U.S. Geological Survey Bulletin ,1983 Zeolites and Zeolitic Reactions in Sedimentary Rocks Richard LeRoy Hay,1966 Mineralogy and Geology of Natural Zeolites Fred A. Mumpton,2018-12-17 Volume 4 of Reviews in Mineralogy was prepared to serve as notes for a short course on the Mineralogy and Geology of Natural Zeolites held in Seattle Washington November 4 6 1977 The title of the short course reads Natural Zeolites however the subject matter treated in the course and reviewed here deals primarily with those zeolites that occur in sedimentary rocks and which have formed by authigenic or burial diagenetic processes Unfortunately only limited coverage has been given to the classical occurrences of zeolites the megascopic crystals in the vugs and cavities of basalts and other basic igneous rocks Our only justification is that since the late 1950s almost all major efforts on zeolites have been directed towards the sedimentary occurrences and it is these occurrences of zeolites in sedimentary rocks that are still unfamiliar to many geologists and mineralogists It is our intention that this short course and these notes will play a small role in alleviating this unfamiliarity A Preliminary Report on the Geology and Gold Deposits of the Rochford District, Black Hills, South Dakota Richard William Bayley,1972
