This publication of Fitzgibbons carefully researched investigation provides a privileged insight which both fills out and refocuses the picture She examines the operation of three performing arts companies from Ireland a country whose reputation for creativity bears little relation to its small size and population and finds that innovation in the arts requires uncommon dedication persistence and yes sacrifice qualities that have been blurred by the mythology of what makes for artistic innovation She studies the social and organizational context of most arts work today with emphasis on the effort that goes into the achievement of innovation and comes away with a new vocabulary and grammar for managing it Innovation in the arts is an arduous stressful process as it is in all areas of high achievement but the perception most people have of it is misinformed says Fitzgibbon Creativity management is confused with what is commonly known as creative management She shows it is possible to identify a number of factors that bear heavily on innovation in arts organizations So far the first study of the management of arts innovation specifically Fitzgibbon s work offers a privileged and pragmatic insight into the workings of highly innovative arts organizations The result is a graphic analysis that strips innovation down to its essentials and begins to answer vital questions This work is essential reading for arts policy makers managers administrators and those who would be donors and for serious students of arts and culture management in the academic community Instant Manager: Managing Change Bernice Walmsley, 2009-10-30 Whether you are building your career as a manager by taking professional qualifications or you simply want to enhance your management skills this Instant Manager title based on one of the six national occupational standards for managers is exactly what you need Including a fascinating interview with Sir John Tusa who revitalised the Barbican Arts Centre this is an inexpensive concise but above all authoritative guide to getting results Based on ten key questions each chapter ends with a summary and action checklist to crystallise what you have learnt The portable format allows you to carry the book wherever you go and to fit learning and development into your busy work Managing Your Band Stephen Marcone, 2003 According to Dr Stephen Marcone personal management is still the weakest link in a music business that operates by fragmenting its product This comprehensive new edition includes an updated recording agreement with current industry language and a sample merchandising agreement takes into account the many changes in concert promotion and features descriptions of new legal battles. Use this book as a helpful reference for touring publicity contracts marketing trademarks copyrighting enhancing creativity and much more Straight forward and up to date this is an easy to understand and all encompassing primer for aspiring bands and managers Walter O Brien Owner Concrete Management Inc manager of Pantera and others Dr Stephen Marcone is Director of Music Graduate Studies and Professor of Music at William Paterson University in Wayne New Jersey Managing Arts in Times of Pandemics and Beyond A.
