CompEd study took the initiative to invite the countries participating in the study as well as some other countries that have had interesting developments in the domain of educational computers to write a chapter describing their policies and practices regarding computers in education

This Day in Sports Ernie Gross,2017-07-06 Sports events represent for many landmarks for memories contexts that securely fix moments in past time And in America perhaps more than in any other country they are part of what connects the individual to the multitude When we add them to our remembrances they subtly suggest that like sporting contests our personal tales are fit for public consumption How easy and natural it is to add a little referential sidebar to the stories we tell I started work in January I remember because the Bills had just lost the Super Bowl the fourth one On a broader scale sports have left their imprint on the stony history of the nation Beginning slowly with a game of bowls 1611 something like miniature golf in New England 1652 horse racing on Long Island and billiards in Charlestown 1722 the sporting life then gained momentum and a firmer grip on the national conscience with the early play of baseball basketball and football games that would come to dominate the sports scene in 20th century America Organized by day of the year this volume provides the browser the trivia buff and the sports historian a record of thousands of frames matches series and championships Whether it s the day a bases loaded walk gave the National League its 16th All Star victory in 17 seasons July 17 1979 or the day Harvard defeated Yale and Brown in the first ever intercollegiate regatta July 26 1859 there s something new buried within the tome s 365 layers for even the most knowledgeable fans

Who's who in New York City and State Lewis Randolph Hamersly,John W. Leonard,William Frederick Mohr,Herman Warren Knox,Frank R. Holmes,Winfield Scott Downs,1907 Containing authentic biographies of New Yorkers who are leaders and representatives in various departments of worthy human achievement including sketches of every army and navy officer born in or appointed from New York and now serving of all the congressmen from the state all state senators and judges and all ambassadors ministers and consuls appointed from New York      Smokin' Rockets Patrick Lucanio, Gary Coville, 2002-06-25 Science and technology had a significant influence on American culture and thought in the years immediately following World War II. The new wonders of science and the threat of the Soviet Union as a powerful new enemy made science fiction a popular genre in radio, television, and film. Mutant creatures spawned by radioactive energy and intergalactic dictators unleashing horrific weapons upon Earth were characteristic of science fiction at the time and served as warnings to the very real dangers posed by the atomic age. This work examines science and science fiction in American culture beginning in the year World War II ended and going to 1962, the year of John Glenn's orbital flight and the Cuban Missile Crisis. The radio work of Arch Oboler and the significance of his Rocket from Manhattan, which aired only one month after the dropping of the first atomic bomb, and asked serious questions about the use of atomic energy are examined. Other topics are the conflict between the free world and the Communist world in the context of science fiction plot lines, the dangers of science as shown in films like Godzilla, Them, The Day the Earth Stood Still, and radio and television programs, the flying saucer phenomenon, and the treatment of such stories in the media, with special attention given to the 1956 documentary UFO. The changing and more positive depictions of scientists, television programs like Flash Gordon and Space Patrol, the shift in the balance of world power due to the successful launching of Sputnik I by the Russians in 1957, the end of the world theme in science fiction, and the American journey into space.

To My Dearest Wife, Lide M. Patrick Sauer, David A. Ranzan, 2019-07-16 A personal account of Commodore Perry's landmark expedition to Japan and life in the antebellum navy. George B. Gideon Jr. served as second assistant engineer aboard the USS Powhatan from 1852 to 1856. From his position on the steam frigate, Gideon traveled to Singapore, Labuan, Borneo, Hong Kong, and many other Asian lands. During his time at sea, Gideon penned dozens of letters to his wife Lide back home in Philadelphia. Recently discovered in the attic of his great-great-grandniece were fifty-one letters penned by Gideon, providing thorough and insightful commentary throughout the voyage. Through these correspondences, Gideon laboriously documents the details of his daily life on board, from the food they ate to the technical aspects of his work, as well as observations concerning the historical events unfolding around him, such as Chinese piracy, the Taiping Rebellion, the Crimean War, and the devastation of Shimoda. To My Dearest Wife, Lide: Letters from George B. Gideon Jr. during Commodore Perry's Expedition to Japan 1853-1855 is a rare first-person account of the landmark American naval expedition to Japan to establish commercial relations between the two countries. Gideon's letters have been meticulously transcribed and annotated by the editors and are an invaluable primary historical source. Gideon's letters are candid and revealing, delving into the rampant dysfunction in the navy of the 1850s, sickness and disease, alcohol abuse, and poor leadership among other challenges. Gideon also unabashedly shares his own cynical views of the navy's role in supporting American economic interests in Japan. This firsthand account of the political mission of the Perry expedition is a unique contribution to naval and military history and gives readers a better view of life aboard a navy ship.

Baseball's Who's Who

of What Ifs Bill Deane, 2021-04-06 The greatest players in baseball history are honored in the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown New York Fans and sports journalists often lament about players who might have joined the immortal ranks if only fate circumstances injury or even death hadn't intervened Presenting a who's who of what ifs this book focuses on 40 well known non inductees such as Tony Conigliaro Denny McLain and Jose Fernandez along with many others all but lost to history such as Ross Barnes Charlie Ferguson and Hal Trosky Also included are more than 100 honorable mentions covering all of pro baseball history from the 1860s to the 2010s      NBS Special Publication ,1964
