The Australian Womens Diary 1988:

The Diary Batsheva Ben-Amos, Dan Ben-Amos, 2020-03-10 The diary as a genre is found in all literate societies and these autobiographical accounts are written by persons of all ranks and positions The Diary offers an exploration of the form in its social historical and cultural literary contexts with its own distinctive features poetics and rhetoric The contributors to this volume examine theories and interpretations relating to writing and studying diaries the formation of diary canons in the United Kingdom France United States and Brazil and the ways in which handwritten diaries are transformed through processes of publication and digitization The authors also explore different diary formats including the travel diary the private diary conflict diaries written during periods of crisis and the diaries of the digital era such as blogs The Diary offers a comprehensive overview of the genre synthesizing decades of interdisciplinary study to enrich our understanding of research about and engagement with the diary as literary form and historical documentation Australian Books in Print 1997

Bowker, 1997-03 excellent coverage essential to worldwide bibliographic coverage AMERICAN REFERENCE BOOKS ANNUAL This comprehensive reference provides current finding ordering information on more than 60 000 in print books published in or about Australia or written by Australian authors organized by title author keyword You ll also find brief profiles of more than 5 000 publishers distributors whose titles are represented as well as information on trade associations local agents of overseas publishers literary awards more Women Together New Zealand. Department of Internal Affairs. Historical Branch, 1993 132 short histories of organisations grouped in thirteen sections Introduction Unbridling the Tongues of Women Susan Magarey, 2010 Catherine Helen Spence was a charismatic public speaker in the late nineteenth century a time when women were supposed to speak only at their own firesides She was carving a new path into the world of public politics along which other women would follow in the first Australian colony to win votes for women Ibss: Anthropology: 1988 British Library of Political and Economic Science, 1992 This bibliography lists the most important works in anthropology published in 1988 Governors' Wives in Colonial Australia Anita Selzer, 2002 The lives of five vice regal women who accompanied their husbands to the Australian colonies during the nineteenth century are examined in Governors wives in colonial Australia Eliza Darling New South Wales 1825 1831 Jane Franklin Van Diemen s Land 1837 1843 Mary Anne Broome Western Australia 1883 1889 Elizabeth Loch Victoria 1884 1889 Audrey Tennyson South Australia 1899 1903 Page 2 Diary Poetics Anna Jackson, 2020-08-26 The diary is a genre that is often thought of as virtually formless a capacious hold all for the writer s thoughts and as offering unmediated access to the diarist s true self Focusing on the diaries of Katherine Mansfield Virginia Woolf Antonia White Joe Orton John Cheever and Sylvia Plath this book looks at how six very different professional writers have approached the diary form with its particular demands and literary potential As a sequence of separate entries the diary is made up of both gaps and continuities and the different ways diarists negotiate these aspects of the diary form has radical effects on how their diaries represent both the world and the biographical self The different published editions of the diaries by Katherine Mansfield Virginia Woolf and Sylvia Plath show how editorial decisions can construct sometimes startlingly different biographical portraits Yet all diaries are constructed and all diary constructions depend on how the writer works with the diary form Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly,2013-12-04 First published in 2001 This is the first substantial reference work in English on the various forms that constitute life writing As this term suggests the Encyclopedia explores not only autobiography and biography proper but also letters diaries memoirs family histories case histories and other ways in which individual lives have been recorded and structured It includes entries on genres and subgenres national and regional traditions from around the world and important auto biographical writers as well as articles on related areas such as oral history anthropology testimonies and the representation of life stories in non verbal art forms Sailing to Australia Andrew Hassam,1994 Between 1788 and 1880 some 1 3 million free emigrants arrived in Australia from the British Isles It was a huge transition both geographically and culturally and one way of dealing with this appears to have been to write a diary The surviving diaries offer snapshots of the lives of and experiences of many ordinary people who emigrated Australian Women in Advertising in the Twentieth Century J. Dickenson,2016-04-29 When did Australian women first enter the advertising industry The stereotypical advertising executive might be a pony tailed Ferrari driving young ish man but women have worked in Australian advertising agencies from the first years of the modern industry and today they comprise half of the industry s workforce Australian Women in Advertising in the Twentieth Century rescues these women from their obscurity By employing a broader definition of advertising than usual this study reveals the important role women have played in the development of the Australian advertising industry sheds light on women s struggle to reach the higher echelons of the industry and considers why the popular image of the advertising executive is at such variance from the reality The experiences of these remarkable women across a century of Australian advertising provide valuable information