Street Sense For Women:

Streetsense Kate Dernocoeur, 2019-10-23 Industry leaders who read any of the three prior editions of Streetsense over the years starting in 1986 often say it had a huge impact on their street careers This fourth edition still addresses the triad of communication safety and control but it also reflects the evolution of the emergency care industry since the arrival of the millennium computers and cellphones social media active shooters and much much more This book offers emergency providers methods for managing all sorts of situations safely and effectively THE THREE MAIN PILLARS OF STREETSENSE Interpersonal communication with people of all sorts including your colleagues Safety in various aspects such as managing crowds traffic and weaponized situations Control of such things as all types of scenes stress death and dying and even legal matters Early in her career on the streets Kate realized how much more there was to learn beyond the straight medical training From her mentors and years of observation and experimentation she learned the craft of emergency care This book offers scores of tips and tricks and traps for helping people in crisis Just as many industry leaders have discovered it is a seriously helpful book

Squatter Leah Leonardsen, 2002-11-25 Living underground is not a bed of roses But I m living a dreamers life with a dream in a place a time that makes a difference when one is born in the Americas and experienced growing up with ration cards steel bands calypso Jazz bands rock n roll free sex passion can can in fashion bomb scares Coca cola Pepsi bubble gum all fought for and won a place in the sun while men walked on the moon

Women Doing Life Lora Bex Lempert, 2016-02-19 In Women Doing Life Lora Bex Lempert examines the carceral experiences of women serving life sentences presenting a typology of the ways that life sentenced women grow and self actualize resist prison definitions reflect on and own their criminal acts and ultimately create meaningful lives behind prison walls Looking beyond the explosive headlines that often characterize these women as monsters Lempert offers rare insight into this vulnerable little studied population Her gendered analysis considers the ways that women do crime differently than men and how they have qualitatively different experiences of imprisonment than their male counterparts Provided by publisher

Women and Sex Tourism Landscapes Erin Sanders-McDonagh, 2016-08-12 Sexual spaces normally inhabited by mostly female sex workers are understood as masculine spaces and positioned for and around male consumers However red light zones and public sex performances in both Thailand and Holland are being explored and visually consumed by female tourists in significant numbers Their presence in red light districts and sexual venues is at odds with the ways in which sexual spaces have normally been positioned Woman and Sex Tourism Landscapes explores female tourists interactions with highly sexualized spaces and places in two very different contexts the Netherlands and Thailand Addressing this incongruence this text explores the ways in which these spaces are constructed and examines the different relations that govern the management of and female tourist interactions with these liminal sexual zones Ethnographic data collected in both countries suggests that far from being male centred spaces the red light districts and associated sexual entertainment venues are very much open to female tourists Drawing on this research the author argues that some women are indeed interested in exploring sexualized zones challenging assumptions about women s involvements with sexual space Thinking specifically about the visual nature of women s sexualized experiences the analysis draws on a range of different theoretical understandings that address power privilege and the gaze An important contribution to a range of debates this book will appeal to students and researchers in tourism geography sociology gender studies and cultural theory

Black Mecca Zain Abdullah, 2010-09-30 The changes to U S immigration law that were instituted in 1965 have led to an influx of West African immigrants to New York creating an enclave Harlem residents now call Little Africa These immigrants are immediately recognizable as African in their wide sleeved robes and tasseled hats but most native born members of the community are unaware of the crucial role Islam plays in immigrants lives Zain Abdullah takes us inside the lives of these new immigrants and shows how they deal with being a double minority in a country where both blacks and Muslims are stigmatized Dealing with this dual identity Abdullah discovers is extraordinarily complex Some longtime residents embrace these immigrants and see their arrival as an opportunity to reclaim their African heritage while others see the immigrants as scornful invaders In turn African immigrants often take a particularly harsh view of their new neighbors buying into the worst stereotypes about American born blacks being lazy and incorrigible And while there has long been a large Muslim presence in Harlem and residents often see Islam as a force for social good African born Muslims see their Islamic identity disregarded by most of their neighbors Abdullah weaves together the stories of these African Muslims to paint a fascinating portrait of a community's efforts to carve out space for itself in a new country

Autobiographics Leigh Gilmore,1994 In the first comprehensive feminist critique of autobiography as a genre Leigh Gilmore incorporates writings that have not up to now been considered part of the autobiographical tradition Offering subtle and perceptive readings of a wide variety of texts from the confessions of medieval mystics to contemporary works by Chicana and lesbian writers she identifies an innovative practice of autobiographics which covers the entire spectrum of women's self representation

Rhetorics for Community Action Phyllis Mentzell Ryder,2012-07-10 Rhetorics for Community Action Public Writing and Writing Publics by Phyllis Mentzell Ryder offers theory and pedagogy to introduce public writing as a complex political and creative action To write public texts we have to invent the public we wish to address Such invention is a complex task with many components to consider exigency that brings people together a sense of agency and capacity a sense of how the world is and what it can become All these components constantly compete against texts that put forward other public ideals opposing ideas about who really has power and who really can create change Teachers of public writing must adopt a generous response to those who venture into this arena Some scholars believe that to prepare students for public life university classes should partner with grassroots community organizations rather than nonprofits that serve food or tutor students They worry that a service related focus will create more passive citizens who do not rally and resist or grab the attention of government leaders or corporations With carefully contextualized study of an after school arts program an area soup kitchen and parks organizations among others Ryder shows that many so called service organizations are not passive places at all and she argues that the main challenge of public work is precisely that it has to take place among all of these compelling definitions of democracy Ryder proposes teaching public writing by partnering with multiple community nonprofits She develops a framework to help students analyze how their community partners inspire people to action and offers a course design that support them as they convey those public ideals in community texts But composing public texts is only part of the challenge Traditional newspapers and magazines through their business models and writing styles reinforce a dominant role for citizens as thinking and reading but not necessarily acting This civic role is also professed

The Delicate Balance Adrienne Evans Johnson,2011-10-05 Marriage is in crisis The divorce rate is high and both men and women have gravitated to roles that are unstable unhealthy and unnatural The thing that we desire the most seems to give the most turmoil How can it be that God created marriage as the foundational relationship for society and yet it is the most difficult of relationships How is it that God said It is not good for man to be alone yet every time man and woman get together their union brings more smoke than fire Is it the two becoming one that creates the problem or the choices we make in marriage God has a wonderful plan for marriage that carefully blooms into a delightful union when you choose Him as your guide Every woman who desires a marriage made in heaven will appreciate Adriennes honest open and real approach to the difficult areas of marriage She shares real life experiences that inspire encourage and re affirm the value of womanhood and the beauty of holy matrimony

Critical Method and Contemporary Film Christopher K. Brooks, 2019-09-24 This volume offers film enthusiasts and teachers an investigation into what film critics do and examines what ideologies inform their evaluations By employing recent television programs and films and comparing them to older ones the study is able to trace changes in the methodologies of film and media critics The work argues for the emergence of neofuturism as a chosen method of interpretation contrasting with the dominance of postmodernism as the evaluative method through the early years of the new millennium It also asks the questions who evaluates film and why In doing so the study questions the criteria for film evaluation the validity of some reviews and asks the question whether the evaluative system needs to change altogether
