Iranian Intellectuals in the Twentieth Century Ali Gheissari, 2010-01-01 Since the middle of the nineteenth century Iranian intellectuals have been preoccupied by issues of political and social reform Iran's relation with the modern West and autocracy or arbitrary rule Drawing from a close reading of a broad array of primary sources this book offers a thematic account of the Iranian intelligentsia from the Constitutional movement of 1905 to the post 1979 revolution Ali Gheissari shows how in Iran as in many other countries intellectuals have been the prime mediators between the forces of tradition and modernity and have contributed significantly to the formation of the modern Iranian self image His analysis of intellectuals response to a number of fundamental questions such as nationalism identity and the relation between Islam and modern politics sheds new light on the factors that led to the Iranian Revolution the twentieth century's first major departure from Western political ideals and helps explain the complexities surrounding the reception of Western ideologies in the Middle East

Inventing the Middle East Guillemette Crouzet, 2022-10-15 The Middle East has long been an indispensable and ubiquitous term in discussing world affairs yet its history remains curiously underexplored Few question the origin of the term or the boundaries of the region commonly understood to have emerged in the twentieth century after World War I Guillemette Crouzet offers a new account in Inventing the Middle East The book traces the idea of the Middle East to a century long British imperial zenith in the Indian subcontinent and its violent overspill into the Persian Gulf and its hinterlands Encroachment into the Gulf region began under the expansionist East India Company It was catalyzed by Napoleon's invasion of Egypt and heightened by gunboat attacks conducted in the name of pacifying Arab pirates Throughout the 1800s the British secured this crucial geopolitical arena transforming it into both a crossroads of land and sea and a borderland guarding British India's western flank Establishing this informal imperial system involved a triangle of actors in London the subcontinent and the Gulf region itself By the nineteenth century's end amid renewed waves of inter imperial competition this nexus of British interests and narratives in the Gulf region would occasion the appearance of a new name the Middle East Charting the spatial political and cultural emergence of the Middle East Inventing the Middle East reveals the deep roots of the twentieth century's geographic upheavals

Islamic Orient Pallavi Pandit Laisram, 2014-07-11 The Islamic Orient studies the travel accounts of four British travelers during the nineteenth century Through a critical analysis of these works the author examines and questions Edward Said's concept of Orientalism and Orientalist discourse his argument that the orientalist view had such a strong influence on westerners that they invariably perceived the orient through the lens of orientalism On the contrary the author argues no single factor had an overwhelming influence on them She shows that westerners often struggled with their own conceptions of the orient and being away for long periods from their homelands were in fact able to stand between cultures and view them both as insiders and outsiders The literary devices used to examine these writings are structure characterization satire landscape description and word choice as also the social and political milieu of the writers The major influences in the author's analysis are Said Foucault Abdel Malek and Marie Louise Pratt Private Collectors of Islamic Art in Late

Farewell Shiraz Cyrus Kadivar, 2017-06-16 A poignant memoir of pre 1979 Iran and the human drama behind the fall of the last shah In October 1999 during a trip to Cairo Cyrus Kadivar an exiled Iranian living in London visited the tomb of the last shah and opened a Pandora's box Haunted by nostalgia for a bygone era he recalled a protected and idyllic childhood in the fabled city of Shiraz and his coming of age during the 1979 Iranian revolution Back in London he reflected on what had happened to him and his family after their uprooting and decided to conduct his own investigation into why he lost his country He spent the next ten years seeking out witnesses who would shed light on the last days of Pahlavi rule Among those he met were a former empress ex courtiers disaffected revolutionaries and the bereaved relatives of those who perished in the cataclysm In Farewell Shiraz Kadivar tells the story of his family and childhood against the tumultuous backdrop of twentieth century Iran from the 1905 1907 Constitutional Revolution to the fall of Mohammad Reza Shah Pahlavi before presenting accounts of his meetings with key witnesses to the Shah's fall and the rise of Khomeini Each of the people interviewed provides a richly detailed picture of the momentous events that took place and the human drama behind them Combining exquisite vignettes with rare testimonials and first hand interviews Farewell Shiraz draws us into a sweeping yet often intimate account of a vanished world and offers a compelling investigation into a political earthquake whose reverberations still live with us today

History of civilizations of Central Asia Adle, Chahryar, Baipakov, Karl M., Habib, Irfan, UNESCO, 2003-12-31 The period treated in this volume is highlighted by the slow retreat of nomadism and the progressive increase of sedentary polities owing to a fundamental change in military technology Furthermore this period certainly saw a growing contrast in the pace of economic and cultural progress between Central Asia and Europe The internal growth of the European economies and the influx of silver from the New World gave Atlantic Europe an increasingly important position in world trade and caused a major shift in inland Asian trade Thus 1850 marks the end of the total sway of pre modern culture as the extension of colonial dominance was accompanied by the influx of modern ideas

