The Elusive Prince Of Denmark:

The Elusive Prince of Denmark Adebayo O. Olukoshi, 1998 Background context to the governance debate African Voices on Structural Adjustment Codesria, International Development Research Centre (Canada), 2003 African Voices on Structural Adjustment presents 14 in depth studies on the history and future of structural adjustment in Africa Each study appraises the performance of structural adjustment policies SAPs with respect to a particular sector or issue Each evaluates the compatibility of SAPs with the requirements for long term development in Africa And most importantly each presents a truly African perspective The contributors represent an outstanding collection of leading African economists and development experts This volume is intended as a companion to Our Continent Our Future It will appeal to students professors academics and researchers in development economics and African studies professionals in donor organizations around the world and economic policymakers in both the governmental and non governmental sectors Authoritarian Capitalism in the Age of Globalization Peter Bloom, 2023-02-14 Authoritarian capitalism is rapidly evolving intensifying and spreading across the globe This updated second edition book demonstrates that the recent resurgence of fascism and repressive democracies are connected to and symptomatic of the fundamental authoritarianism of capitalism Good Governance in the Era of Global Neoliberalism Jolle Demmers, Alex E. Fernández Jilberto, Barbara Hogenboom, 2004 By making use of a wide range of in depth case studies from various developing countries and post communist states this book analyzes the causes and effects of neoliberal restructuring and the process of depolitization that went with it The contributors critically examine the contradictory nature of good governance and the consequences that have been seen to go with it This important book provides a contribution to the literature on good governance It will provide an interesting read for those with an interest in economics and development studies as well as being useful to policy makers and non governmental organizations BOOK JACKET Taken For A Ride Matteo Rizzo, 2017-05-26 How does public transport work in an African city under neoliberalism Who owns what in it Who has the power to influence its shape and changes in it over time What does it mean to be a precarious and informal worker in the private minibuses that provide public transport in Dar es Salaam These are the main questions that inform this in depth case study of Dar es Salaam s public transport system over more than forty years The growth of cities and informal economies are two central manifestations of globalization in the developing world Taken for a Ride addresses both drawing on long term fieldwork in Dar es Salaam Tanzania and charting its public transport system s journey from public to private provision This new addition to the Critical Frontiers of Theory Research and Practice in International Development Studies series investigates this shift alongside the increasing deregulation of the sector and the resulting chaotic modality of public transport It reviews state attempts to regain control over public transport and documents how informal wage relations prevailed in the sector The changing political attitude of workers towards employers and the state is investigated from an initial incapacity to respond to exploitation to the political organisation and unionisation which won workers concessions on labour rights A longitudinal study of workers throws light on patterns of occupational mobility in the sector and the political and economic interests that shaped the introduction of Bus Rapid Transit in Dar es Salaam and local resistance to it are analysed Taken for a Ride reveals the political economy of public transport exposing the limitations of market fundamentalist and post colonial scholarship on economic informality the urban experience in developing countries and the failure to locate the agency of the urban poor within their economic and political structures It is both a contribution and a call for the contextualised study of actually existing neoliberalism Land Tenure, Gender and Globalisation Dzodzi Tsikata, Pamela Golah, 2010 Drawing from field research in Cameroon Ghana Vietnam and the Amazon forests of Brazil Bolivia and Peru this book explores the relationship between gender and land revealing the workings of global capital and of people s responses to it A central theme is the people s resistance to global forces frequently through an insistence on the uniqueness of their livelihoods For instance in the Amazon the focus is on the social movements that have emerged in the context of struggles over land rights concerning the extraction of Brazil nuts and babacu kernels in an increasingly globalised market In Vietnam the process of de collectivising rights to land is examined with a view to understand how gender and other social differences are reworked in a market economy The book addresses a gap in the literature on land tenure and gender in developing countries It raises new questions about the process of globalisation particularly about who the actors are local people the state NGOs multinational companies and the shifting relations amongst them The book also challenges the very concepts of gender land and globalization West African Worlds Reginald Cline-Cole, Elsbeth Robson, 2016-02-17 West African Worlds provides a critical assessment of social economic and political change in Africa s most populous and arguably most externally focused region With an emphasis on globalisation and modernisation case studies and commentary are integrated throughout to highlight the concerns and issues of the region Enriched by an impressive mix of West African voices this text combines theory and application with policy and practice to address socio economic change the pursuit of livelihoods and development within West Africa Global Restructuring and Land Rights in Ghana Kojo Amanor, 1999 The report highlights the long history of commodification of land and labour in Ghana linked to speculative activities and more recently to the activities of international capital agribusiness international agricultural centres and agencies of the state It makes the case for a new land agrarian and natural resource regime that prioritises domestic economic needs to provide security of livelihood to the generality of the people The Gendered Impacts of Liberalization Shahra Razavi, 2009-01-13 In the last two decades public policies have reflected a drive for accelerated global economic integration globalization associated with greater economic liberalization The outcomes have been largely disappointing even in the estimate of their designers Rural livelihoods have become more insecure and the expected growth has rarely materialized Insecurity is also etched into the growth of informal economies across the world Yet the economic policy agenda that has been so adverse to many people around the world has also provided new opportunities to some social groups including some low income women In response to widespread discontent with the liberalization agenda more attention is now being given to social policies and governance issues viewed as necessary if globalization is to be tamed and embedded The contributors to this volume address key issues and questions such as whether states have the capacity to remedy the social distress unleashed by liberalization in the absence of any major revision of their macroeconomic policies and whether the proposed social policy reforms can redress gender based inequalities in access to resources and power

