The Art Of Telling Essays On Fiction:

The Art of Telling Frank Kermode, 1983 Frank Kermode assesses the revolutionary transformations in literary criticism over the last fifteen years and places them in historical perspective Examining novels ranging in scope from a 1907 bestseller to the avant garde works of various periods he includes such writers as Conrad Ford Madox Ford Michel Butor and Thomas Pynchon The Transformation of the English Novel, 1890-1930 Daniel R. Schwarz, 1989-06-18 Focusing on the work of Hardy Lawrence Conrad Joyce Forster and Woolf this study is divided into two sections the first shows how historical and contextual material is essential for developing powerful readings the second discusses how new theory has transformed the way we read and think New Essays on The Crying of Lot 49 Patrick O'Donnell, 1991 The Crying of Lot 49 is widely recognized as a significant contemporary work that frames the desire for meaning and the quest for knowledge within the social and political contexts of the 50s and 60s in America In the introduction to this collection of original essays on Thomas Pynchon s important novel Patrick O Donnell discusses the background and critical reception of the novel Further essays by five experts on contemporary literature examine the novel s semiotic regime or the way in which it organizes signs the comparison of postmodernist Pynchon and the influential South American writer Jorge Luis Borges metaphor in the novel the novel s narrative strategies and the novel within the cultural contexts of American Puritanism and the Beat movement Together these essays provide an examination of the novel within its literary historical and scientific contexts The Transformation of the English Novel, 1890-1930 D. Schwarz, 1995-02-27 In an exciting and important book The theoretical chapters are a model of elegantly styled accommodation yet they brook no fudging of the issues no comfortable ambiguities Modern Fiction Studies The Transformation of the English Novel 1890 1930 Studies in Hardy Conrad Joyce Lawrence Forster and Woolf is a provocative exploration of a crucial period in the development of the English novel integrating critical theory historical background and sophisticated close reading Divided into two major sections the first shows how historical and contextual material is essential for developing powerful readings The second section is theoretical and speaks of the transformation in the way that we read and think about authors readers characters and form in the light of recent theory offering an alternative to the deconstructive and Marxist trends in literary studies Contemporary Drift Theodore Martin, 2017-05-30 What does it mean to call something contemporary More than simply denoting what s new it speaks to how we come to know the present we re living in and how we develop a shared story about it The story of trying to understand the present is an integral yet often unnoticed part of the literature and film of our moment In Contemporary Drift Theodore Martin argues that the contemporary is not just a historical period but also a conceptual problem and he claims that contemporary genre fiction offers a much needed resource for resolving that problem Contemporary Drift combines a theoretical focus on the challenge of conceptualizing the present with a historical account of contemporary literature and film Emphasizing both the difficulty and the necessity of historicizing the contemporary the book explores how recent works of fiction depict life in an age of global capitalism postindustrialism and climate change Through new histories of the novel of manners film noir the Western detective fiction and the postapocalyptic novel Martin shows how the problem of the contemporary preoccupies a wide range of novelists and filmmakers including Zadie Smith Colson Whitehead Vikram Chandra China Mi ville Kelly Reichardt and the Coen brothers Martin argues that genre provides these artists with a formal strategy for understanding both the content and the concept of the contemporary Genre writing with its mix of old and new brings to light the complicated process by which we make sense of our present and determine what belongs to our time

Fictions of Loss in the Victorian Fin de Siècle Stephen Arata, 1996-08-29 It has been widely recognised that British culture in the 1880s and 1890s was marked by a sense of irretrievable decline Fictions of Loss in the Victorian Fin de Siècle explores the ways in which that perception of loss was cast into narrative into archetypal stories which sought to account for the culture's troubles and perhaps assuage its anxieties Stephen Arata pays close attention to fin de siècle representation of three forms of decline national biological and aesthetic and reveals how late Victorian degeneration theory was used to explain such decline By examining a wide range of writers from Kipling to Wilde from Symonds to Conan Doyle and Stoker Arata shows how the nation's twin obsessions with decadence and imperialism became intertwined in the thought of the period His account offers new insights for students and scholars of the fin de siècle

