The Enchanted Horse One Thousand and One Nights, 2021-11-17 As the people of Persia celebrate the new year an Indian stranger arrives at the Sultan's court riding a wooden horse. More than just a mechanical marvel, this horse has the power of flight and can carry its rider halfway around the world in a single day. When the Sultan proposes to buy it for his son, though the stranger agrees to exchange it for one thing, the Sultan's daughter is transported by a tale of magic and love.

In The Enchanted Horse, the thirty-third of the 34 tales in the classic Arabian Nights collection translated into English by Andrew Lang, a treasure trove of timeless stories, the One Thousand and One Nights or Arabian Nights have been loved, imitated, and added to over many centuries. Similar to the fairy tales collected by the Brothers Grimm, the Arabian Nights are drawn from the folklore of India, Iran, and the Middle East and were collected in Arabic versions throughout the medieval period; others were added as recently as the eighteenth century. These stories of the exotic East have been popularised for new generations by film adaptations such as Disney's Aladdin starring Robin Williams and Gilbert Gottfried in 1992 and Will Smith in 2019, and Dreamworks Sinbad starring Brad Pitt and Michelle Pfeiffer. They continue to inspire writers as varied as Salman Rushdie and Neil Gaiman, while numerous Bollywood and manga versions attest to their popularity around the world. These stories of magic, adventure, and romance have shaped readers' imaginations for generations and are sure to be retold for years to come.

This selection was translated by Andrew Lang from the French versions by Antoine Galland, who was the first to include the stories of Aladdin and Ali Baba. Born in Scotland in 1844, Lang was a scholar of ancient Greek, a journalist, historian, novelist, and poet, and the author of 25 popular collections of fairy tales. His edition of the Arabian Nights Entertainment was published in 1898. He became a Fellow of the British Academy in 1906 and died in 1912.