on the role of gender in the development of this ubiquitous industry as well as the encroachment of consumer culture Roma the First Susan Magarey,Kerrie Round,2007 Roma Mitchell contributed importantly to her times pioneering a new kind of womanhood and becoming an inspiration in terms of opportunities and freedoms for women in Australia Celebrating the Nation Tony Bennett,2020-08-29 Celebrating the Nation offers the first major critical retrospective on Australia s Bicentenary The editors have collected a series of essays focusing on the different ways in which 1988 was celebrated From the soccer Gold Cup to literary commissions from Expo 88 to the Travelling Exhibition and the Stockman s Hall of Fame it examines the cultural and ideological frameworks which shaped the discourses and rhetoric of those celebrations The contributors also put the Australian Bicentenary of 1988 in historical and international perspective comparing the celebrations of 1988 with earlier Australian anniversary celebrations and with recent national celebrations in France Canada and the United States Drawing on the findings of a major research project organised by the Institute for Cultural Policy Studies at Griffith University Celebrating the Nation provides a provocative and insightful analysis of the cultural and political processes through which modern nations organise and symbolise their histories and identities Core Of My Heart, My Country Maggie MacKellar, 2016-05-18 When Georgiana Molloy gave birth on the beach at Augusta in 1830 with boxes of her possessions lying where they d landed she was one of the many women who literally had to remake their homes out of the broken bones of their past In this passionate book Maggie MacKellar tells the stories of women on the frontier in Canada and Australia who ventured out in bonnets and petticoats to collect seeds who abandoned sidesaddles to ride in the mountains who risked their reputations to climb mountains and beyond this it tells of the risky business of women who put their lives on the page to claim the importance of their experience Core of My Heart My Country weaves together experience and insight from women who lived and wrote in different landscapes in different climates and in different eras It is a provocative and remarkable encounter with buried stories and persistent myths Fighting Monsters Richard Wallace Braithwaite, 2016 Only six escapees survived the Sandakan death marches of 1945 in North Borneo the worst atrocity ever inflicted on Australian soldiers 1787 Australian and 641 British POWs perished Previous descriptions of the numerous violent acts have yielded little understanding of a situation where the real struggle was to keep one s humanity when so many were losing theirs whether Allied POWs local residents of Borneo Javanese slave labourers or Japanese soldiers Understanding this extraordinary story is aided by reference to a wide range of sources in different countries and disciplines and by examining the perspectives of all players in this terrible game of survival An unusual and extreme POW story the Sandakan tragedy had four stages active resistance in 1942 3 stubborn endurance in 1943 4 the collapse of civilized existence in 1945 and finally the postwar decades of torment for the six damaged survivors the gradual assimilation of the story the healing of the damage and the commemoration of the tragedy by the families and communities involved Richard Wallace Braithwaite s father was one of the six survivors of the Sandakan death marches of 1945 He died in 1986 still wanting the story to be properly told This led to a project that has lasted for much of the last forty years of the author s life culminating in this book With a scientific background Richard worked for many years with CSIRO and universities in the biological and social sciences and in historical research His extensive and diverse research history and lifelong personal immersion in the story has given him a unique perspective in exploring the complexities of the Sandakan tragedy Rewriting God Elaine Lindsay, 2021-11-22 Women are rarely if ever mentioned in commentaries upon Australian Christianity and spirituality Only exceptional women are recognized as authorities on religious matters Why is this so Does it matter Don t people from the same religious tradition share similar experiences of the divine regardless of their gender Rewriting God asks whether women have been writing about the divine and whether their insights are different from those contained in malestream accounts of Australian Christianity and spirituality An analysis of the writings of popular theologians and religious commentators over the last twenty years suggests that the most popular form of spirituality among Australian theologians is Desert Spirituality An analysis of women s autobiographical writings however suggests that the desert is irrelevant to many women's spiritual experiences. This book through a close investigation of the fictions of Thea Astley, Elizabeth Jolley and Barbara Hanrahan attempts to posit alternative forms of women's spirituality and to signal ways in which this spirituality is already being expressed. From the evidence gathered here it becomes obvious that traditional expressions of Australian Christianity and spirituality are gender specific and that they have functioned to deny women's religious experiences and to silence their claims to equality in the sight and service of the divine. It becomes obvious too that women have been developing their own forms of religious expression and that these may be expected to supplant gradually withering images of Desert Spirituality. Whether this new imagery will strengthen Australian Christianity or whether it merely marks a decline in the authority of Christianity remains a moot point. The Bodyline Fix Marion Stell, 2022-10-05