The True Story of the Novel Margaret Anne Doody, 1996 An erudite intelligent and imaginative work of literary scholarship With vivacity grace and wit Doody traces the history of the novel from the ancient novels of Apuleius and Heliodorus through the Renaissance fictions of Boccaccio Cervantes and Rabelais to the official birth of the novel in 18th century England BOSTON GLOBE 39 illustrations

The Art of Authorial Presence Gary Richard Thompson, 1993 The critical literary world has spent a wealth of thought and words on the question of Hawthorne himself Where does he stand in his works In history In literary tradition In this major new study G R Thompson recasts the Hawthorne question to show how authorial presence in the writer's works is as much a matter of art as the writing itself. The Hawthorne who emerges from this masterful analysis is not as has been supposed identical to the provincial narrator of his early tales; instead, he is revealed to be the skillful manipulator of that narrative voice, an author at an ironic distance from the tales he tells. By focusing on the provincial tales as they were originally conceived as a narrative cycle, Thompson is able to recover intertextual references that reveal Hawthorne's preoccupation with framing strategies and variations on authorial presence. The author shows how Hawthorne deliberately constructs sentimental narratives only to deconstruct them. Thompson's analysis provides a new aesthetic context for understanding the whole shape of Hawthorne's career as well as the narrative, ethical, and historical issues within individual works.

Revisionary in its view of one of America's greatest authors, The Art of Authorial Presence also offers invaluable insight into the problems of narratology and historiography, ethics, and psychology, romanticism and idealism, and the cultural myths of America.

Reading the Modern British and Irish Novel 1890 - 1930 Daniel R. Schwarz, 2008-04-15 Daniel R. Schwarz has studied and taught the modern British novel for decades and now brings his impressive erudition and critical acuity to this insightful study of the major authors and novels of the first half of the twentieth century. An insightful study of British fiction in the first half of the twentieth century. Draws on the author's decades of experience researching and teaching the modern British novel. Sets the modern British novel in its intellectual, cultural, and literary contexts. Features close readings of Hardy's Jude the Obscure, Conrad's Heart of Darkness, and Lord Jim, Lawrence's Sons and Lovers, and The Rainbow, Joyce's Dubliners and Ulysses, Woolf's Mrs Dalloway, and To the Lighthouse, and Forster's A Passage to India. Shows how these novels are essential components in a modernist cultural tradition which includes the visual arts. Takes account of recent developments in theory and cultural studies. Written in an engaging style, avoiding jargon.

The Narrative Reader Martin McQuillan, 2000 The Narrative Reader aims to provide a comprehensive survey of narrative theories ranging from Plato to Post Structuralism. The selection of texts is bold and broad, demonstrating the extent to which narrative permeates the entire field of literature and culture. It shows the ways in which narrative crosses disciplines, continents, and theoretical perspectives, and is a long overdue and welcome addition to the field. The Narrative Reader will fascinate students and researchers alike, providing a much needed point of entry to the increasingly complex field of narrative theory.

Picturing the City Rebecca Zurier, 2006-09-06 Zurier vividly locates the Ashcan School artists within the early twentieth-century crosscurrents of newspaper journalism, literary realism, illustration, sociology, and urban spectatorship. Her compassionate study newly assesses the artists' rejection of genteel New York, their alignments with mass media, and their innovative ways of seeing in the modern city. Wanda M. Corn, author of The Great American Thing: Modern Art and National Identity, 1915-35. If the Ashcan School brought a special and embracing eye to the city, Rebecca Zurier, in her richly contextual and impressively interdisciplinary book, explains and evokes that historically specific urban vision in all its richness. Finally, in Picturing the City, we have the study these painters have long deserved And we gain new and delightful access to New York City at the moment of its emergence as a compelling embodiment of metropolitan modernity Thomas Bender Director International Center for Advanced Studies New York University Picturing the City is both meticulous and wide ranging in its assessment of the Ashcan artists and their passionate efforts to represent New York It charts their pleasures and problems warmth and prejudices generosity and differences originality and formula It takes seriously their habits as journalists and provides the most complete sense of their immersion in a world of urban spectatorship and vision Rebecca Zurier has written a wonderful timely book that will be a benchmark for any future discussions of them Anthony W Lee author of Picturing Chinatown Art and Orientalism in San Francisco Rebecca Zurier takes us on an intellectually exhilarating and breathtakingly beautiful visual voyage through turn of the century New York City as the Ashcan painters saw it As we watch them learn a new way of looking in the commercially dynamic sensual New York of a century ago we too see that time and place with fresh eyes Inevitably thanks to Zurier the way we look at city life today will change as well Lizabeth Cohen author of A Consumers Republic The Politics of Mass Consumption in Postwar America

