of an Hour and The Storm Chopin also wrote two novels At Fault 1890 and The Awakening 1899 which is set in New Orleans and Grand Isle The people in her stories are usually inhabitants of Louisiana Many of her works are set about Natchitoches in north central Louisiana In time literary critics determined that Chopin addressed the concerns of women in all places and for all times in her literature The Awakening Kate Chopin, 2017-09-02 When first published in 1899 The Awakening shocked readers with its honest treatment of female marital infidelity Audiences accustomed to the pieties of late Victorian romantic fiction were taken aback by Chopin's daring portrayal of a woman trapped in a stifling marriage who seeks and finds passionate physical love outside the confines of her domestic situation Aside from its unusually frank treatment of a then controversial subject the novel is widely admired today for its literary qualities Edmund Wilson characterized it as a work quite uninhibited and beautifully written which anticipates D H Lawrence in its treatment of infidelity Although the theme of marital infidelity no longer shocks few novels have plumbed the psychology of a woman involved in an illicit relationship with the perception artistry and honesty that Kate Chopin brought to The Awakening About Kate Chopin Kate Chopin was an American novelist and short story writer best known for her startling 1899 novel The Awakening Born in St Louis she moved to New Orleans after marrying Oscar Chopin in 1870 Less than a decade later Oscar's cotton business fell on hard times and they moved to his family's plantation in the Natchitoches Parish of northwestern Louisiana Oscar died in 1882 and Kate was suddenly a young widow with six children She turned to writing and published her first poem in 1889 The Awakening considered Chopin's masterpiece was subject to harsh criticism at the time for its frank approach to sexual themes It was rediscovered in the 1960s and has since become a standard of American literature appreciated for its sophistication and artistry Chopin's short stories of Cajun and Creole life are collected in Bayou Folk 1894 and A Night in Acadie 1897 and include Desiree's Baby The Story of an Hour and The Storm Some biographers cite 1850 as Chopin's birth year Why so many ugly one star reviews All about as insightful as the ubiquitous one star reviews of Lolita which call Nabokov the man a child molester raving morons who can't distinguish a character from an author and go beyond simply missing the point And how ironic that all these reviews seem to be from women raging that this book which they all obviously read for their gender theory class features a character who abandons her children Ugh women who criticize this as a feminist novel because the main character isn't a good mom and then base their ratings solely on how much they like the main character Often I have witnessed women who proceed to talk about misogyny sexism or state their views on a piece of feminist literature starting their discourse with something along the lines of I'm not much of a feminist but As if it is best to put a considerable distance between themselves and this feared word at the onset and deny any possible links whatsoever As if calling herself a feminist automatically degrades a woman to the position of a venom spewing uncouth unfeminine violent creature from hell whose predilections include despising all males on the planet with a passion and shouting from the rooftops about women's rights at the first opportunity Attention ladies and gentlemen Feminism is not so cool anymore at least not in the way it was in the 80s or 90s Don't ask what set off that particular rant but yes I suppose the numerous 1 star reviews of this one could have been a likely trigger earnest young man who actively seeks Edna's attention and affections. When they fall in love, Robert senses the doomed nature of such a relationship and flees to Mexico under the guise of pursuing a nameless business venture. The narrative focus moves to Edna's shifting emotions as she reconciles her maternal duties with her desire for social freedom and to be with Robert. When summer vacation ends, the Pontelliers return to New Orleans. Edna gradually reassesses her priorities and takes a more active role in her own happiness. She starts to isolate herself from New Orleans society and to withdraw from some of the duties traditionally associated with motherhood. L once eventually talks to a doctor about diagnosing his wife, fearing she is losing her mental faculties. The doctor advises L once to let her be and assures him that things will return to normal. When L once prepares to travel to New York City on business, he sends the boys to his mother. Left home alone for an extended period, gives Edna physical and emotional room to breathe and reflect on various aspects of her life. While her husband is still away, she moves out of their home and into a small bungalow nearby and begins a dalliance with Alc e Arobin, a persistent suitor with a reputation for being free with his affections. Edna is shown as a sexual being for the first time in the novel, but the affair proves awkward and emotionally fraught. Edna also reaches out to Mademoiselle Reisz, a gifted pianist whose playing is renowned but who maintains a generally hermetic existence. Her playing had moved Edna profoundly earlier in the novel, representing what Edna was starting to long for: independence. Mademoiselle Reisz focuses her life on music and herself instead of on society's expectations, acting as a foil to Ad le Ratignolle, who encourages Edna to conform. Reisz is in contact with Robert while he is in Mexico, receiving letters from him regularly. Edna begs her to reveal their contents, which she does, proving to Edna that Robert is thinking about her. Eventually, Robert returns to New Orleans. At first aloof and finding excuses not to be near Edna, he eventually confesses his passionate love for her. He admits that the business trip to Mexico was an excuse to escape a relationship that would never work. Edna is called away to help Ad le with a difficult childbirth. Ad le pleads with Edna to think of what she would be turning her back on if she did not behave appropriately. When Edna returns home, she finds a note from Robert stating that he has left forever, as he loves her too much to shame her by engaging in a relationship with a married woman. In devastated shock, Edna rushes back to Grand Isle, where she had first met Robert.
