The Elderly and Their Environment Karin Lidmar Reinius,1984      Old Age Care in Sweden Gerdt Sundström,1987
Environmental Policy, Assessment and Communication David Canter,Martin Krampen,David Stea,2024-11-07 Originally published in 1988 reissued now with a new series introduction Environmental Policy Assessment and Communication was the second in a trilogy of books to open the series Ethnoscapes Current Challenges in the Environmental Social Sciences These three titles brought together specially commissioned contributions that cover much of the range of topics that the series as a whole would cover Although the following volumes would not have the same format the opening trilogy gave an overview of what was to come while also providing a broad base for the future authors to build upon This volume has a practical orientation Its contributions deal directly with research on those environmental matters on which government agencies and other organisations formulate policies or develop design strategies This therefore covers the assessment and evaluation of designs and design proposals as well as background research to policy issues      Synopses from the Swedish Building Research Statens råd för byggnadsforskning (Sweden),1992      Design Intervention (Routledge Revivals) Wolfgang F. E. Preiser,Jacqueline Vischer,Edward White,2015-05-15 Design Intervention Toward a More Humane Architecture first published in 1991 intends to demonstrate that interest in social issues is alive and well in architecture that there is a small but effective cadre of dedicated professionals who continue to commit themselves to solving social problems and that architecture is being applied to the alleviation of the social ills of our time The editors and contributors in this book have all grappled with their own definitions of design innovation and express in practical and useful ways their ideas for contributing to a better and less needy world through the architecture they describe This book will be of interest to students of architecture      Ageing, Wellbeing and Climate Change in the Arctic Paivi Naskali,Marjaana Seppänen,Shahnaj Begum,2015-11-19 The Arctic and its unique natural resources have become objects of increasing concern Rapid climate change and ageing of the population are transforming the living conditions in the region This translates into an urgent need for information that will contribute to a better understanding of these issues Ageing Wellbeing and Climate Change in the Arctic addresses the important intersection of ageing wellbeing and climate change in the Arctic region making a key interdisciplinary contribution to an area of research on which little has been written and limited sources of information are currently available The book explores three key areas of discussion First various political issues that are currently affecting the Arctic such as the social categorisation of elderly people Second the living conditions of the elderly in relation to Arctic climate change Third the wellbeing of elderly people in terms of traditional knowledge and lifestyles The book also features contributions from a number of key researchers in the field which examine a broad range of case studies including the impact of climate change on health in Lapland and elderly people and geographical mobility in Norway This book will be of great interest to scholars of climate change gerontology and social policy      Sweden Leland B. Sather,Alan Swanson,1987

Handbook of Environmental Psychology and Quality of Life Research Ghozlane Fleury-Bahi, Enric Pol, Oscar Navarro, 2016-08-12 This Handbook presents a broad overview of the current research carried out in environmental psychology which puts into perspective quality of life and relationships with living spaces and shows how this original analytical framework can be used to understand different environmental and societal issues Adopting an original approach this Handbook focuses on the links with other specialties in psychology especially social and health psychology together with other disciplines such as geography architecture sociology anthropology urbanism and engineering Faced with the problems of society which involve the quality of life of individuals and communities it is fundamental to consider the relationships an individual has with his different living spaces This issue of the links between quality of life and environment is becoming increasingly significant with at a local level problems resulting from different types of annoyances such as pollution and noise while at a global level there is the central question of climate change with its harmful consequences for humans and the planet How can the impact on well being of environmental nuisances and threats for example natural risks pollution and noise be reduced How can the quality of life within daily living spaces home cities work environments be improved Why is it important to understand the psychological issues of our relationship with the global environment climatic warming ecological behaviours This Handbook is intended not only for students of various disciplines geography architecture psychology town planning etc but also for social decision makers and players who will find in it both theoretical and methodological perspectives so that psychological and environmental dimensions can be better taken into account in their working practices
