotiable oracle of all things bamboozling when it comes to human behaviour: the definitive guide that no sane person could ever argue against. Or could you?

This was Robert F. Scott's second attempt to be the first to reach the South Pole. Cherry's application to join the expedition was initially rejected as Scott was looking for scientists but he made a second application along with a promise of 1 000 equivalent to 103 000 in 2019 towards the cost of the expedition. Rejected a second time, he made the donation regardless. Struck by this gesture and at the same time persuaded by E. A. Wilson, Scott agreed to take Cherry-Garrard as assistant zoologist. The expedition arrived in the Antarctic on 4 January 1911. Scott and four companions eventually attained the pole on 17 January 1912 where they found that a Norwegian expedition led by Roald Amundsen had preceded them by 34 days. Scott's entire party died on the return journey from the pole; some of their bodies, journals and photographs were found by a search party eight months later. After returning to England, Cherry-Garrard travelled to China and then volunteered to the First World War and commanded a squadron of armoured cars in Flanders. Invalided out in 1916, he suffered from clinical depression as well as ulcerative colitis which had developed shortly after returning from Antarctica. Although his psychological condition was never cured, the explorer was able to treat himself to some extent by writing down his experiences. In 1922, encouraged by his friend George Bernard Shaw, Cherry-Garrard wrote The Worst Journey in the World, his memoir of the incredible 3 years he spent in Antarctica. Over 80 years later, this book is still in print and is often cited as a classic of travel literature, having been acclaimed as the greatest true adventure story ever written. The Horn Book Guide to Children's and Young Adult Books, 1995 Antarctic News Clips, 1995 Tacky and the Emperor Helen
