The Auction A Love Story:

The Auction Andrew Salat, 2005-03 Advice from those who claim to understand the human mind sounded simple to an impressionable student Sandra Marlowe If love success and peer admiration be your goals then you must go forth in life and never look back Sandra followed closely their counsel Having gained all the above she nearly lost everything while performing an act of kindness She realized the self appointed gurus giving out such advice were cynics who never experienced the sweet pain of first love Her past had more to do with molding of character attaining recognition as a top notch newscaster and keeping friends On the night of the station sponsored charity auction Sandra learned that life seldom followed preset rules What happened as the auctioneer's gavel finalized the bid not only caused her to strengthen her resolve to be the best but to give in to a human phenomenon called love Contemporary Archival Fiction Elin Ivansson, 2025-09-30 This book presents a synthesised framework for analysing archival poetics in multimodal literature examining case studies from twenty first century American fiction towards elucidating the archival turn in contemporary literature more broadly Ivansson turns her focus on multimodal archival fiction here understood as works which engage with archival practices of collecting and organising both verbal text and visual inclusions of fictional and factual archival material such as photographs sketches notes and newspaper clippings The volume brings together work from multimodality cognitive stylistics and narratology with archival studies to demonstrate how contemporary archival fiction engages with archival themes through multimodal design Case studies include works from Barbara Hodgson Leanne Shapton Valeria Luiselli and Jacob Garbe and Aaron A Reed The selected examples allow for a detailed exploration of how to analyse the multimodal composition and reader experience of archival poetics Furthermore these case studies also elucidate how such a framework can be applied more broadly to the analysis of fictional works thematically and structurally concerned with the archive or those that grapple with such areas of interest in contemporary research as materiality bookishness and ontological ambiguity This volume will appeal to students and scholars in multimodality stylistics American literature and literary studies Staging the Archive Ernst van Alphen, 2014-11-15 Dedicated to art practices that mobilize the model of the archive Staging the Archive demonstrates the ways in which such archival artworks probe the possibilities of what art is and what it can do Through a variety of media methodologies and perspectives the artists surveyed here also challenge the principles on which the notions of organization evidence and documentation are built The earliest examples of the modern archival artwork were made in the 1930s but only since the 1960s have artists really embraced archival principles to inform structure and shape their works This includes practices that consist of archive construction archaeological investigation record keeping and the use of archived materials but also interrogations of the principles claims and effects of the archive Staging the Archive shows how artists read the concept of the archive against the grain questioning not only what the archive is and can be but what materials images or ideas can be archived Ernst van Alphen examines these archival artists and artworks in detail setting them within their social political and aesthetic contexts Exploring the works of Marcel Duchamp Marcel Broodthaers Christian Boltanski Annette Messager Fiona Tan and Sophie Calle among others he reveals how modern and contemporary artists have used and contested the notion of the archive to establish new relationships to history information and data