Return of a King William Dalrymple, 2013-04-16 From William Dalrymple award winning historian journalist and travel writer a masterly retelling of what was perhaps the West's greatest imperial disaster in the East and an important

parable of neocolonial ambition folly and hubris that has striking relevance to our own time With access to newly discovered primary sources from archives in Afghanistan Pakistan Russia and India including a series of previously untranslated Afghan epic poems and biographies the author gives us the most immediate and comprehensive account yet of the spectacular first battle for Afghanistan the British invasion of the remote kingdom in 1839 Led by lancers in scarlet cloaks and plumed helmets and facing little resistance nearly 20 000 British and East India Company troops poured through the mountain passes from India into Afghanistan in order to reestablish Shah Shuja ul Mulk on the throne and as their puppet But after little more than two years the Afghans rose in answer to the call for jihad and the country exploded into rebellion This First Anglo Afghan War ended with an entire army of what was then the most powerful military nation in the world ambushed and destroyed in snowbound mountain passes by simply equipped Afghan tribesmen Only one British man made it through But Dalrymple takes us beyond the bare outline of this infamous battle and with penetrating balanced insight illuminates the uncanny similarities between the West s first disastrous entanglement with Afghanistan and the situation today He delineates the straightforward facts Shah Shuja and President Hamid Karzai share the same tribal heritage the Shah s principal opponents were the Ghilzai tribe who today make up the bulk of the Taliban s foot soldiers the same cities garrisoned by the British are today garrisoned by foreign troops attacked from the same rings of hills and high passes from which the British faced attack Dalrymple also makes clear the byzantine complexity of Afghanistan s age old tribal rivalries the stranglehold they have on the politics of the nation and the ways in which they ensnared both the British in the nineteenth century and NATO forces in the twenty first Informed by the author s decades long firsthand knowledge of Afghanistan and superbly shaped by his hallmark gifts as a narrative historian and his singular eye for the evocation of place and culture The Return of a King is both the definitive analysis of the First Anglo Afghan War and a work of stunning topicality Iran at the Paris Peace Conference Philip Grobier,2024-06-27 The end of the Qajar era in Iran despite the accepted narrative of decline was in fact an occasion of modern and forward thinking nationalism Iran developed an imperial nationalism which was informed by its experiences under British and Russian hegemony and the absorption of Western modern ideas and practices and which now looked towards a future as a sovereign and independent state within the foundational framework of its previous Empire Emboldened by post WWI notions of self determination and the development of international institutions devoted to peace Iran spearheaded its new found diplomacy by sending a delegation to the peace talks in Paris in 1919 This book shows how Iran s immediate post war diplomacy came about the conduct of Iran s delegation to Paris frustrations with the Anglo Persian Agreement and ultimately how Iran s progress became the victim of British imperialism Throwing a spotlight on an under researched period of Iranian history it will be of interest to readers of Iranian history and those interested in the Paris Peace Conference of 1919 The Wars of Napoleon Charles J Esdaile,2019-02-18 First published in 1995 to great critical acclaim The Wars of Napoleon provides students with a comprehensive survey of the Napoleonic Wars around the central theme of the scale of French military power and its impact on other European states from Portugal to Russia and from Scandinavia to Sicily The book introduces the reader to the rise of Napoleon and the wider diplomatic and political context before analysing such subjects as how France came to dominate Europe the impact of French conquest and the spread of French ideas the response of European powers the experience of the conflicts of 1799 1815 on such areas of the world as the West Indies India and South America the reasons why Napoleon's triumph proved ephemeral and the long term impact of the period This second edition has been revised throughout to include a completely re-written section on collaboration and resistance a new chapter on the impact of the Napoleonic Wars in the wider world and material on the various ways in which women became involved in or were affected by the conflict Thoroughly updated and offering students a view of the subject that challenges many preconceived ideas The Wars of Napoleon remains an essential resource for all students of the French Revolutionary Wars as well as students of European and military history during this period

China and Iran Edward Burman, 2009-08-03 China and Iran have featured heavily in the news in recent years China is both a military and an economic superpower with 20% of the world's population Iran is suspected of developing nuclear weapons and arming terrorists and sits on the world's second largest oil and gas reserves They are also surprisingly close geographically Iran is only 700 miles across Afghanistan from China's extreme western border A 25 year 100 billion deal to supply China with oil and gas and the large number of Chinese companies operating in Iran shows that the two are moving increasingly close in both political and economic terms But what does this mean for the rest of the world and especially for the West Edward Burman examines how the strikingly similar histories of these two ancient civilisations can inform what the likely consequences for the world of an alliance between them might be

Slavery, Diplomacy and Empire Keith Hamilton, 2013-03-04 Throughout the nineteenth century British governments engaged in a global campaign against the slave trade They sought through coercion and diplomacy to suppress the trade on the high seas and in Africa and Asia This collection of essays examines the role played by individuals and institutions in the diplomacy of suppression