Politics, Economy, and Society in Twentieth-Century Nigeria Tokunbo A. Ayoola, Ayodeji Olukoju, 2023-09-25

Politics Economy and Society in Twentieth Century Nigeria by Ayodeji Olukoju and Tokunbo A Ayoola examines key social political and economic issues in Nigeria since the colonial period This book brings together writings on colonial postcolonial and contemporary history of Nigeria that provide a panoramic view of diversity bridge gaps in Nigerian history and engage with pioneering scholarship in railway and social history in Nigeria by James Olawale Oyemakinde Some of the themes and perspectives discussed throughout this collection include contemporary challenges of poverty unemployment leadership and governance deficit entrepreneurship urbanization and the underdevelopment of the agricultural and transport systems Politics Economy and Society in Twentieth Century Nigeria demonstrates that understanding the past helps to develop appropriate policies for contemporary challenges As highlighted in this volume it is important to appreciate the significance of context in historical explanation and in the application and adaptation of ideas across space and time Our Continent,

Our Future P. Thandika Mkandawire, Charles Chukwuma Soludo, 1999 Our Continent Our Future African perspectives on structural adjustment Cross-border Trade and the Parallel Currency Market Yahaya Hashim, Kate Meagher, 1999 The authors of this study challenge the assumptions of the World Bank that the expansion in informal cross border trade is a vindication of the market liberalizing thrust of structural adjustment and that adjustment policies have improved the effectiveness of an independent bourgeoisie that is emerging out of this trade as an agent of regional integration Instead they make the case for the adoption of what they call a development approach for tapping the benefits of the informal currency markets as an alternative to the market coercion of structural adjustment Multinational Companies and Conflicts in Africa Rose Ngomba-Roth, 2007 Nigeria Africa's most populated country is rich in ethnic diversity a reason why it suffers from many conflicts The country is one of the top five oil producers The recent resource crisis in the Niger Delta is caused by poor division of resources underdevelopment and mismanagement The failure of the young democracy would have a vehement effect in the country and in Africa as a whole The government has to consolidate its democracy uphold unity and sovereignty To secure democracy it will need support from the Nigerians themselves the multinational oil companies and the international world Anti-Refugee Violence and African Politics Ato Kwamena Onoma, 2013-10-07 Using comparative cases from Guinea Uganda and the Democratic Republic of Congo this study explains why some refugee hosting communities launch large scale attacks on civilian refugees whereas others refrain from such attacks even when encouraged to do so by state officials Ato Kwamena Onoma argues that such outbreaks only happen when states instigate them because of links between a few refugees and opposition groups Locals embrace these attacks when refugees are settled in areas that privilege residence over indigeneity in the distribution of rights ensuring that they live autonomously of local elites The resulting opacity of their lives leads locals to buy into their demonization by the state Locals do not buy into state denunciation of refugees in areas that privilege indigeneity over residence in the distribution of rights because refugees in such areas are subjugated to locals who come to know them very well Onoma reorients the study of refugees back to a focus on the disempowered civilian refugees that constitute the majority of refugees even in cases of severe refugee militarization