The Arabic Novel Roger Allen,1995-01-01 This edition includes new material on the Arabic novel up to 1993 It is a survey of the Arabic novel and its development from its beginnings in the 19th century until today It traces the origin early cultivation and the mature period after World War II of the Arabic novel

Chinese Theories of Fiction Ming Dong Gu,2007-06-01 In this innovative work Ming Dong Gu examines Chinese literature and traditional Chinese criticism to construct a distinctly Chinese theory of fiction and places it within the context of international fiction theory He argues that because Chinese fiction or xiaoshuo was produced in a tradition very different from that of the West it has formed a system of fiction theory that cannot be adequately accounted for by Western fiction theory grounded in mimesis and realism Through an inquiry into the macrocosm of Chinese fiction the art of formative works and theoretical data in fiction commentaries and intellectual thought Gu explores the conceptual and historical conditions of Chinese fiction in relation to European and world fiction In the process Gu critiques and challenges some accepted views of Chinese fiction and provides a theoretical basis for fresh approaches to fiction study in general and Chinese fiction in particular Such masterpieces as the Jin Ping Mei The Plum in the Golden Vase and the Hongloulou The Story of the Stone are discussed at length to advance his notion of fiction and fiction theory

Jacques Derrida (Routledge Revivals) William Schultz,Lewis L.B. Fried,2016-06-17 First published in 1992 this book represents the first major attempt to compile a bibliography of Derrida's work and scholarship about his work It attempts to be comprehensive rather than selective listing primary and secondary works from the year of Derrida's Master's thesis in 1954 up until 1991 and is extensively annotated It arranges under article type a huge number of works from scholars across numerous fields reflecting the interdisciplinary and controversial nature of Deconstruction The substantial introduction and annotations also make this bibliography in part a critical guide and as such will make a highly useful reference tool for those studying his philosophy

Story Harold Scheub,1998-10-01 What is the essence of story How does the storyteller convey meaning Leading scholar Harold Scheub tackles these questions and more demonstrating that the power of story lies in emotion While others have focused on the importance of structure in the art of story Scheub emphasizes emotion He shows how an expert storyteller uses structural elements image rhythm and narrative to shape a story s fundamental emotional content The storyteller uses traditional images repetition and linear narrative to move the audience past the story s surface of morals and ideas and make connections to their past present and future To guide the audience on this emotional journey is the storyteller s art The traditional stories from South African Xhosa and San cultures included in the book lend persuasive support to Scheub s These stories speak for themselves demonstrating that a skilled performer can stir emotions despite the obstacles of space time and culture Metamodernism and the Postdigital in the Contemporary Novel Spencer Jordan,2024-10-03 Drawing on a range of authors that includes Zadie Smith Sally Rooney Ben Lerner Ali Smith Tom McCarthy Jennifer Egan and Kazuo Ishiguro this book provides an innovative and original analysis of the interdependencies between digital technology and metamodernism through a detailed study of the contemporary novel We are currently living through a period of profound rupture in which the way the world is perceived is undergoing significant change Just as the interplay between capitalism and technology hastened the evolution of modernism and postmodernism then so too are those same forces now taking us into uncharted waters In an increasingly fragile world in which the very existence of humankind is threatened it is vital that we begin to understand this new landscape Narrative Form Suzanne Keen,2015-07-28 This revised and expanded handbook concisely introduces narrative form to advanced students of fiction and creative writing with refreshed references and new discussions of cognitive approaches to narrative nonfiction and narrative emotions Bulletin Salem Public Library,1897
