and in national policy Exploring the tactics tenure and efficacy of the leadership of three of the most colorful and prominent Speakers of the House Henry Clay Thomas Reed and Newt Gingrich Strahan finds that these men though separated in time and of differing thought and actions were all leaders willing to take political risks to advance goals they cared about deeply As a result each acted independently of his followers to alter the political landscape Strahan makes use of a wide range of resources including the former representatives papers and correspondence and interviews with Gingrich and his staffers to demonstrate how these important leaders influenced policy and politics and where they ran aground In expounding lessons Strahan has gleaned over two decades of studying U S legislative politics Leading Representatives offers a new theoretical framework the conditional agency perspective that effectively links contextual perspectives as applied to congressional leadership with those emphasizing characteristics of individual leaders This engagingly written book will be of interest to political scholars of all stripes as well as readers inclined to learn more about the history and inner workings of the House