Confronting the Shadow State Henri Decoeur, 2018-04-25 This book examines the rules and mechanisms of international law relevant to the suppression of state organized crime and provides a normative justification for developing international legal mechanisms specifically designed to address this phenomenon State organized crime refers to the use by senior state officials of the resources of the state to facilitate or participate in organized crime in pursuit of policy objectives or personal profit This concept covers diverse forms of government misconduct including strategic partnerships with drug traffickers the plundering of a country's resources by kleptocrats and high level corruption schemes The book identifies the distinctive criminological characteristics of state organized crime and analyses the applicability potential and limits of the norms and mechanisms of international law relevant to the suppression of state organized crime In particular it discusses whether the involvement of state organs or agents in organized crime may amount to an internationally wrongful act giving rise to the international responsibility of the state and highlights a number of practical and normative shortcomings of the legal framework established by relevant crime suppression conventions The book also sketches proposals to develop an international legal framework designed to hold perpetrators of state organized crime accountable It presents a normative justification for criminalizing and suppressing state organized crime at the international level proposes draft provisions for an international convention for the suppression of state organized crime and discusses the potential role of the UN Security Council and of international criminal courts and tribunals respectively in holding perpetrators accountable Providing the first comprehensive analysis from the perspective of international law of a phenomenon so far mainly studied by criminologists this study would appeal to researchers social activists and policy makers alike

Modernization and the Crisis of Development in Africa Jeremiah I. Dibua, 2017-11-28 In this book Jeremiah I Dibua challenges prevailing notions of Africa's development crisis by drawing attention to the role of modernization as a way of understanding the nature and dynamics of the crisis and how to overcome the problem of underdevelopment He specifically focuses on Nigeria and its development trajectory since it exemplifies the crisis of underdevelopment in the continent He explores various theoretical and empirical issues involved in understanding the crisis including state class gender and culture often neglected in analysis from an interdisciplinary radical political economy perspective This is the first book to adopt such an approach and to develop a new framework for analyzing Nigeria's and Africa's development crisis. It will influence the debate on the development dilemma of African and Third World societies and will be of interest to scholars and students of race and ethnicity, modern African history, class analysis, gender studies, and development studies. Prisoners of Freedom Harri Englund, 2006-09-12 Publisher

Description Private Sector Response to Agricultural Marketing Liberalization in Zambia Dennis Chiwele, Pumulo Muyatwa-Sipula, Henrietta K. C. Kalinda, Henrietta Kalinda, 1998 This report examines the efficacy of the agricultural sector reforms that have been implemented in Zambia since 1991-92 when the MMD government of Fred Chiluba was elected to office. On the basis of empirical material gathered in the field, the report demonstrates the limitations of the reform and identifies a number of constraints that have hampered the private sector and made the agricultural marketing system remain relatively underdeveloped. Contentious Politics, Local Governance and the Self Tim Kelsall, 2004 The Governance Agenda is the framework that currently organizes the West's relations with Africa. The present work is an attempt to see Governance through the lens of a contemporary local history. The report analyzes three periods of contentious politics at local level in Tanzania and two multi-party elections. It provides a window on mismanagement in local government; it examines the intervention by national and local elites in district conflicts and it points to the difficulties ordinary people face in holding their leaders to account. The argument of the report is that current approaches to the study of Governance overlook an essential ingredient for its potential success: namely, the sociological conditions in which forms of collective action conducive to improved political accountability become possible at a grassroots level. The analysis aims to show that economic diversification and multiple livelihoods have given rise to a reticular social structure in which individuals find it difficult to combine to hold their leaders to account. People have fragmented identities formed in networks of social relations which impedes the emergence of strong collective identities appropriate to effective social movements. Voting with Their Feet Rudo B. Gaidzanwa, 1999 This research report examines the ways in which medical professionals have responded to the changing environment of work and livelihood in Zimbabwe since the adoption of a structural adjustment program. Of particular interest are those doctors and nurses who took a decision to migrate from Zimbabwe to Botswana and South Africa in search of greener pastures.
