The Enduring Years:

1991: The Year That Turned It Up to Eleven Rod Perry, Strap in for another wild ride through British pop culture as we crank the volume and dive headfirst into 1991 the year that gave us Britpop s first rumblings the birth of The Big Breakfast and the greatest shell suit and bum bag combinations ever to grace a shopping precinct From Chesney Hawkes declaring himself our one and only to Bryan Adams refusing to leave the top of the charts for 16 weeks this was the year of marathon hits Channel 4 cheek and video shops packed with Terminator 2 Hook and Silence of the Lambs With John Major settling into Number 10 and the Gulf War dominating the headlines Britain was changing fast but not fast enough to stop Noel s House Party from taking over Saturday nights or kids nationwide from swapping Pogs and slamming their fingers in the doors of Clarks Magic Steps Whether you were watching Byker Grove bopping to 2 Unlimited or just waiting for the next Yellow Pages ad to break your heart this is your definitive guide to a year when everything felt bold bonkers and brilliantly alive 1991 when we all learned that Hasta la vista baby wasn t just a catchphrase It was a lifestyle 1999: The Year That Partied Like It Was... Well, You Know Rod Perry, If the entire decade had been building towards one moment 1999 was it a glittering bug fearing millennium hurtling pop culture crescendo There was excitement There was panic There were an awful lot of silver trousers Prince s prophecy finally came true and everyone was partying like it was 1999 because it was 1999 Ricky Martin brought the Livin La Vida Loca energy Steps kept us synchronised and Christina Britney and J Lo took over our CD shelves our walls and our dial up internet connections The charts were shiny and sugar rush silly but the cinema was all about cool black coats and coded messages The Matrix blew our minds and bent our spoons Meanwhile Fight Club told us not to talk about it and The Blair Witch Project scared the VHS fuzz out of us Sopranos changed TV forever and The Sixth Sense made us realise we d been wrong the entire time We got S Club 7 we got Craig David and we got Napster which meant we could now ruin the music industry from the comfort of our own bedrooms All while anxiously hoarding baked beans in case the Millennium Bug turned off the world 1999 the year the 90s took a final glittery bow and the 2000s peeked around the corner wearing wraparound sunglasses 1995: The Year That Went Full Britpop Rod Perry, Ah 1995 the year Oasis and Blur declared chart war Diana bared her soul on Panorama and the phrase Cool Britannia started to mean something even if no one quite knew what It was the year Take That broke hearts with Back for Good Pulp turned up at Glastonbury as last minute legends and Michael Jackson floated across the BRITs stage on a cherry picker only for Jarvis Cocker to moonwalk into pop culture infamy While Tony Blair rebranded Labour with a grin and a promise and the Tories continued to fall apart in glorious slow motion the rest of us were watching Father Ted quoting The Fast Show and dancing badly to Scatman John Over at the cinema Toy Story blew our tiny minds Braveheart shouted FREEDOM and Clueless made it clear that knee socks and cluelessness were officially chic From MiniDisc players and miniskirts to Euro 96 anticipation and Brit Awards bedlam 1995 was bold messy and unapologetically loud 1995 the year Britain found its swagger and very nearly lost the plot 1990: The Year That Changed Everything Rod Perry, Welcome to 1990 a year when Margaret Thatcher said goodbye Twin Peaks said hello and the nation held its breath as Gazza wept and England almost brought football home This is your front row seat to the year that launched the 90s in glorious chaotic style Relive the soundtrack of the time from the rise of Madchester and the baggy revolution to the chart topping anthems that blared from cassette players and Top of the Pops Remember the fashion Shell suits scrunchies and stonewashed denim galore The news Poll tax riots the fall of Thatcher and the dawn of a new political age The telly Keeping Up Appearances The Crystal Maze and One Foot in the Grave pure gold Packed with pop culture politics big headlines and even bigger hair 1990 is a time capsule of a nation on the cusp of change Whether you were there or just wish you had been this is your ultimate guide to a year that shaped a decade

1992: The Year That Got Real Rod Perry, Welcome back to Britain 1992 a year of high hopes hard headlines and Heart FM making its debut on the airwaves John Major was clinging on in Number 10 Charles and Diana were coming apart at the seams and the nation was gripped by a general election only to be floored months later by Black Wednesday Oh and Mr Blobby was lurking just around the corner But while the economy wobbled pop culture soared Take That asked us to pray Snap demanded that we rhythm and Whitney broke our hearts all over again with I Will Always Love You Over on telly Absolutely Fabulous burst onto the scene in a puff of champagne and sarcasm while The Big Breakfast turned mornings upside down We flocked to the cinema to see Wayne s World A Few Good Men and The Bodyguard queued outside Woolworths for Super Mario Kart and debated whether Men Behaving Badly was hilariously relatable or mildly terrifying From scrunchies to Sega royal scandals to rave culture 1992 is your definitive guide to a year that started off sensibly and quickly spiralled into something far more fun

1994: The Year That Gave Zero Chill Rod Perry, Welcome to 1994 the year Kurt left us Four Weddings made us weep and swear and Friends taught us that life was better with coffee sarcasm and a central perk This was the year Britpop officially clocked in with Blur and Oasis preparing to square off while Parklife became a national catchphrase East 17 wore puffa jackets in July Pulp Fiction reinvented cool and The Lion King reminded us all how to cry in a cinema On telly The Vicar of Dibley brought holy laughter TFI Friday was just around the corner and Eurotrash introduced us to a world we definitely weren t ready for Meanwhile Tony Blair was polishing his smile John Smith left us far too soon and the Tories were losing friends faster than Richard Madeley could ask a guest if they were a bit mad Whether you were playing Sonic Knuckles rewinding your Ace of Base tape or taping The O Zone off the telly 1994 was the year everything got a bit faster a bit louder and a whole lot weirder 1994 the year we all realised the 90s weren t just happening they were taking over
