therapy education and training Also the author has concentrated throughout on making the book understandable to clinicians and students with no previous knowledge of behavior modification Besides serving as a valuable handbook for all treatment personnel the book can also be used as a basic text for various courses dealing with mental retardation

Learning to see (better): improving visual deficits with perceptual learning Gianluca Campana,Marcello Maniglia,2015-07-09 Perceptual learning can be defined as a long lasting improvement in a perceptual skill following a systematic training due to changes in brain plasticity at the level of sensory or perceptual areas Its efficacy has been reported for a number of visual tasks such as detection or discrimination of visual gratings De Valois 1977 Fiorentini Mayer 1983 motion direction discrimination Ball Ball Sekuler Shiu Vogels Bennett Fahle 1997 Fahle Kumar McKee Saarinen Casco Campana Campana Ellison Sireteanu Karni 1993 Saarinen Pourtois et al 2008 and extrastriate Ahissar Levi 2005 Levi Zhou et al 2006 myopia Tan Polat et al 2004 Polat 2009 Tan Fong 2008 More recently Maniglia et al 2011 perceptual learning with the lateral interactions paradigm has been successfully used for improving peripheral vision in normal people by improving contrast sensitivity and reducing crowding the interference in target discrimination due to the presence of close elements offering fascinating new perspectives in the rehabilitation of people who suffer of central vision loss such as maculopathy patients partially overcoming the structural differences between fovea and periphery that limit the vision outside the fovea One of the strongest point and a distinguishing feature of perceptual learning is that it does not just improve the subject s performance but produces changes in brain s connectivity and efficiency resulting in long lasting enduring neural changes By tailoring the paradigms on each subject s needs perceptual learning could become the treatment of choice for the rehabilitation of visual functions emerging as a simple procedure that doesn t need expensive equipment

Encyclopedia 2000 Bowker Editorial Staff, 2000-05 Audio-visual Technology and Learning Educational Technology Publications, Incorporated, 1973 Recent insights into perceptual and motor skill learning (The computational and neural processes underlying perceptual and motor skill learning) Lior Shmuelof, John W Krakauer, 2015-03-18 Improvements in task performance following practice can occur as a result of changes in distinct cognitive and neural processes In some cases we can improve our performance by selecting a more successful behavior that is already part of our available repertoire Skill learning on the other hand refers to a slower process that results in improving the ability to perform a behavior i e it involves the acquisition of a behavior that was not available to the controller before training Skill learning can take place both in the sensory and in the motor domains Sensory skill acquisition in perceptual learning tasks is measured by improvements in sensory acuity through practice induced changes in the sensitivity of relevant neural networks Motor skill is harder to define as the term is used whenever a motor learning behavior improves along some dimension Nevertheless we have recently argued that as in perceptual learning acuity is an integral component in motor skill learning In this special topic we set out to integrate experimental and theoretical work on perceptual and motor skill learning and to stimulate a discussion regarding the similarities and differences between these two kinds of learning Fundamentals of Nursing Mr. Rohit