Over thirty years ago historian Marion Stell tracked down the women who played in the inaugural international Test cricket series against England in the summer of 1934-1935. Their stories and this extraordinary time in Australian sport are told here for the first time. After the contentious bodyline men's series in 1932-1933 sporting relations between Australia and England were at an all time low. The long traditions built on fair play and sportsmanship had been shattered and controversy raged in the media. At the same time a group of talented young women were invited to play for their country. Hailing from all classes and backgrounds these exceptional players defied social and family expectations to pursue the sport they loved, gaining recognition and celebrity in Test series here and abroad. Drawing from rare source material, photos and interviews with the original players, The Bodyline Fix shines a long overdue light on gender, race and class in 1930s Australia. The impact and legacy of these early sportswomen lives on to inspire current generations. Pacific Forest Judith A. Bennett, 2000

Pacific Forest explores the use of the forest of the Solomon Islands from the pre-historic period up to the end of 1997 when much of the indigenous commercial forest had been logged. It is the first study of the history of the forest in any Pacific Island, the first analysis of the indigenous and British colonial perceptions of the Melanesian forest and the first critical analysis for this region not only of colonial forest policies but of later policies and practices which made the governments of independence exploiters of their own people. Pacific Forest addresses a range of evidence drawn from several disciplines and is a major contribution to environmental history. Today's Woman in World Religions Arvind Sharma, 1994-01-01

This book examines how the women's movement is affecting traditional religions and civilizations throughout the world. It reviews cases of global impact in Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism, Judaism, Christianity, Islam and Australian aboriginal religion. This volume completes the trilogy devoted to women in world religions edited by Arvind Sharma. The second book in the series is entitled Religion and Women. The present work surveys the position of women in the religious traditions covered in the first volume of the trilogy Women in World Religions, placing these traditions in contemporary context. The Writing Or the Sex?, Or, Why You Don't Have to Read Women's Writing to Know It's No Good Dale Spender, 1989

This text questions the differences between female and male literature. Taking the view that the difference lies not within the writing itself but in the response to the writing the author writes that men have been in charge of according value to literature and that they have found the contributions of their own sex immeasurably superior The author presents evidence for a form of literary criticism which takes account of the exploitative practices of men

The Making of New Zealand Cricket Greg Ryan, 2004-08-02 It is generally forgotten that cricket rather than rugby union was the national game in New Zealand until the early years of the twentieth century This book shows why and how cricket developed in New Zealand and how its character changed across time Greg Ryan examines the emergence and growth of cricket in relation to diverse patterns of European settlement in New Zealand such as the systematic colonization schemes of Edward Gibbon Wakefield and the gold discoveries of the 1860s He then considers issues such as cricket and social class in the emerging cities cricket and the elite school system the function of the game in shaping relations between the New Zealand provinces cricket encounters with the Australian colonies in the context of an Australasian world A central theme is cricketing relations with England at a time when New Zealand society was becoming acutely conscious of both its own identity and its place within the British Empire This imperial relationship reveals structures ideals and objectives unique to New Zealand Articulate engaging and entertaining Ryan demonstrates convincingly how the cricketing experience of New Zealand was quite different from that of other colonies
